A suit to recover $6,750 has been brought against Winans Bros. by the Buckbeet Packing Co., of Astoria. This sum, it is alleged, was advanced Winans Bros. for building fish wheels, but owing to the light run of salmon this year, notwithstanding their efforts and a very favorable location on the river, a sufficient amount was not earned to pay the debt.

Tomorrow is inspection day at the public schools of the city, and the janitors of the several buildings will hold themselves in readiness to show all visitors through the buildings, who may wish to inform themselves of the rooms in which their children spend so many hours each day. They will find that every room, eleven altogether, has been papered, varnished and cleaned, presenting a neat and attractive appearance. The hours for inspection will be from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. School will begin on the first Monday in September.

The Body of Taffe Found.

The body of W. R. Taffe was found this morning floating in the river about three miles above this city by one Hansen, who was out hunting for it in a boat, in which was also a dog. The dog first noticed it, and attracted his master's attention by barking. It was then recovered, the news telegraphed to his parents, and an inquest held this afternoon. The deceased had vest and pants upon his person, in one pocket of which was found his watch.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY.

An Unknown Man Stealing a Ride Fatally Injured.

The coroner was notified last night of a man having been found dead on a car loaded with lumber at Cello, and he ordered Mr. Crandall, the undertaker, to remove said body and prepare it for interment. An inquest was held this morning.

The body was found in the east end of a coal car in a reclining position. The car was loaded with heavy timbers and plank, the short ones being on the bottom, and the long ones on top, thus forming a recess or cave. The man was reclining in between the end gate and the timbers, and from all appearances the timbers slid toward the end gate, catching the man's head between a heavy timber and the end gate, and then sliding back again about two inches.

The only means of determining his name was from a time book carried in his pocket, which contained the name of Frank Anderson, and age about 30 years.

Dr. Logan's testimony was that he found his skull crushed, sufficiently to cause death in a few minutes, and that no other mark of violence existed about his person, and that the wound had apparently been inflicted about 24 hours.

The coroner's jury, consisting of Messrs. E. P. Fitzgerald, W. E. Garretson, J. K. Paige, C. F. Stephens, L. Nolan and M. Melnis, returned in the following verdict:

"We, the jury sworn to inquire into the cause of death of the man found dead on the U. P. car No. 6219, find that he was killed while riding on freight train No. 22, east-bound, by having his head jammed between end gate of car and some heavy square timbers with which car was loaded, the timbers and end gate being thrown together by the bumping of the cars.

"That his name is unknown to us, except that a time book found upon his person contains the name of Frank Anderson, and his age about 30 years. That no blame attaches to anyone for his unfortunate death."

Opposed to the Repeal.

Senator Peffer, the people's party champion, was in Portland yesterday, leisurely en route to Washington for the special session of congress. To a Telegram reporter he said, among other things:

"As to the policy of the present administration, I understand that two propositions are to be submitted to congress as administration measures: First, to repeal the Sherman silver law, and in that way establish permanently a gold basis for our financial system; and second, to revise the tariff along strictly revenue lines. This will include, as I understand, a repeal of the present sugar bounty law, which provides for the payment of 2 cents a pound on home-made sugar directly to the manufacturer, and to restore the old duty on foreign sugars. I am directly opposed to both of these propositions, and believe that the adoption of either of them will wreck the democratic party."
