JULY JULEPS.

The Local News Field in Homopathic Doses.

If a chigger Was bigger, As big as a row, And its digger Had the vigor Of a subsiding glow, Can you figger Dear pickaicker, Where'd you be now?

Blue peaches were in the markets to-day.

Field had ripe canteloupes two days ago.

Saltmarsh & Co. will ship a car of lambs to Troutdale tonight.

H. M. Beall sold his household effects today at auction, and got generally good prices—for an auction.

The auction sale of horses at Saltmarsh & Co.'s stock yards today were a fine span of 5-year-old work horses knock off at $85. The buy was a bargain for the purchaser.

Mr. Clark talked to the fruit growers' meeting this afternoon in a very interesting way, giving further particulars about handling fruit. Of especial interest was the fact that he had secured rates of 30 cents per box on fruit to Portland, instead of 45 cents, as formerly.

A. H. Carson and S. A. Clark are in town today to attend the fruit-growers' meeting. Mr. Clark, coming from the Willamette country and Mr. Carson from Southern Oregon (Roseburg) makes up three great divisions of the state represented. The meeting is an important one, and much interest is manifested at this point. Those who seem much interested at Mosier are A. Root, Sellinger and W. R. Husbands.

"Sylvester & Co."

A number of small boys in town have worked assiduously ever since the circus left on a show of their own, and today exhibited in Bert Campbell's barn on Third street. This forenoon they marched all over town in outlandish costumes and sold a great many tickets at 5 cents each. One youngster had a long tin horn resting on his shoulder, and another back of him blew it. Their performance was quite laughable and highly interesting. The tickets, printed in childishly-made letters, read "Sylvester & Co., tickets 5c, admit one."

ROOMS TO RENT.

Furnished rooms to rent. Apply at the residence of Mrs. C. N. Thornbury, Second street, The Dalles, Or.

A Youthful Criminal.

B. F. Swift, constable of Tygh Valley, came into the city last evening with Albert Valentine, a lad of 17 years, who was arrested for larceny. His parents live in Lacy, Clackamas county, and the boy has been absent from home for eighteen months, no trace of him having been found until his arrest. The boy's crime consisted in breaking into the house of A. A. Bonney, at Tygh, and purloining articles from a trunk. The proof of the theft is found in a watch chain in his possession, containing the initials "J. H. K.," which was known to be in the trunk. He will be confined in jail until next term of court.

The boy was born and raised in Portland, and while in Tygh worked for Mr. Bonney.

Drowned.

Friday afternoon about 2:30, Robert the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Armor fell in the spring near their place and was drowned. He had been gone from the house for a few minutes when his mother became uneasy and started to look for him. Going to the spring she found him lying face downwards in the edge of the water. Dr. Barrett was hastily summoned, every effort to resuscitate him being made in the meanwhile, but without avail. The little body was buried in Idleville cemetery Saturday, the funeral being attended by a large number of friends of the family.—Glacier.

Lobbed.

On Wednesday evening as Mr. James Gunning was going up from the boat landing at Lyle, Wash., to the residence of Mrs. M. Spencer, who lives about three-quarters of a mile distant, he was waylaid by two armed men and robbed of $272 in greenbacks, $200 dollars in $100 bills, one fifty-dollar and one twenty-dollar bill and two dollars in silver. The supposition is that Mr. Gunning was spotted, as it was known that he expected to collect some money in Vancouver, where he had been and was returning, and these two outlaws were in waiting for their victim.

It May Go Against the United States.

OTTAWA, July 14.—Professor Macoun, sent by the Dominion government to make a supplementary report upon seal life in Behring sea, just returned from Paris, where his evidence was laid before the court of arbitration. Asked as to the general impression in Paris when he left as to the decision of the tribunal, Professor Macoun said:

The general impression is that Great Britain will win the case. The first part of the American case in the question of right would have been decided against them, had the hearing taken place in an ordinary court without the British side being called upon to reply. The arbitrators will have a stiff fight over the points presented.

What Makes a Gentleman.

It is well for womankind to be up to the national term "gentleman." Members of the sex, when touring over the world, may find it handy to understand just what sort of thing is meant by this supposed refined degree of the "animal man." In Russia they say he drinks like a gentleman; in France, he acts like a gentleman; in Spain, he makes love like a gentleman; in Germany, he eats like a gentleman; in Turkey, he smells like a gentleman; in America, he spends his money like a gentleman.

Reduced Freight on Fruit.

The Union Pacific management, recognizing that the fruit industry is becoming very important in the vicinity of The Dalles, have concluded to reduce freight to Portland from 45 cts per cwt. to 30 cts, a material reduction that will encourage orchardists and be appreciated for the evident intention of the company to treat the fruit growing interests as fairly as possible. That company is also preparing to transport fruit in refrigerator manner cars, east, for reasonable rates, and in the most safe and expeditious manner.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. W. C. Gilbert and children left for the east on the noon train today.

H. M. Beall and family will leave on the afternoon train tomorrow for Chicago to visit the world's fair.

S. P. M. Briggs left for Chehalis today, for a week's vacation. He will meet his wife in Portland, and continue the trip in her company.

Salem Has Overreached Herself.

The Roseburg Review, in speaking of Judge Burnett's decision in regard to the location of the Soldier's Home says: "The injunction against the location of the Soldier's Home at Roseburg has been made perpetual. This was expected when the matter was brought before a judge residing in Salem, where the ruling passion is to 'hog' everything in sight. But this decision does not end the fight, it merely opens it in good shape. Roseburg secured the location of the home here by an honest, earnest effort, and proposes to leave no stone unturned to win the suit. As soon as the supreme court passes on the question, if the adverse, there will be an injunction placed on every institution of the state outside the city limits of Salem. Already funds enough have been pledged to fight this thing to the bitter end, and an extra session of the legislature, a constitutional convention, and the removal of the state capital may soon become interesting questions to consider. The buildings of the branch asylum in Eastern Oregon, of which it was claimed there was great necessity, is affected by the Salem injunction suit; that is one reason why Eastern Oregon will stand together in this matter."

The CHRONICLE believes that Salem has overreached herself this time, and that she has awakened a revengeful antagonism that will not stop short of depriving her of every institution within her clutches. In the years to come, when she is a wart on the face of nature, she may reflect upon the life and destiny of a hog. Salem has sown the seeds of her own dissolution and only a few church bells will be left to toll her funeral knell. Soon the empty corridors of her capital building will echo only the dismal hootings of the owl.

SHARPSBURG, Pa., Jan. 27, 1892.

MR. J. J. KELL, Sharpsburg, Pa., DEAR SIR—I have used Krause's Headache Capsules for some time and want to testify to their value. I tried various well recommended medicines, but got no relief until I used these, and now would not be without them for ten times their cost.

Yours respectfully, CHARLES F. SEDGWICK.

MONTEREY ARRIVES.

A Description of the Large and Formidable Monitor.

The Monterey arrived in Portland this morning. The Telegram thus describes her:

The Monterey is a twin-screw, steel-armored vessel of the famous old Monitor type. She is termed a seagoing monitor, and was built especially for harbor and coast defense, at a cost to the government of over $1,623,950. The requirement of horsepower of the engines is 5,400. The light draught enables the Monterey to choose her own fighting waters. She is short enough to be easily handled, making a complete turn in four minutes, and she is broad enough for good stability. She is so low in the water as to present a limited target to the shots of the enemy's guns, and so well protected with armor as to prevent her engines or guns being disabled by the heaviest ordnance. The bow is ram-shaped, and has been strengthened for ramming purposes.

The monitor has, all told, 14 guns, but two of them are the largest now in use in the United States navy. She has two 12-inch, two 10-inch, six 6-inch and four 1-inch guns. In the forward turret are the two 12-inch guns. These are the most destructive implements of war belonging to Uncle Sam.

They have been endowed with the handsome feminine titles of "Big Betsey" and "Alice." They are nearly of equal size, are of heavy rifled steel, cost about $50,000 each, and are between 30 and 40 feet in length. "Big Betsey's" exact weight is 100,916 pounds, and has such a coarse guttural voice that the American eagle cackles with joy every time it hears Betsey speak. "Alice" is branded with the figures 100,289 as indicating her avoirdupois. These guns are handled by hydraulic power, and shoot an 850-pound cartridge, requiring 425 pounds of powder for a single discharge. The range is 20 miles and the demolishing power of these guns is something frightful to contemplate. The length of the 12-inch gun is 35 feet. The 10-inch guns are 28 feet 4 inches long, and shoot a 450-pound cartridge. Three kinds of projectiles are used with these guns, the common cast-iron shell, the common steel shell and the armor-piercing projectile.

There is at present about 32 inches of the vessel's armored sides showing above water. But when going into action the ship can be lowered into the water until only about 14 inches of her sides will show above the sea level. This is done by means of a double bottom, which can be opened and a vast volume of water admitted until she is gradually lowered to the depth required.

The Circular's Tempest.

The action of the banks and merchants is raising quite a breeze through the country, and before it is settled some one is going to lose money. First, the Portland banks commenced the racket by "trusting" and refusing to take checks on country banks, except for collection. This was saying that they had no confidence in the country banks. Then the merchants, to show their hoggish nature, formed another trust and agreed not to receive any personal checks in liquidation of accounts. This cuts in two directions. It shows that the wholesalers have no confidence in their customers; and second, they throw business in the way of country banks, who now are charging an exchange fee for drawing drafts on Portland. This, however, will hardly enable the country banks to even up, for they will have to keep more idle money in Portland to draw against than formerly. The claims of the wholesalers, that Oregon is the only state where personal checks are used, is hardly true, since that class of paper is frequently received from Chicago, St. Louis and New York.—Hillsboro Independent.

There are some patent medicines that are more marvelous than a dozen doctor's prescriptions, but they're not those that profess to cure everything.

Everybody, now and then, feels "run down," "played out." They've the will, but no power to generate vitality. They're not sick enough to call a doctor, but just too sick to be well. That's where the right kind of a patent medicine comes in, and does for a dollar what the doctor wouldn't do for less than five or ten. We put in our claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

We claim it to be an unequalled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the liver. We claim it to be lasting in its effects, creating an appetite, purifying the blood, and preventing bilious, typhoid and malarial fevers if taken in time. The time to take it is when you first feel the signs of weariness and weakness. The time to take it, on general principles, is now.

Never Fails.

No instance of a failure on record when Simmons Liver Regulator has been taken. It cures dyspepsia, constipation and sick headache, strengthens the kidneys and gently assists nature.
