An executive order was recently issued by the president detailing certain army officers to act as Indian agents at various posts. These places are plums at which many western democratic workers have looked longingly for some time. The appointment of army officers to fill the places is considered by many as a step in the right direction, and meets with the unqualified approval of officials who have watched the matter for years and have deplored it, while unable to remedy the wrongs or check the progressive steps from bad to worse. It is believed that while it will take many years to undo the evils of the past—and there are crimes in our treatment of the plains Indians that will never be atoned—the army will prove more just and more efficient than any other branch of our service. There is another feature which is regarded as admirable from an economic point of view—making agents of military men will give employment to numbers of officers who have had too little to do. It is understood to be the policy of President Cleveland to hereafter appoint Indian agents from civil life only when he is unable to find an available army man.

The American Farmer says there are fully 1,000,000 wool growers in the country and they form the bulk of the constituency of a very large number of congressmen. They hold the balance of political power in many states. If they will only unite and present a firm front to their adversaries, they can prevent this destructive blow (free trade) to their interests. We urge them to do so—to follow the example set by other farmers who have much less at stake than they have. Let them circulate petitions, hold meetings, stir up the local press, and let their congressmen know that they are expected to oppose free wool to the utmost. They cannot do this too soon or too vigorously. The advocates of free wool are well organized and have plenty of money and influence. But they cannot withstand the 1,000,000 wool growers of the country if these will rouse themselves to concerted action in defense of their interests. Every wool grower who feels that he is not making too much money out of his business as it is, should constitute himself a committee of one to promote the crusade in defense of American flocks.

An ocean steamer twenty feet longer than the Great Eastern is to be constructed by one of the intercontinental lines. It will be 700 feet long; the Great Eastern was 680 feet long. The new steamer will have an engine of 40,000 horse power, which is 5,000 more than the new Campania. The Great Eastern's engines were of but 7,500 horse power, which was the cause of the failure in navigation. It is said that the new steamer will make 27 knots an hour, which is not improbable, for it would have to go but little over seven times its own length to cover a mile. Besides, considerable over a quarter of a mile would be gained by counting from the leaving point of the stern to the arriving point of the bow.

There is a misapprehension existing that it is necessary for the president to give thirty days' notice by proclamation before convening congress in special session. The truth is that there is nothing in the constitution or laws prescribing in what manner he shall convene congress. There is a custom, which grew up in the old days of horse-back and steamboat travel, slow mails and no telegraph communication, of allowing fifteen days for a notice to reach a member of congress and fifteen days more for him to reach Washington; but it is a custom only and not a law, and any president could disregard it if he chose.

The flagstaff upon which the first secession flag was hoisted in South Carolina when the state seceded in 1860 is still standing. It is fastened with iron cuffs to the gable end of an old storehouse at Skull Shoals postoffice.

To Stretch Hemp.
Wm. Gallin is the name of a man sentenced to stretch hemp on the 24th of next month. Jointly indicted with Nina Shaw for the murder of Nina's husband, A. W. Shaw, he has been tried, convicted and sentenced to death on that day at Canyon City, Grant county.

The editor knew Gallin a few years ago in Grant county. He is a large, surly man, with a face in which brutal passions seem to be running a joint of their own.

The woman in the case we saw several times. In her maiden days she was known as Nina Harper, and the hatching of trouble in her neighborhood occupied all the spare time she could snatch from the duties of feeding and sleeping. Nina was a very cold blue sunbeam on the hearts of the buccaroos of Long creek valley, and the quenching of her in prison gloom will cause not a tear of regret. She conspired with Gallin to kill her husband, and pretty soon Gallin was flying around with the news that Shaw lay in the barn kicked to death by a vicious horse. At the trial he tried to place the murder on Mrs. Shaw's shoulders, but failed. The animal seemed brave until all hope had fled, but blubbered like a child when sentenced to death. He was perfectly willing to kill Shaw, but didn't want to be killed himself.—Klamath Star.

A Butte Creek Grizzly.

George Farlow, who is in town this week from the ranch of Farlow Bros. on upper Butte creek, tells us of some fun the ranchers in that neighborhood are having with bears this spring and summer. A big grizzly whose tracks in the snow measured twelve inches in diameter has been living on fresh beef while waiting for the berries to ripen. He has killed at least five head of cattle in that neighborhood—three of them three-year-old steers and one a big cow with a bell on her. He was almost as nearly domesticated as the panthers that made their home in Ashland during the spring. Messrs. George and Perry Farlow, W. H. Bradshaw, Hank Wright and others have spent a good part of several weeks trying to capture this grizzly, but could not do it. They set a big steel trap which the grizzly would walk all around, knocking down and dragging about the logs which had been piled around it. The trap was sprung by him four different times, but failed to catch him, though it caught a big brown bear, which the men killed. Dogs would trail the grizzly but couldn't bring him to a stand, and from the direction of his last trail followed, he seemed to be making for the Dead Indian country. He is a monster and is one of the very few grizzlies left to roam the section of Cascade and Siskiyou mountains which thirty years ago was a favorite resort of this largest and fiercest of the numerous varieties of bears in America.—Ashland Tidings.

When Charlemagne and his "Knights of the Round Table" were making war on the Saracens in Africa, it frequently happened that Knights on either side would fight in single combat for the honor of their respective armies. The Saracens had been for many years the scourge—the dreaded invaders—of Europe, and all waged war against this common enemy.

But in these days the worst scourge that threatens us, is that dread invader, Consumption. Consumption fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. But it must be taken before the disease is too far advanced in order to be effective. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it will cure, or money paid for it will be refunded.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthma, severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an unequalled remedy.
For all diseases that arise from a torpid liver and impure blood, nothing can take the place of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Nothing will, after you have seen what it does. It prevents and cures by removing the cause. It invigorates the liver, purifies the blood, sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, and builds up both strength and flesh, when reduced below the standard of health.
Sold by druggists, everywhere.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, shady lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
