Gold and silver will fight the greatest battle in all their coinage existence when the extra session of congress settles down to work, and only the most optimistic of the silver men gather much confidence out of the conditions as they now appear. The advocates of gold realize the extent of their advantage and are bound to have financial matters adjusted on their lines. That the Sherman law will be entirely repealed is not at all likely, although some of the most advanced silver men may endeavor to bring that to pass. Unconditional repeal would leave the Bland law on top, and as the Sherman law causes money to be issued on a gold basis, while the Bland law coins silver as silver, the situation from the general standpoint would not be improved one whit. It is hoped that congress will not permit personally interested obstructionists to delay the work of reform. Speedy action the most decisive is needed to bring about a restoration of business confidence, for that confidence is business itself. There will be strenuous effort made to increase the currency, but the opinion prevails that there is no necessity for more money. The per capita wealth of this country is $24, and if confidence was restored millions would find their way into active and healthy circulation. It is believed that the situation is already very reassuring and that with legislative relief of the right sort few people will know a few years hence that there was any financial stringency in 1893.

A sheep-herder writer to the Antelope Herald anticipates that wool will fall to 10 cents a pound, and that wages will fall correspondingly. He reasons that if wages are once lowered, they will never rise again, even if wool should do so, and wants to organize a sheepherders union to keep up the wages. There is no fault to be found with any class of men who organize for mutual benefit, if they have reason to hope that by so doing they may better their own condition, but the intent of this writer is so manifestly unfair, that he should be set right before his colleagues. If wool falls to 10 cents per pound, the flock-masters, generally speaking, will not have cash enough to pay the wages due, much less figure on a continuance of the same scale. The wage-earner, in a time of universal reduction of values, must submit his wages to the knife, in common with everything else. To insist on protection wages in free trade times is to bankrupt their employers and lose not a portion, but the whole of their wages. Wage-earners must show a disposition to divide in such times; if they do not the very logic of events will force them to. If they become dissatisfied with free-trade wages the remedy is in their own hands through the ballot, if they will quit chasing phantoms and stay with the party that has blessed them in the past and guarantees to do the same for the future, if they are only given the opportunity.

Emperor William is delighted at winning the long contest over the army bill, and placing the German Empire on such a war footing as will command peace. This will be the signal for all those European powers which have inferior armaments to increase to something near the size of Germany's, and just where it will stop cannot be foretold. Meantime taxes, like an insidious cancer, will eat the vitals out of the masses, and domestic wars will be the inevitable result, if by lucky fortune they miss battling nation against nation.

The gold reserve is gradually getting back to its full amount of $100,000,000 as the result of the slight improvement in the financial situation. Yesterday it was $98,405,366.

Justice Blatchford.
 The prolonged illness of Justice Blatchford made his death not unexpected, and there is consequently little gossip over his successor. The names of both Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle are mentioned, but it can be stated with considerable assurance that the place will not be offered to either. Ex-Minister Phelps of Vermont is also prominently mentioned as a possible candidate, and so are Frederick C. Condit, and James C. Carter, who is the associate of Phelps as United States counsel in the Böhning sea controversy.

Justice Blatchford had been at the bar or on the bench for over fifty years, and brought to the supreme court a rich experience which gave him distinction as a member of that tribunal. He was a man of many friendships, and possessed of the public confidence to a remarkable degree. That he was a good man and a righteous judge is the best epitaph that can be written of him.

They polished her feet and polished her head. And blistered her back till 'twas smarting and red.

 The poor woman thought she must certainly die, till "Favorite Prescription" she happened to try.
 No wonder its praises so loudly they speak: She grew better at once, and was well in a week.
 The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany, at times, certain forms of female weakness, yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman. It allays and subdues the nervous symptoms and relieves the pain accompanying functional and organic troubles. Guarantee printed on bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhoea. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way. We used almost everything without benefit. Then I said, let us try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which we did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Hertzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Drugists.

A building up of the entire system follows the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nerve—and a certain remedy for all the functional derangements, painful disorders or chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. For periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, leucorrhoea and kindred ailments, it is a positive specific—a guaranteed one. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, the money paid for it is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on these terms. With an ordinary medicine, it can't be done.
 That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

 S. B. MED. MFG. CO., Dufur, Oregon.
 Gentlemen:
 On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 38 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. E. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your E. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are Yours, Mr. & Mrs. J. F. Ford.
 If you wish to feel fresh and cheerful, and ready for the Spring's work, cleanse your system with the Headache and Liver Cure, by taking two or three doses each week.

WINANS
 THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its rushing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agricultural, and with transportation already assured, you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
