TUESDAY, AUG. 1, 1893

Those who voted for a democratic president last November who are out of work and in want are very sorry now they did so. Each generation has to learn the same lesson by the same experience. This is not the first time the credit of the country has been exhausted and bankruptcy staring us in the face upon all hands under democratic rule. But the same physician will cure us again. After the present "four years of clover" are expiated, and republicans are installed for another thirty years, the armies of idle men will once again be working at good wages, good prices will follow harvests, and our manufactories, banks, railroads, and sundry other robber corporations will again, as of old, furnish employment and money for the general circulation.

If carried out, says the Astorian, Senator Peffer's idea to demonetize gold, as a panacea to the present financial ills, in the Sherman act being repealed and free coinage of silver refused would put the country in a queer box. Barter, bank notes and I.O.U.'s would be the only recourse; and the old story of the shoe-maker trying to find a hatter who wanted boots, in order that the butcher might be induced to trade meat for a silk tile would find realization. But, thank fortune, there is only one Peffer in a million of our people. The senator's threat, however, shows to what extremes insane politics might be made to run.

A sentiment expressed by Comptroller Eckels is herewith put on record as an example for other comptrollers in times of monetary stringency to follow. Mr. Eckels telegraphed to Bank Examiner Adams at Denver: "I wish you would announce to the officers of the banks who have failed in Denver that it is my intention to lend them every aid possible looking toward a speedy resumption on their part, and I shall grant to them sufficient time not only to enable them to collect on such assets as are speedily collectable, but to get together such amounts of money as may enable them to open on a sound basis."

Siam has gracefully accepted France's ultimatum and, yielding to her threats and warlike demonstrations, ceded an important portion of her territory. This coup d'etat will doubtless do much to cover up the recent French scandals, by diverting attention from them, but to a third party the action would seem like bully-ragging a weaker neighbor. Perhaps the peaceful ending of the affair is only a surface condition. Nations, like individuals, have a habit of remembering wrongs, which await only opportunity to leap forth again into active life.

The Coos bay papers assert that the loss of the steamer Emily was foretold by a spiritualist, John Slater. One resident of Marshfield did not ship his piano on that trip because of this warning, and one of the passengers was told at a spiritualist meeting in San Francisco that the vessel would be wrecked.

Very man with any money whatever, or is interested in any property, or has his labor to sell, should stop standing on the street corners and howling hard times, etc. Just such talk is responsible, to a great extent, for the troublous times. Take a bright view of the situation, and in a short time all will be well again.

If another presidential election could be held next Tuesday the democrats wouldn't be in it.

Banana Peel on the Sidewalk.
 The street car had passed, but to catch it he reckoned, so he ran like a deer, and shouted and beckoned. Till he planted his heel on a smooth bit of peel. Then he saw half a million of stars in a second. He was in too great a hurry; better have waited for another car. There are cases, however, where haste is necessary. If you have night-sweats, feverishness, weak, sore lungs and a hacking cough, do not lose an hour in obtaining a supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Delay in such cases is dangerous; it may be fatal. Before the disease has made too great progress, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a certain cure. In fact, it's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money paid for it promptly refunded.

Use Mexican Silver Stove Polish.

A Foolhardy Expedition.

The Detroit Free Press considers the search for the north pole a foolhardy one and says:

The enterprise and determination which have characterized Lieut. Peary in undertaking another Arctic voyage commands our admiration but it is impossible to approve his judgment. It is hardly within the range of possibilities that he will be able to carry out his design of reaching the north pole by an overland trip and planting the stars and stripes thereon. But even if he should of what service will the exploit be to humanity? It will not render the trip any easier for others to take or furnish any good and sufficient reason why they should take it if it is easier. There is not the slightest probability that trade will be opened up with the extreme north or that any real good come to science, to art or to industry from any results which Lieut. Peary may secure.

This being so the expedition is a foolhardy one and no amount of courage or daring or enthusiasm on the part of that explorer and his estimable wife can prevent its being so regarded by those who look the plain facts in the face.

France Demands Security.

LONDON, July 31.—The Paris correspondent of the Central News bureau says that it has been learned from good authority that France demands as security from Siam that the terms of the ultimatum be carried out, the temporary custody of Chataboon, a town on the coast of Siam; also, that Siam shall establish no military stations at certain places near the frontier of Cambodia nor within a certain distance of the Mekong river.
