BURNED TO A CRISP

The Horrible Death of an Electrical Engineer

IN CONTACT WITH A LIVE WIRE

Five Female Convicts Escape From a Georgia Prison—Are Being Tracked by Dogs.

OMAHA, July 19.—Charles Eckman was killed at the electric street railway power-house today. He was working on a boiler that generates the steam and runs the dynamo. As the only opening in the boiler is the small manhole at the end, it is necessary to use artificial light in making repairs on the inside. This was furnished by an incandescent lamp at the end of several yards of slack wire which was supposed to be thoroughly insulated. As Eckman was crawling inside of the boiler, his assistant heard him scream. On running around to the opening, he found Eckman lying in the manhole with his head and shoulders inside the boiler and his legs outside. He was dead, and there was a strong smell of burning flesh. Several men attempted to extricate the body, but received shocks. The body was burned to a crisp by the time the machinery was stopped.

Five Female Convicts Escape.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—Five female convicts have escaped from Madrox prison in the last week, and the rest of the sixty prisoners there are demoralized. The camp is situated in Talbot county near the Savannah river. All the female convicts are sent to this place. Two of the women ran away while working in the fields. One of them had been serving a life sentence for murder. They were tracked by dogs to the river, where all trace of them was lost. The three other women escaped by prying up some boards in the floor. One of these convicts was an 18-year-old colored girl, sentenced to life imprisonment. Those women were also tracked by dogs as far as the river. All those who escaped have worked at poling flatboats on the river, and it is thought that friends outside of the camp must have aided them by securing them boats which the women could easily navigate.

The Wreck of the Emily.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 18.—The intense excitement occasioned here yesterday morning has abated in a measure, though there is a profound feeling of sympathy for Mrs. Robertson, who lost her husband. A constant patrol has been kept along the beach in hopes that the body might drift ashore. Considerable blame is laid on Captain Lucas for trying to cross the bar at such a low state of tide. The Emily is a total loss and scarcely had the passengers and crew been taken off before she began to break up. Captain Lucas was the last man to leave the wreck, and when he left the sea was rolling mountains high, and every one was carrying her nearer shore. This afternoon another and larger portion of the wreck was towed up to North Bend. It is the under section of the hull, and is bottom up. The keel, which can be plainly seen, is badly sagged, and Chief Engineer Mitchell, of the Emily, is of the opinion that her engines are hanging to the wreckage.

Sunol Going Into Training.

New York, July 19.—Mr. Robert Bonner, owner of the great trotter Sunol, said yesterday in an interview: "I think it is more than probable that Sunol will go into Marvin's hands to be trained and then given a fast mile. You know what a new thing the bicycle sulky is, and as every one I have talked with says that it is at least six seconds faster than the old-fashioned one, I think I am justified in looking for some fast time. I have three sets of ball-bearing, rubber-tired wheels. One set is 48 inches in diameter. The set I like best is 28 inches, and the other set is 24 inches in diameter. As there will surely be great improvements in them I am going to wait before buying any others. Sunol today is as sound as ever and her feet are perfect. My track at the home is a very fine one and she will there be put in condition for fast work."

Yellow Fever Aboard.

Lewis, Del., July 19.—The American bark Alice Reed, from Cienfuegos, with sugar for orders, arrived at Delaware breakwater last night. Both mates had the yellow fever on passage. One died and was buried at sea. The vessel has been quarantined and will be fumigated.

MARKET REPORT.

THURSDAY, July 20.—The general conditions governing trade have not changed materially other than somewhat of an easier tone prevailing. Jobbing transactions are less frequent, but retail continues fair to good, and prices continue steady in all lines. There has been more activity in harvesting machinery during the past week than in the former. In produce, the market is steady. Eggs continue to be in better demand, but prices have not advanced. Fresh roll butter is not as plentiful, and the inquiry is better, with a tendency to advance a shade over former quotations. The poultry market has not changed; the offerings are more frequent and the demand is easily met.

Potatoes are lower and the market is well stocked. All other kinds of vegetables are in good supply and the customary market prices prevail. Green corn is on sale at 25 cents per dozen. Cabbage and squashes are in market and prices nominal.

Fruit is plentiful and of excellent quality. Peaches find a ready sale at 90 cents per box, and apples at $1.25 per box. The small fruits are nearly all gone, and prices of such are nominal.

The meat market is quiet. Beef cattle quotations are steady, as is also mutton. The supply is fully adequate for the demand.

The cereal question is still unsettled. Foreign and domestic markets are dull and lifeless at present. It is difficult to conjecture what there is in the future from the hazy appearance of the financial conditions and the unsettled monetary questions that are before the people. Should the vexed silver agitation be settled satisfactorily, markets undoubtedly will improve. As it is, the future cannot be relied on as promising anything remunerative for products.

The wool market continues featureless and dull. Eastern reports, together with those from Boston of last week indicated a slight tendency for a better feeling ahead, although former quotations are adhered to. The receipt of foreign wools in eastern markets are limited and the preference for domestic fleece is in the ascendancy. The following will give an idea of the condition of stock on hand in Boston on the 14th inst. and the quotation:

The total receipts of wool at this port during the past week comprise 23,292 bags and bales domestic and 434 bales foreign, against 30,715 bags and bales domestic, 5,091 bales foreign for the same time last year. The total receipts since January 1st, 1893, comprise 267,850 bags and bales domestic and 114,535 bales foreign, against 302,316 bags and bales domestic and 111,916 bales of foreign for the same time in 1892.

The sales for the week comprise 1,716,000 pounds of domestic fleece and pulled, and 172,000 pounds foreign, making the week's transactions foot up 1,888,000 pounds, against 1,023,000 pounds for the previous week, and 4,800,500 pounds domestic and 716,000 pounds foreign for the corresponding week last week.

California wools—Spr Northern, 16@18c; middle co spr. 13@15; Southern defective, 10@12c; free north fall, 14@16c; south do, 10@12c; defective, 8@10c.

Oregon wools—Eastern, fair, 10@14c; choice, 15@16c; valley, nom, 18@20c.

Australian wools, scoured basis—Combing, super, 70@72c; do good, 67@70c; do average, 63@67c; clothing, 60@65c; crossbred, fine, nom.

J. S. Cooper, commission salesman of horses, Union stock yards, says: "There is no special feature in the market this week. The shippers are not anxious to ship horses during the dull months of the year, and while there is a fair sale for good smooth horses from 1,050 to 1,200 lbs. the supply is sufficient to fill the present demand."

An Improbable Story.

A Washington dispatch says: "E. L. Coldwell, of Portland, while in Washington told an experience he had while passing through Canada. He went to a bank and presented a silver certificate of $20. The cashier held a consultation with the president, and came back and told him they did not want to accept that money anyway, but owing to the possibility of the United States going to a gold basis and a fall in silver they would take it at a 40 per cent. discount. Mr. Coldwell fished up a different kind of a bill and exchanged it for gold so that he could travel around. He said that it made him feel a little ashamed to think that money bearing the stamp of the United States was asked to be discounted in times of profound peace by common Canadians."

Now this is a very pretty story, one of the kind for which Jerry Coldwell has become somewhat famous. It is probable that Jerry had presented his note to the bank in place of a silver certificate by mistake, and owing to the unsettled condition of affairs the bank thought it was safe on a forty per cent discount.

Secretary Gresham for President.

New York, July 19.—General Joseph T. Torrence, of Chicago, a personal friend of Secretary Gresham, said yesterday at the Holland house that although a republican he voted for Cleveland last fall. "But," he said, "I shall vote for Walter Q. Gresham for president in 1896. In my judgment he will be nominated by the democrats then. Do you suppose he would have resigned a life judgeship simply to be secretary of state? Well, I guess not. It is generally understood among his friends, and I am one of them, that he is to be a presidential candidate three years hence. I do not believe Mr. Cleveland will be a candidate for a third term. I tell you that if Gresham is nominated he will sweep the country like a whirlwind. It will need no campaign to elect him. The people will be for him. They have confidence in his integrity and admire him for his statesmanship. The next president of the United States will be Walter Q. Gresham, of Illinois."

They poulticed her feet and poulticed her head, and blistered her back till 'twas smarting and red. Tried tonics, elixirs, pain-killers and salves, (though grandma declared it was nothing but "nerves.") The poor woman thought she must certainly die, till "Favorite Prescription" she happened to try.

No wonder its praises so loudly they speak: She grew better at once, and was well in a week. The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany, at times, certain forms of female weakness, yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman. It always and subdues the nervous symptoms and relieves the pain accompanying functional and organic troubles. Guaranteed printed on bottle-wrappers, and faithfully carried out for many years.
