

The Dalles Daily Chronicle.

THE DALLES OREGON

The Magazine of the Future

The Dalles Chronophile will mark the most radical step ever taken in periodical literature. With each issue the magazine is enlarged to form in fact one of the best numbers of the Chronicle. The Dalles Chronophile will be published at a price which will be a great advantage to the reader. The result of an intention long since formed, to give to the public an illustrated magazine of the very highest class at such a price as most likely it would be the result of all personal intellectual tastes, however limited their incomes. There are more than ten million readers in the United States and less than eight hundred thousand magazines are printed to supply their demands. More than four years have been spent in reaching the organization necessary for the production of the Chronophile at this price, a figure hitherto undreamed of by the reading world. Each department of the work has been slowly perfected until with the January number of this year one hundred and fifty thousand copies of the magazine were prepared upon presses and machinery of the most improved form, built with a view to producing the finest results at the very minimum of expense—the only establishment in the world it is believed, devoted exclusively to the printing of an illustrated monthly magazine. To establish a magazine upon such a basis at the price was impossible. Only the rapid growth of the Chronophile's editions, almost unprecedented in magazine records, has produced the conditions which make this departure from established prices possible. The Chronophile promises to make the year 1893 the most brilliant in its history. No other year has been such an array of distinguished names as will appear on its pages during 1893. Dr. Macquarrie, Mark Twain, George Elmer, Valder, Spielhagen, Francis Coppie, Flammarion and Paul Heyse are some of the authors whose work will appear for the first time during this year in the pages of the Chronophile. Among the artists whose work will decorate its pages for the first time during 1893 are: Laurens, Tausaint, Nerge, Roggebrasse and Schwabe. William Dean Howells will be a regular contributor during 1893-94. A feature of the July number will be triple frontispieces by Roggebrasse and Gallonnet.

THE DEATH OF CAPTAIN FLAVEL.

No Disposition Will be Made of His Remains Until the Return of His Family.

ASTORIA, Or., July 5.—Captain Flavel's death, which occurred late Monday night, though expected, was a severe shock to the community in which he has lived for many years. He died in great agony, his strength fighting off the inevitable to the last moment. For the last four years the captain had a very quiet life. He has only been seen on the streets occasionally, visiting his old and first National bank, of which he was president. The Flavel rent roll is the heaviest in the city. He owned 50 lots in the business center and never sold one of them. His Taney Point tract, consisting of 1700 acres, purchased by him for $40,000, he sold last fall for $200,000. He owned 30 acres near the race track, just outside Portland, for which he was offered $2,000,000 more last February. He is assessed here for $252,000, and altogether his possessions, at a low valuation, total considerably over $1,000,000. It is believed that the handsome residence and a third of his assets will go to his widow, and that the remainder, outside of the minor bequests, will be divided equally among his three children, two daughters and one son. His death will be greatly regretted in every part of the country. One of the kindest of landlords and a man of sterling business integrity and ability, he endeared himself to all. The body has been embalmed, and no disposition will be made of the remains until the family return from New York Friday.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of the grippe, but in all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs, and has cured cases of asthma and hay fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It is sold everywhere. Free trial bottles at Snipes & Elmsley's drug store.

THE DALLES

Wasco County, Oregon.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

THE DALLES CHRONICLE,

It now leads all other publications in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, a large part of Crook, Morrow and Grant counties, as well as Klickitat and other regions north of The Dalles, hence it is the best medium for advertisers in the Inland Empire.

The DAILY CHRONICLE is published every evening in the week Sundays excepted at $6.00 per annum. The WEEKLY CHRONICLE on Fridays of each week at $1.50 per annum.
