JUBILEE MEMORIAL.

The Handsome Church Presented to the Pope by the Faithful.

Probably the most appropriate of the many presents given to Pope Leo in celebration of his episcopal jubilee is the memorial church of St. Joachim, in Rome. The pope, it is said, encouraged the project, because he believes the erection of churches is a commendable thing in itself, and also because it would furnish work for the masons and builders of Rome, who are suffering from the prevalent depression in their arts. The church is certainly worthy of a place among the splendid architectural monuments of the Eternal city, and is a suitable commemoration of a pontiff who is one of the most remarkable figures of contemporary Europe.

Rome was completely given over to the celebration of the jubilee, with which the Italian government did not interfere in the least. The original idea was to celebrate the occasion with an exhibition, but this was abandoned in favor of the pilgrimages, because only about five years had passed since a similar exhibition was held, and because it was expected that the contributions of the pilgrims would do much to help out the papal finances, which are said to be in anything but a flourishing condition.

The memorial church is dedicated to the pope's patron saint, his baptismal name being Joachim. It was on February 19, 1843, that Leo's consecration as a bishop took place, and it was the fiftieth anniversary of this event that was commemorated.

THE DALLES,

Wasco County, Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south, and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
