Reliable information has it that Col. Lucas has tendered his resignation as colonel of the Third Regiment, O. N. G.

A snow storm prevailed yesterday around Jacksonville and the low-lying hills surrounding the towns in Southern Oregon.

Winans' driver, of the grey four-in-hand, knows his business. His team is the boss of the road and the pride of the driver.

Rev. W. C. Curtis participated in the commencement exercises at Forest Grove Wednesday, who made the opening prayer.

Chas. Copeland was arrested by Marshal Maloney yesterday. He is wanted by the sheriff of Umatilla county for grand larceny.

The Columbia at this point is receding very satisfactorily. The 24 hours preceding 9 o'clock this morning, recorded a fall of 1.1 feet.

Thomas M. Roberts of The Dalles won the second prize of $100 at the commencement exercises at the University of Oregon, Eugene, yesterday.

Six vagrants were landed in the cooler last night, one of them proving to be a grand larceny man, who was promptly quartered in the county jail this morning.

Hood River prohibitionists are on top. Judge Blakely deciding against Joseph

Delk's petition for a liquor license this morning, finding that the remonstrance was a larger list.

The two operators at Arlington have the new duty imposed upon them of unloading cars of coal, and the Record says it is painful to witness their struggles.

A woman tramp, seventy-two years old, rode into Pendleton on Wednesday evening's Spokane train, says the East Oregonian. She wore a rusty black dress and straw hat. While her face is wrinkled by the marks of age and hardship, she is yet cheery and active. She hails from Pittsburg, Pa., and is traveling extensively, riding when possible, walking when necessary.

At the close of the ceremony of the annual commencement exercises of the Mt. Angel College, yesterday, the degree of Master of Accounts was conferred on Jos. F. and Aug. M. Bohn, two young men of The Dalles. It affords us pleasure to congratulate them upon the honors they have so worthily won. The Dalles boys have all received the royal honors of the institutions of learning this year, and theirs is the glory.

A Stoical Sheep Man.

M. Thorburn, one of Kingsley's sheep raisers, was in town this morning. He states that he has not done any shearing yet, preferring, as long as the low price of wool continues, to save storage charges by making the sheep carry their own fleeces. He is not in the least discouraged over the present condition of affairs. Having been in the sheep business for forty years in Scotland, Australia, New Zealand and the United States, he has grown used to ups and downs and takes them with a philosophical ease born of long experience. As an example of fluctuation in the sheep industry he cites the year 1878, when he says wool was down to a bit in the spring and in the fall of the same year reached 37 cents.

Arrived From Austria.

Wenzl Geschwendner arrived today from Fischlham, Ober Austria, and is at the Skibbe hotel. He is the brother of the unfortunate man who, was killed near Dufur several weeks ago, and who it will be remembered, was stated as having sent $100 just previous to his death to his brother in Austria to use for passage money to the United States. This brother, Wenzl, is the one referred to who is now at the Skibbe hotel. He was ignorant of the fate of the brother, and to Mr. Skibbe fell the unpleasant duty of informing him of the fact. The living brother was totally unprepared for the intelligence and the news fell like a blow. He has not stated what are his plans, but will probably stay here for a time.

Answered.

"Why is it that on a windy day it takes about twice as long to fill my water wagon than on a clear day?" asked Ferris yesterday.

"Why, that's an easy one," answered the CHRONICLE man. "On windy days the water comes from the old reservoir, so that in case of fire there will be a big force of water on. See?"

"Yes, I see; but it works a terrible hardship on me," said the water man, as he flew for his perch.

A BLIND GRADUATE.

Miss Minnie Anderson En Route to Her Home in Fulda, Wash.

Miss Minnie Anderson is the name of a blind lady who is stopping at the Columbia house today, and hearing that she was a graduate of the blind academy at Vinton, Ohio, a reporter of the CHRONICLE sought an interview. Miss Anderson was found to be a very pleasant young lady of about 25 years of age. She was simply attired in a black dress, and over her closed eyelids wore a pair of colored glasses. She was quite willing to enlighten the reporter upon the subject of her education by the Vinton academy.

This institution she has attended since she was 14 years old. There are now over 1,000 students, who are taught as thorough an education as can be gained in any of our common schools. In mathematics, for instance, the course includes geometry. The aim of the academy is to fit students for society, as well as to earn their own livelihood. The girls are taught to sew, both by hand and machine, crocheting, knitting, all kinds of bead work, making hammocks and mattresses, weaving carpets, etc. The boys are taught to make brooms and the output equals that of their more fortunate competitors. The course complete from the a b c's requires twelve years, and not so many hours a day are employed as in the common schools, the afternoon being devoted to music and the various work departments.

The kindergarten is a very interesting department. The little children are taught the shape of objects by moulding them from clay, and they soon learn to distinguish them by touch and become quite adept themselves in moulding the figures. Their first mathematical lessons are taught by blocks, and geography by clay moulded in the shape of mountains, valleys, plains and rivers.

For the last year Miss Anderson has been an inmate of the Knoxville, Ohio, home for the blind, at which institution she has done such work as sweeping, scrubbing, cooking and general house-keeping. Her father and brother live at Fulda, Klickitat county, Wash., to which point she is now en route.

The Coming Great Show.

And now we are to have the far-famed Sanger Lent. Dame rumor has placed the above shows at the head of the list for years, and pronounce it the greatest of all great shows, whose fame is not confined to one language but extends wherever civilized tongue is spoken. Exhibitions will be given at The Dalles, June 29th.

It is the best advertised show that ever billed here. Its pictorial and lithograph paper can be seen on all sides, while its many announce sheets are scattered like snow-flakes in a radius of forty miles. Preparations are being made to entertain a vast gathering on show day as above.

Anti-Cigarette Law Unconstitutional.

Judge Hanford, of the United States circuit court, rendered a decision declaring the anti-cigarette law unconstitutional. In his decision the court says: "The said law of the state of Washington, prohibiting the sale of cigarettes, and referred to in the petition, is in contravention of article 1 of section 8 of the constitution of the United States, and null and void in so far as it prohibits or attempts to prohibit the selling giving or furnishing to any one by the importer of, etc."

M. T. NOLAN, P. M.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to travelling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
