Senator Dolph introduced a bill today appropriating $133,000,000 for fortifications and other sea coast defenses, and $1,000,000 for the establishment of a gun factory on the Pacific.

Commenting on the above dispatch, the Capital Journal says: When we are is spending $100,000,000 a year on a standing army and navy in a time of perfect peace, a bill like the above seems the height of folly. We need improved rivers and harbors, we need a free rural mail delivery, we need postal savings banks and postal telegraphs. we need the telephone brought into the reach of the people. But we do not need $133,000,000 for forts on our coasts, and a $1,000,000 gun factory. What shall our coasts be defended against? Who is there to shoot? These questions may sound impertinent from an editor to a senator, but the proposition to create such expenditures when there are other reforms and improvements so much more necessary, is also an impertinence.

WAMIC, Aug. 10, 1893.

It may be that your readers would like to hear from the little town of Wamic that is so nicely situated about eight miles from Barlow gate on the road leading from The Dalles across the mountains to the valley. This little town is enjoying quite a boom of late. As the crops were never better than they are this year, while money is scarce as elsewhere, the farmers are all over smiles and in the best of humor. Harvesting will be about done this week, then the busy hum of the thresher will be heard community before.
