JUNE JOTTINGS.

Fifth and Point Paragraph by Our Pencil Pushers.

The Oakland, Or., fire caused a loss of $60,000.

The young people's concert at the Congregational church last night was a very pleasing affair.

Hon. Binger Hermann, congressman for the first district of Oregon, will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Roseburg.

Saltmarsh & Co. shipped sixteen carloads of fine stock sheep this morning to Chicago from their stock yards, which go via the Northern Pacific.

A fight was on hand this morning before Judge Schutz over the granting of a liquor license in Hood River. The examination was postponed until the 21st inst.

A. M. Creed, who has the largest strawberry farm in Wasco county, located on Mosier creek, shipped thirty-three crates yesterday of the famous "Hood River berries."

Rev. Geo. Hodges of Pittsburg has been elected assistant bishop for the diocese of Oregon, by the lay delegates of the state. St. Paul's parish of The Dalles was the only one unrepresented.

G. J. Farley's horse ran away last night, with a buggy attached, taking a very eccentric course for a distance of a mile or more. Nothing was harmed, not even scratching off a particle of paint.

Two box cars and an engine tender run off an open switch into a hydrant tank last night in the yards, sinking in the dirt up to the axle. It was a narrow escape for the engine and a number of other box cars.

Nine head of young cattle are in the city pound. The holy terrors with bell attachment that are warranted to open any gate in the city and devour the family washing, the rubber hose and sprinkler, are still at large.

Are you insured? If not, now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as an insurance against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is almost certain to be needed and should be procured at once. No other remedy can take its place or do its work. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Children's Day.

Children's day was duly observed at the Congregational church last evening. The committee, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Patterson, in charge of the programme, deserves great credit for the pleasing manner in which the children acquitted themselves.

The choir of young girls was a feature of the evening that we hope to see and hear again soon. Master Walter Reavis recited "The Landing of the Pilgrims," by Mrs. Hemans, with his usual mastery interpretation. This was followed by Miss Grace Hobson, who recited "The Contrast," by H. H. Jackson, and it was given in Miss Grace's own sweet, modest way.

There were class exercises and recitations that were very good indeed, and many names we can hardly refrain from mentioning, but cannot speak of all for want of space, so will mention one other only. As it was Carl Hanson's first appearance he should be congratulated on his success in his first attempt.

The decorations in the church were very pretty, and especially attractive was a bank of pansies arranged in the foreground. The committee on decoration was Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. Marden, Misses Grace Marden, Etta Story and Beulah Patterson.

Business Change.

E. W. Helm has purchased the store formerly owned by Wm. Floyd. The new firm name will be E. W. Helm & Co. The new firm will be under the management of Mr. S. A. A complete and well-selected stock of all goods usually found at any drug store will always be found on sale at the lowest prices at this establishment.

Baptist Church Dedicated.

The ceremonies attendant upon the dedication of the Baptist church yesterday were successful and impressive. Rev. Burnside of Buffalo preached the dedicatory sermon. Present were Revs. Curtis, of the First Congregational, and Whisler, of the First M. E. church of this city. Mrs. Woodworth of Portland sang "Nearer My God to Thee." In the evening Rev. J. C. Baker preached. The first to receive the rite of baptism were Miss Slutz and Dayton Taylor in the baptistry. The church was brilliantly lighted with incandescent lights.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Largest Number of People Ever Gathered at the Cemetery.

The body of Joseph Booth was escorted by eighteen members of the orders of the A. O. U. W., the G. A. R. and the K. of P., from Portland to The Dalles, as follows: A. O. U. W.—John Glasie, John Murphy, Geo. McBain, John Crider, Otto Rummell, W. H. Smith, Frank Ladow, — Shephard, C. Penny, J. Worschel, W. Rabein, O. Mangold, R. Sylvester, J. B. Money; G. A. R.—M. J. Morse, John Walton; K. of P.—N. J. Schade, B. R. Hilmer. Messrs. Rabein and Mangold are former residents.

The funeral of Joseph Booth was one of the largest which has ever taken place in our city. The ceremonies took place in the Methodist church, every foot of available space being occupied. The address by Rev. Whisler was a very fitting one. The cortege was preceded by the Woodmen, followed by the G. A. R. and flanked by the K. of P. Then came the hearse, with a long train of carriages, and citizens on foot. Arriving at the grounds the remains were consigned to their last resting place with all the honors customarily shown by the organizations to which the deceased belonged.

The day being also memorial day of the Woodmen, including the ceremony of unveiling the first monument of the order, and being the first ever unveiled in The Dalles, the attendance was large, and the cemetery seemed to be full of people. The organ had been tastefully decorated with evergreens emblematic of the order and surrounded by trees to represent the forest, and the Methodist choir discoursed the sweetest music. The reading of the ceremonies was undertaken by Mr. J. G. Farley, an oration by J. L. Story and a poem read by Geo. Runyon. The unveiling of the monument disclosed a very beautiful stone of a uniform gray color, peculiar to Colorado, capable of high polish and admirably adapted to the use for which it was intended. The workmanship is faultless, and represents a tree broken off about 8 feet from the base, and 20 inches in diameter. Parts of some of the branches are left, and the whole makes a very pretty monument, and is a faithful likeness. The inscription states that it is in memory of William Henry Michell, giving the dates of his birth and death and an appropriate sentiment. The day was bright and beautiful, until the hour of departure was neared, when a slight sprinkle occurred, but not severe enough to occasion any inconvenience. The largest number of people ever at the cemetery at one time, was in attendance yesterday, and two hundred and eighty members of orders were in line in the procession.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

Representative Doctors of the State in Annual Session.

The State Medical Association meets tomorrow in annual session at the Congregational church at 2:30 p. m. After adjournment a supper will be given at Kellar's hall, Wednesday night by courtesy of citizens. Another plan of entertainment which has been decided upon is an excursion to Seufert's fishery at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, returning an hour later. An opportunity is here presented for The Dalles to extend its reputed hospitality, which will doubtless not fail toward these distinguished gentlemen.
