The following is extracted from a recent editorial from the Cotton and Wool Reporter:

"It is admitted that a great many manufacturers desire to believe that the democratic party would not dare formulate any legislation of a destructive character, yet there is the equivocal and explicit language of the Chicago platform, on which the party won its way into power, which causes doubts to arise and prevents a firm conviction as to what the policy of the party may be. Fortunately, it is seldom that the extreme wing of any party prevails, and it is almost an assured fact that the extreme element, the voice which spoke through the Chicago tariff platform, will not prevail now. The policy of the democratic party will be to endeavor to hold itself in power a little longer, and certainly its power would be of short tenure should it enact any destructive legislation; it may not enact constructive laws, and in face of the rapidly changing sentiment of the country, it would not venture far in forcing its radical views."

Some democrats claim that the reason so much shoddy clothing is manufactured in the United States is because of the high protective tariff, pointing out that only first-class goods are manufactured in England. The premises are correct, but the conclusion is not. It is only because shoddy goods are permitted to be made here, and prohibited there. English laws are more strict in all manufactures, from a loaf of bread up. If it were not so, Englishmen would have the same opportunity to introduce shoddy in their goods as Americans, and since human nature is pretty much the same, an honest American is no rarer than an honest Johnny Bull.

Senator Mitchell has introduced the most important bill so far, which includes an amendment declaring it to be the sense of congress that no changes be made in the tariff during the 53d congress. If the country was assured that the tariff would be undisturbed by the next congress, it would stimulate production again, labor would find ready employment and a reaction would set in of great advantage. Mitchell, being a free coinage advocate, stands a good chance of carrying through his bill successfully, by trading his influence on the one question for the other.

Campers in the mountains should exercise great caution in the matter of extinguishing their camp fires. If a man is a philanthropist who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before, what shall be said about a man who burns up in a day several quarter sections of valuable timber which have been growing ever since before his great grandfather was born.

The Oregonian finds cause for alarm should President Cleveland die and Vice-President Stevenson assume his mantle, characterizing the latter as a cheap and shallow demagogue, without even the negative virtue of passive patriotism to recommend him.

Peffer introduced a bill Monday providing for the issue of $300,000,000 of fiat money, exchangeable for government bonds at par. That's all right, just so its money. In these times everything is fish that comes to the net.

The outlook for labor in the east has brightened by the renewed employment of 15,000 men in the iron and steel trade in Pittsburg, and 8,000 operatives in the Providence cotton mills.

Minister Biount has returned from Honolulu and is now in San Francisco. He will say nothing, and no one cares whether he does or not.

The debate on silver need not delay the legislation prayed for to put money into circulation again.

LETTER FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Regarding the Advisability of An Extra Session.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 14.—Governor Penoyer will tomorrow send a letter to the members of the legislature, requesting their opinions as to the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature at an early date for the purpose of passing a law to stay the execution of judgments. The governor has written this letter in response to requests in numerous letters from Eastern Oregon and other portions of the state, asking that some action be taken. The circumstances put forth in the letters asking for such relief are that times are hard, money cannot be had on even the very best security, and persistency of creditors would have the effect of utterly ruining whole counties of the state. Grain is good in quality, but rather under the usual yield per acre in Eastern Oregon, and the price is but three-fourths as much as last year. This leaves the farmers not much above the actual cost of production, and it is out of the question for them to pay heavy debts from the products of their fields. The laws of Oregon at present, permit the taking of a man's property for debt and selling it for a mere fraction of the amount it is actually worth. From this procedure debtors want relief. The governor thinks the laws now in force would form considerable measure of relief if the debtors would take advantage of all the provisions. In some instances cited the feature of usurious interest would have been an ample safeguard against oppression if the law in that particular had been invoked. But the demand seems to be for a definite and distinct stay of the law that shall give the debtor a year before a judgment can be executed. This provision, they think, would take the poor farmers out of the clutches of the money lenders. The governor was asked, "Would such a law bring the relief which the writers of these letters expect?"

"Not unless congress passes a free-coinage law," responded the governor, and he repeated it as if it were a well-settled conviction with him. "If congress fails to pass such an act, a state law to stay execution of judgment will only prolong the misery of our debtor farmers."

Sounds the Death Knell.

The hand of fate points steadily in the direction of the utter annihilation of The Dalles baseball club when it next meets the Goldendale boys on The Dalles diamond. Last Tuesday night our club unanimously elected Martin Z. Danell, one of the best boys The Dalles ever flung to the human breeze, to be its high chief factotum and business manager. That settles it. Soon

Mr. Thomas Batts, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists. 1m.

What a scene of discomfort and confusion home would be if mamma did not return. If your wife is slowly breaking down, from a combination of domestic cares and female disorders, make it your first business to restore her health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is without a peer as a remedy for feeble and debilitated women, and is the only medicine for the class of maladies known as "female diseases" which is sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction, in every case, or the money will be refunded. It is a positive cure for the most complicated cases. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nerve, imparting tone and vigor to the whole system. It's a legitimate medicine, too—carefully compounded by an experienced physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization.

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and water falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
