THE BALL GAME.

The G. Idendale Players Vanquish Us By An Artistic Score.

Goldendale 32 The Dalles 20: Such was the score at Goldendale on Saturday afternoon. The Dalles nine, together with three or four invited guests, left for Goldendale Friday evening. The party filled the large wagonette drawn by a four horse team. The boys reached Goldendale a little before midnight and were met on the edge of town by quite an assemblage. The reception committee had an oyster supper ready for them and every attention possible was shown. The game was largely advertised and several people filled the grand stand and stood along the grounds eager to cheer both sides and make the day one of pleasure. At half past two the struggle began.

The Dalles nine went first to bat and when the inning closed had four runs to their credit. When the Goldendales had closed their innings and had made but three tallies The Dalles adherents were loud in cheering and it was well to cheer while they could for there weren't many more opportunities. In the second inning the boys from the banks of the Klickitat made twelve and got a cinch on the pennant which Anson himself couldn't have broken. Notwithstanding our boys played hard and struck at the ball with the vigor of desperation each inning showed their opponents still ahead and the lead was increased to the end. While not excusing our nine from the charge of negligence in practice and noticeable lack of team work there are some extenuating circumstances. It was a hard ride of thirty miles to Goldendale and not reaching there until so late the boys felt very tired Saturday morning. In addition Saunders, the catcher, was taken sick and played only by summoning together all his grit-of which he has a large amount. Then, too, the day was very hot and the Goldendale boys seemed to take better to hot weather than did The Dalles nine. After the game arrangements were partially completed whereby
