SATURDAY, JULY 15, 1893

On political and economic questions Col. Robert G. Ingersoll is a keen observer. He was recently asked whether he thought the new congress and the president would redeem the pledges made in the Chicago platform, and replied: "The democratic congress will find that it will be called upon to raise several hundreds of millions of dollars in some way, and in order to do this it cannot unduly interfere with the tariff without reducing the revenue or destroying manufactures. Consequently there will be a great deal of talk and nothing done. The duty on articles is the result of a combination covering the entire country. If Louisiana wants the protection of a sugar bounty she must help Pennsylvania about her iron, and so it goes through nearly all the states of the union. I am a protectionist. I believe in multiplying the industries of the country, in developing the brains of the people, and nothing will do that like fostering the development of those industries of which our great land has but dimly conceived thus far."

The Eugene Register presents a very good argument why the pardoning power should be done away with by governors. The governor hears the testimony of one side, always the side of the criminal, and thinks that sufficient to warrant him in discharging the man from confinement. In numerous instances these criminals have no sooner been released than they again committed crimes, and the people are again put to great expense to punish them and assert their rights. If the pardoning power must be used in some way, let a new trial be had when sufficient evidence of a mistake in the first proceeds is presented. Governor Altgeld has abused the trust imposed in him by the people of his state, and the same thing has been done in Oregon and nearly every state in the Union.

At Mecca the cholera is raging, the death rate reaching 1,000 per day, and yet the pilgrimage to the shrine of the prophet, made annually by devout Mohammedans, is not checked. The roadside is strewn with corpses, and in the city itself the streets are lined with decomposing bodies, the authorities being unable to bury them. In Europe there are but few cases, and these isolated, and the prospect for the disease being thoroughly stamped out this season is not bright.

Reports of bountiful crops are general all over this section of country. This is cheering intelligence in these days of general stringency, for even a local cause will enliven the markets and tend to make money more plentiful for a time. It is a temporary stimulant at least, and by the time its effects have passed a greater tonic may have been administered at Washington to cure the whole financial depression.

It is quite probable that at last a specific has been discovered for consumption. The Amick treatment of the disease in its incipient stages seems to be universally successful, and cases where all hope have been given up, have yielded to it. If this treatment proves as successful as its limited trial indicates, it will rank as the most important discovery of the century.

The Salem Democrat says "Ohio can elect a democrat for governor if the right man is nominated." Not on a free wool basis. Ohio has too many wool men who will vote their sheep rather than elect a democrat on the present reform platform.

A large sum will doubtless be received in Chicago tomorrow for the families of the burned firemen. The entire gate receipts and a per cent of most of the theaters will realize a good many thousands of dollars.

It is reported that 318 silver mines in Colorado are closed. The owners want free coinage, under the delusion that it would add to the price of silver.

Karl's Clover Root, the new blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation. 25c., 50c. and $1.00. Sold by Snipes & Kinsersly, druggists.

Too Much Water.
Mike Rosendorf of Independence, has received a German paper from his old home in Schneider Muhl, giving an account of a very peculiar catastrophe which happened June 20th of this year. On account of cholera all the wells were inspected in the town of 40,000 people, and one which was condemned was sunk deeper by its owner to get pure water, and when 150 feet deep the well commenced flowing and water rose high above the surface of the ground, and at the present time several blocks of land have been undermined covered with fine business blocks, and over a million dollars worth of property has been destroyed. Mr. Sommerfeld, a cousin of Mr. Rosendorf, is loser several thousand dollars. The water is still flowing and they do not know how to stop it. The head engineer of the German Empire has examined the state of affairs and says he can stop the flow if a large sum of money is paid him.—West Side.

Hat or Collar?
A correspondent to the Hillsboro Independent sends this analysis of the situation:
1892.
Grandfather's big hat.
Wheat $1 per bushel.
Wool 20 cents per pound.
Homestead labor $6 to $48 per day, striking for more.
1893.
Grover's big collar.
Wheat 60 cents per bushel.
Wool 10 cents per pound.
Labor out of a job.
Which did you vote for last fall?

The Grocer and Country Merchant of July 7th, in referring to the situation in the salmon business, says: The market does not show the first signs of an awakening to a state of activity. It sleeps the sleep of the just without a dream. To give prices would be pure guess work, as packers merely continue their old asking rates and buyers manifest no desire to avail themselves of the proffered privilege. The uncertainty as to what course the Alaska people will pursue probably has as much to do with this as any other cause. This syndicate has kept its lips fast sealed up to this time, and shows no sign of opening them. The run on the Columbia continues to be very light, as if the fish were loth to force their presence where there is no welcome for them. It will be a small miracle if the pack on the river does not fall 100,000 cases short of last year. As to the run at other points there is thus far nothing definite to say.—Astorian. [The run on the middle Columbia is a repetition of 1889 which was unusually light.—Ed.]

La Grippe.
During the prevalence of the gripple the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of la grippe, but in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs, and has cured cases of asthma and hay fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free trial bottles at Snipes & Kinsersly's drug store.
