A FINANCIAL FAILURE.

It is now plainly apparent that the world's fair is not proving the financial success which its promoters had hoped to find it. The Chicago exposition was built up on a grand scale, probably a grander one than the world will see for some decades, if ever again, in this country. The architecture is on a stupendous scale of magnificence, and it can almost be said that no expense has been spared to create an exposition that excites the just wonder and admiration of all who have visited the fair.

All this effort, however, took money. It is estimated that between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 were needed to produce the exposition of 1893, and it is known that but a small part of the sum was contributed by the government. A far larger portion was obtained by subscriptions from those who held at one time the hope that the investment would yield a fair return. How baseless that hope has proven as yet may be learned from the reports of the auditors. In spite of the stories of large attendance on various days, it appears that the receipts of the exposition do little more than suffice to meet the running expenses. As yet there seems to be no immediate prospect of making any profit which will serve to reimburse those who subscribed so largely to the exposition fund as an investment, and it is to be supposed that the investors are already beginning to despair of getting any considerable portion of their original subscription back.

Apparently the managers of the fair already realize that many people who might otherwise have attended have been kept from the exposition by causes which can be remedied. The lack of free seats and cheap restaurants was a potent factor in keeping people away, and it now appears that the old order of things in that respect is being changed for the better. Railroad charges are still excessive and paeval to keep a very large proportion of people throughout the United States away from the exposition. With a grant of reasonable railroad rates the finances of the fair may begin to show a better aspect, and the friends of the exposition should use every effort to secure a reduction of such rates.

A ranting aggregation of high-sounding words and phrases, false and misleading in every line, have been promulgated as the "platform" of the city democrats. Its pessimistic construction, by a little ring styling themselves the city democrats, will be repudiated by the real followers of that party here. The city finances are not in such a state that the "encumbrance of property verges on confiscation by taxation," as there lugubriously stated. Warrants are worth 100 cents on the dollar; there are no bonds out which have to be paid, and no loan contemplated. Talk about confiscation is rot.

"You say that the victors should have the spoils?" said Grover to an office-seeker from the state of Washington. "Why, yes, Mr. President," was the answer; "if the victors don't own them, who does?" "Very well," said the president; "in what way were the Washington democrats victors last November? You sent me no electoral votes, and I note that the state officials and the legislature out there are republican. Applying your maxim, I find that I am the only victor in the case, and therefore the spoils belong to me. I shall dispense them to suit myself. Good day, sir. Don't come again."

The best mayor we ever had is the present incumbent, Hon. Robt. Mays, and we are much pleased to authoritatively state that he will accept the nomination if tendered him tonight. Mr. Mays services are invaluable to our city and we hope the sentiment will be ratified by an overwhelming majority.

IT WAS ECOB.

The Briggs Decision Was Too Much for Pastor and People.

The sensation of yesterday, says an eastern paper, was the stand taken by Rev. J. H. Ecob, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in this city. It was known that he sympathized with Dr. Briggs in his recent treatment by the general assembly, but it was not thought he would go so far as to withdraw from the Presbyterian church. He took that step, and his church will probably be with him and act independently hereafter, leaving open the question of connection with some other denomination.

In Dr. Ecob's opinion now is the time for liberal Christians of all churches to come together. His sermon outlined the steps that led up to the final action of the assembly.

"There is no hope," he said, "of doing anything by staying inside of the Presbyterian church after that act. The minority was not treated even decently and the majority is too large to be overcome within the ranks. Large as it was, it did not represent the great majority of the Presbyterians outside who have no use for a confession of faith made over 200 years ago."

A DEAD SHOT

Right at the seat of difficulty, is accomplished by the sure and steady aim of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Don't fool around with a pop-gun, nor a "Flint-lock," when this reliable "Winchester" is within reach!

Dr. Sage's treatment of Catarrh in the Head is far superior to the ordinary, and when directions are reasonably well followed, results in a permanent cure. Don't longer be indifferent to the verified claims of this unflinching Remedy.

The worst forms of Catarrh disappear with the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties effect a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. It's a remedy that succeeds where everything else has failed. Thousands of such cases can be pointed out. That's the reason its makers back their faith in it with money. They offer $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure.

It's a medicine that allows them to take such a risk.
Doesn't common sense lead you to take such a medicine?
"An advertising fake" you say.

Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute. Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And "faking" doesn't pay.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
