The Daily and Weekly Chronicle may be found on sale at I. C. Nickelsen's store.

JULY FIELDPS. The Local News Field in Homoeopathic Doses.

A woman, dear woman, the cause of our woes. They wear rings on their fingers, they're belle on our toes. Dearest than lilies, each one is a rose. Gets the more thorny the older she grows.

M. Hurst gave bonds today in the sum of $500 in Justice Davis' court for cattle stealing.

The sentence of R. C. Carter of Mt. Vernon, Mo., has been commuted to 25 years imprisonment. He was arrested at East Portland under the name of Rose last spring for the murder of one rocket in Missouri in 1886.

W. J. Harriman, near Endersby, sowed oats and wheat on high hill land the 27th of April, and samples may be seen at this office. It has attained a growth of about four feet, with a large quantity of grain upon it.

A lawn social will be given at the residence of Mrs. C. L. Schmidt by the Women's Christian association, for charitable purposes. The programme will be vocal and instrumental music by members of the Gesang Verein. Admission 25 cents and children 10 cents, including refreshments.

W. H. Brooks does not propose to move back into the Willamette unless something pretty good is offered. He will probably move his plant to Portland, and put it in storage until some community is found willing to properly support a bright, newsy little country sheet.

The water superintendent certainly means business, as he says unless water consumers observe the hours for irrigation, which are from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening and from 6 to 7 o'clock in the morning, he will be compelled to do the next best thing, and that will be to enforce the rules to the letter. This is not an advertisement, but an item of news to many, including ourselves.

A peddler went all over town recently selling a patent article. Among the many who purchased was a merchant's wife. One day as he went home to dinner his wife informed him what a nice thing she had bought. She then learned her husband had them in his store for sale for a year at half the price she paid for her's. When told of this she said: "well, why don't you advertise them. Nobody knows it."

Ed. Gibson was arrested on complaint of D. D. Garrison for assault in Skibbe's bar room and the trial came off this afternon before the recorder. There was quite a crowd in attendance, but there was little to excite the curiosity of the morbidly-inclined. There are no marks on the person of Garrison and a witness swore that he had no weapon and did not even strike him, that his hands were upon Garrison's coat collar, but no violence was attempted, Garrison having been talking about gypsies. A Gila monster is on exhibition in a McMinnville show window, which was sent to a lady residing there by her son, at present in Arizona. It is described as being a spotted and scrofulous-looking lizard, with a long, forked tongue, which it thrusts forth in a startling manner. Those acquainted with the little quadruped say there is no known antidote for its venom, and for deadly poison the rattlesnake is not to be compared with it. It was shipped in a box, without directions for handling, and it is regarded as luck that no one was bitten in opening the box.

A Dangerous Wound. Robert, a 17-year old son of Mr. Albert Walther, of Government Flat near this city, had the misfortune to split his left foot with an ax last Thursday. Not knowing how to treat a bad wound and care for it, mortification set in, and the young man was brought to this city this morning and had Dr. Doane remove the decaying portion and dress the foot, so that a healing process will restore it. The wound was carefully bound, the doctor, in washing it, finding dirt and fir needles which had adhered to it when it was first made.

Thin Seeding. Frank Lee, in the Pacific Farmer, relates an experience that ought to be valuable to farmers throughout this country. He says: "The experience of this writer is the same as that of many wheat growers of Eastern Oregon and Washington. The best wheat we ever saw raised in Klickitat county, Wash., was with 35 pounds of seed. Thin seeding is the thing when ground is thoroughly cultivated in this section. As heavy seeding takes too much moisture from the ground early in the season so none is left to support the plant later. On the other hand where the ground is poorly cultivated there must be an extra allowance of seed to take the place of that which fails to germinate."

A Sunday at the Seaside. During the summer season the Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Co. will make a rate of $3, Dalles to Astoria and return, and $4, Dalles to Ilwaco and return.

The above rates will be in effect on Sundays only. Steamer Regulator will leave The Dalles at 7 a. m. Dalles City will arrive at Portland in time to connect with the Lurline for Astoria and Ilwaco. The Lurline will leave Ilwaco Sunday evening and will connect with the Dalles City Monday morning for The Dalles.

The above tickets will be limited to three days from date of sale. W. C. ALLAWAY, G. A.

The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Co. will make a rate of $2 for the round trip to Portland, and return on Saturday the 22d inst., good to return on Monday, 24th inst. This will give an opportunity of visiting the battle-ship Monterey now in Portland. W. C. ALLAWAY, G. A.

The Dalles City will connect with either Ocean Wave or Lurline every evening for Ilwaco and Long Beach. The D. P. and A. N. Co., will sell round trip tickets at reduced rates on and after today.

AN OUTING. Description of a Trip to Lordly Mount Adams.

Wednesday morning, July 12th, two parties, one consisting of Messrs. Haight, Branner, Ed French, Burnham and Garretson, the other consisting of Messrs. Burget, Haines, Sechler and Prof. Brown, left The Dalles on the good steamer Regulator for Trout lake. After a pleasant sail of about two hours we landed at White Salmon, from which, after seeing that our camping outfit was safely lashed to our wagons, we proceeded toward our destination. About two hours of beautiful road and picturesque scenery brings us to the White Salmon river, where we rested and took lunch. The latter part of our journey took us through a portion of country whose timber excels anything we have ever seen.

We arrived at the lake about 4 o'clock, and after selecting a place to pitch camp, some of us went to catch some trout for supper, while others saw to unpacking our outfit. We found the fish so plentiful that long ere supper time enough fish had been caught to satisfy twice our number. We retired early, one party sleeping in tents, but the other in a hay mow. The next day was spent fishing in Trout river, mainly because boats were secured by other parties.

Friday morning both our parties visited the ice cave, about six miles from the lake. The drive was delightful. On either side of the road for almost the whole distance is found very fine green grass about 7 or 8 inches high, most of which is unused because the tract is unsurveyed government land. The whole of this region is cavernous, but the ice cave proper is situated right in the midst of a level tract of land, and from the surface appears no more than a "hole in the ground." All of us provided ourselves with torches and descended the ladder. We no sooner reach the bottom than we feel we are in a new and freezing atmosphere, although but fifteen or eighteen feet below the surface. Mr. Haight led the party to the further end of the cave, took his seat in such a place that the seven prismatic colors could not have appeared more beautiful to the rest of the party had they been made to order and blended together. Aside from these phenomena the appearance of the stalactites and stalagmites of ice as they stand there like so many pillars are beautiful beyond description. We now chipped out from the bottom of the cave, about 300 pounds of ice; drew it out with ropes; placed it in our wagons and returned to the lake feeling we had gained much more than we can express.

The next day was spent in fishing, chiefly on the lake. Mr. Williams' party from The Dalles and Mr. Moore's party from Moro having gone, we had all the boats we needed. It is also arranged today that tomorrow our genial host, James Hoag, guide a party to Mt. Adams' summit. The party made up of Mr. Haight, Mr. Burnham, Prof. Brown and Mr. Brauner, but for his adverse premonitions of the previous night, started at 5:20 in the morning, riding each a cayuse. We had not gone more than four miles before Mr. Hoag descried a black bear about 300 yards ahead. We had no guns and no dogs but Bingo, but thinking we might have some fun with Bruno we started for him at full speed. He watched us for about a minute, and scampered off to a large canyon just ahead of him. We could find no

THE BLACK VEIL. The Final Test Entered Upon by Rose Bettingen.

Tomorrow marks an era in the life of Sister Rose Bettingen, who will undergo the ceremony of the black veil at St. Mary's academy, Portland. For the first time she will take solemn vows, binding for five years, when if she remains steadfast and satisfied in the life of heroic self-sacrifice to which she will pledge herself, she becomes a sister for the remainder of life. A seven years' novitiate is required before this last step. The first year as a postulant, at the beginning of which she is vested with a holy dress and the white veil. During the second year the black veil is worn. Two years having been served, the beginning of a five year term is marked by the vows consecutively of "poverty," by which is meant the relinquishment of property, the vow of chastity, renouncing marriage, and the vow of obedience to superiors. With the donning of the black veil, the name is given up, and Miss Bettingen will henceforth be known as Sister Mary Alberta. Four others will take similar vows with her. At the same time, also, two will take final vows, and seven will take the white veil. Of the latter is Miss Margaret Daley, of The Dalles.

A novitiate is not allowed outside of the convent walls only under extraordinary circumstances, but after the seven years' novitiate her field is broadened, so as to comprehend all the duties of life. Mr. A. Bettingen, Mrs. T. Baldwin, Mary McNerny, Rose May Baldwin and the Misses Le Duc of Kingsley left on the Regulator today to be present at the ceremonies tomorrow.

FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT. Let It Be Held in The Dalles the Coming September.

A communication was received by Chief Jud Fish, asking about what facilities could be offered for a firemen's tournament on the first Monday in September. There is a disposition on the part of the state to hold it in The Dalles, and in view of the small sum required for that purpose (only $150) we should lack a great deal in courtesy not to show ourselves responsive. Besides that, the benefit to be derived is inestimable from an educational standpoint alone. With a number of competing teams here an enthusiasm would be generated among our younger men, which is the foundation for effective service in case of fire. The Dalles had no celebration as a city the fourth of July. By all means let us have a tournament in September that will be a source of pride for a long time to come. In connection there should be races of various kinds, a good ball game, etc. Our visitors would return pleased with their entertainment and The Dalles would thereafter be a point of consideration, in which she has failed in part during the last few years.

Mosier's Weather Today.

MOSIER, Or., July 19, 10 a. m.—[Special telephonic message to THE CHRONICLE.]—Nice stiff breeze coming from the west.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. W. Harris of Denver called on this office today.

J. W. Wilson, who has been an employe of J. O. Mack for a number of years, is in the city again, having returned from Snohomish.

Mrs. Geo. A. Liebe left for Portland last night to be with her sister, Mrs. Theo. Liebe, who was injured in a runaway near Portland a few days ago.

Mrs. Chas. Adams, Miss Adams, Miss Bessie French and Master Paul French left this morning by Regulator for Long Beach where they will remain for the summer.

Mrs. H. Heppner, who has been visiting with Mrs. L. W. Heppner and Mrs. J. H. Blakeney for the past week, departed for her home in Albina this morning.

Mr. A. W. Mohr and family, and Hugh Christman and family will leave for Trout lake by Regulator in the morning, on a mountain outing, to be absent about a couple of weeks.

Reserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. There remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Snipes & Kinersly's druggists.

Shiloh's cure, the Great Cough and Croup Cure, is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.
