The city charter is defective in the matter of enforcing citizens to lay new sidewalks, so that it is impossible to frame an ordinance that will be effective. They have the power, however, to condemn unsafe walks and have them removed, and since there are so many walks that may be so classed, we may look soon for stretches of bare ground next to a good many pretentious residences. A lot owner who has no more pride than to let such disgraceful walks exist as many such as we have, will be equally indifferent as to whether there is anything at all to walk on but the ground.

The general impression seems to be, says the Statesman, that just as soon as confidence is restored and hoarded money once more seeks the channels of trade that we will see the most prosperous times that have been seen for years. The locking up of cash is a loss of interest that capitalists will try to recover by active investment. In view of this outlook it is decidedly better for those who can to hold their wheat for higher prices. Better times are surely coming in spite of anything the congress can do. This was the experience of those who went through the panic of '73 and it will be that of those who go through the panic of '93.

It is now generally admitted that the Amick discovery is a certain specific in the earlier stages of consumption. Amick has never heretofore claimed that it would cure more than 20 per cent. of third stage consumptives. In a test recently made in New York City three out of four were either cured or astonishingly benefited. It is easy enough for any sufferers from the disease to test the new discovery through their family physician, for Amick sends medicine for the purpose free of cost, and invites impartial test of it by the medical profession everywhere.

The people at The Dalles, which is in Oregon, where 5,000,000 pounds of wool remain unsold, a free trade price of six to eight cents a pound only being obtainable, can appreciate the advantages of our recent "change," and they are furthermore greatly pleased (?) to learn that in Australia, 19,000,000 pounds of wool is just waiting admittance into the United States free of duty, and 400,000,000 pounds will be ready for shipment, sometime later on. You can teach some people a lesson by touching their pockets and we are learning the lesson now.—West Side.

An agitation has suddenly developed, and without any apparent cause, against employing Chinese for the various kinds of labor which white men can do. This is particularly the case with hop-pickers, but all branches of labor are being affected by the discrimination. It is a good plan to employ our own idle first.

Canada has a homestead law. Farm lots of 200 acres are granted to each head of a family and 100 to each male adult on condition of building a log house 16x20 feet, cultivating fifteen acres in every 100, and residing six months in each year during five years on the property.

Over 6,000 women in the United States act as postmaster. The largest number in one state, 463, is in Pennsylvania; 460 in Virginia. There are 256 in Ohio, 243 in New York, 216 in Georgia, 210 in Texas and 209 in Kentucky. Alaska has only one.

Pressure on congress will soon be tremendous to hurry up their labors for which they were specially assembled. The cotton and wheat crops will soon have to be moved, and the prospects at present are that such will be an entirely difficult matter.

What happens in Australia tomorrow may be printed and read in this country today. This is where the telegraph gets ahead of the sun in the matter of rapid transit.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14, 1893.

Aside from Mr. Cleveland's disgust at the reception given his message by his party in congress, his bad health and his natural desire to be near his wife just now, there was another weighty reason for his departure, which can be fully appreciated by every proud man. From the time he arrived until his departure he was almost completely ignored by the senators of his party, less than half a dozen of them having paid him the courtesy of even a formal call. This was so different from what he had been led to expect by those who had been purposely misrepresenting things to him that he was at first furious, and later humiliated. Those senators whom he saw carried him no balm for his wounded pride, as they were practically unanimous in the belief that it will be impossible to get a bill for the repeal of the silver law through the senate, unless it embodies a substitute that meets the approval of the conservative silver men in that body.

So far the silver fight in the house has been mostly between democrats, although several republicans, among them Grosvenor of Ohio and Henderson of Iowa, gave Representative Harrison of Ohio a few disagreeable minutes when he asserted that the condition of the working man in England was as much superior to the condition of the working man in Ohio as a berth in heaven is to a cot in purgatory. The free silver democrats also prodded Harter at several points of his speech. Mr. Harter said that Senator Sherman, instead of being abused for the Sherman law, ought to have the grateful thanks of the whole people, because he got the best there was to be obtained for the country out of a bad situation. But the portion of his speech that was the most irritating to the silver men was where he said: "The working men are appealing to congress for bread, and the silver men are offering them not a stone, but dynamite, and instead of a serpent a whole bundle of them—a boa constrictor, a rattlesnake and a copperhead, all rolled into one in the shape of a financial system."

It is plain to be seen that the speeches in the house are for home consumption. Since the first day there has not been a quorum present, and the same condition is expected to continue during the fourteen days the debate is to last. No votes will be changed, and if the votes were taken now instead of at the close of the debate the result would be the same.

The senate has done nothing and it is understood that at the last meeting of the finance committee the silver men who control that committee, made it plain that no bill would be reported from the committee for the repeal of the Sherman law, without a substitute that would be satisfactory to the silver men. A committee of democratic senators is now engaged in trying to bring about a compromise. Republican senators are waiting to see what the democrats propose doing.

Representative Breckinridge, of Kentucky, has become involved in a very ugly personal scandal, by the filing of a suit against him for $50,000 by Madalene V. Pollard, for breach of promise of marriage. She charges that he seduced her when she was seventeen years old and a student at Wesleyan Female college at Cincinnati, and says she had two children of whom he is the father, and that after his wife's death, in 1892, he promised to marry her, but postponed it from time to time, meanwhile continuing his relations with her; and that on the 18th of July, 1893, he married another woman. Breckinridge brought Miss Pollard to Washington and secured her a government position, from which she was dismissed for having publicly made disgraceful remarks about Gen. Sherman at the time of his death. Mr. Breckinridge has his bride here now. Nice state of affairs for a bride to be called upon to contemplate before the end of her honeymoon, isn't it?

CHILDLESS HOME.

Smith and his wife have every luxury that money can buy, but there is one thing lacking to their happiness. Both are fond of children, but no little voices prattle, no little feet patter in their beautiful home. "I would give ten years of my life if I could have one healthy, living, child of my own," Smith often says to himself. No woman can be the mother of healthy offspring unless she herself is in good health. If she suffers from female weakness, general debility, bearing-down pains and functional derangements, her physical condition is such that she cannot hope to have healthy children. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign and guaranteed remedy for all these ailments. Worn-out, "run-down," feeble women, need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds them up. It's a powerful, restorative tonic, or strength-giver—free from alcohol and injurious drugs. The entire system is renewed and invigorated. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, gives refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. It's the only guaranteed medicine for women, sold by druggists.

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old city ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horses power in its rushing streams and water falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing factories will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already established you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
