AUGUST ANGLINGS.

hill the horses took fright and ran down the hill and could not be checked. The wagon was overturned, and by reason of the harder pulling the horses stopped of their own accord when reaching the bottom of the hill. Neither the horses nor the gentlemen were harmed, but the wagon is wrecked.

James Crate, R. J. O'Conner and Thos. McCoy were each fined $10 and costs by Justice Schutz. The fines were paid, but the county will have to whistle for the costs.

Mrs. E. P. Roberts sent to the Oregon department of the world's fair a box of peach plums, and word came back Saturday, that they were the finest lot of fruit of the kind they ever saw, and Mrs. Roberts came in for a fair share of praise for the fruit having been raised by an Oregon woman.

A Chinawoman was arrested this morning at the instance of a barber a short distance up the road. Since he has withdrawn the suit, desiring perhaps to guard his reputation, we will not mention his name. It seems that while he was in her room last night she abstracted $12 out of his pants, and he had her pulled for petty larceny.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. J. Splawn of Seattle is in the city. Lawrence Nolan left for Portland this morning. Examiner Staage returned from Portland last evening. Taylor Hill, a stockman of Prineville, came in this morning. Mr. R. E. Haworth returned to his home in Portland this morning. Senator Henry Blackman of Heppner is registered at the Umatilla house. Mrs. Fenton of Rockland, Wash., left for Portland this morning by steamer Regulator. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Coventon and Mrs. Eben and family, left this morning for Trout Lake. Mrs. Jas. M. Huntington and family returned from Sacramento, Calif., where they have been visiting friends. Mrs. D. E. Thompson of Los Angeles, Calif. arrived this morning and is the guest of her son, A. R. Thompson.

News from Walter French is of the most encouraging kind, and the parents have no doubt that he will permanently recover.

Hon. W. H. Wilson and family returned yesterday morning from an extended visit with relatives, also at the world's fair.

Mrs. Jos. Beezley and Mrs. J. H. Phirman departed for Portland this morning for a short sojourn in that city. Mrs. Phirman will meet her cousin there, Miss Edith Stanley, of Petaluma, California.

Small Fry Hooked by Persistent Chronicle Reporters.
 Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Weep, and you weep alone. For the crowd that sees you while the band organ plays, When the hat is tossed has flown.

Travel is increasing slightly. Sacks are so scarce about Arlington that a number of threshers are idle. The Brookhouse case is in progress this afternoon before Justice Schutz. Tramps complain that times are so hard now that they must either go to work or starve. Hobos are a scarce article in The Dalles. They have an antipathy to working the streets. Prineville is to have a base ball tournament. Several clubs have signified their intention to be present. In Portland when one visits a bank on business instead of asking "Is the cashier in?" the inquiry is "Is the assignee around?" Parties who have returned from The Dalles say about two-thirds of the wool that was stored there has been shipped, though not one-tenth of it has been sold.—Ochoco Review.

The Regulator is doing a thriving passenger business now. It not only beats the train starting from here in the morning to Portland, but furnishes a vastly more pleasurable ride. Parties coming from the mountains inform the Grant County News that the sheep up there are so fat that they can almost be tracked by the grease, and that the finest pasture in the world can be found in abundance. A better time is coming for our sheepsman after the big scare is over.

An annular eclipse of the sun will occur October 9th, 1893, the paths of the annular being in the Pacific ocean, and running through Lima and Peru. It will appear as a partial eclipse to the western halves of North and South America. It will begin in The Dalles at 10:14 a. m., and will continue till 12:45 p. m.

Malcolm Moody and a party of young men left Saturday night for the country, and while coming home last night, met with an accident. Mr. Moody's horses were attached to Mr. R. B. Hood's spring wagon, and when about the top of 5-mile Bellingher's Decision.

PORTLAND, OR., August 21.—[Special.]—Judge Bellingher this morning handed down his decision in regard to the forfeited land grants of the O. & C., deciding that the lands in question, known as the Quadrant claims, be restored to the government domain. It will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States.

News From Mr. Blakeley.

Mr. Geo. Blakeley, in a private letter from Chicago, gives considerable news which we are kindly permitted to publish. He states that the weather has been uniformly pleasant and that the warmest night since he left was the first one out from Portland. At the banquet of the American Pharmaceutical Association, there were 400 guests present. In point of numbers, he says, they beat us, otherwise they did not compare with our meetings in Salem and Portland, and are not in it with the "wild and woolly west." Prof. Patch was elected president at the Chicago meeting. He expects to start for home today or tomorrow, and sends regards to friends.

Liked the Peach Plums.

Mr. J. A. McDonald, of the Earle Fruit company, sent a box of peach plums to a Chicago lady, from Mr. G. A. VanAnda, superintendent of the Columbia River Fruit Co. That she was delighted with them may be inferred from her enthusiastic acknowledgement:

CHICAGO, Aug. 11, 1893.

DEAR SIR—The box of plums arrived yesterday all O. K., not a bad one among them. They are very much admired. I put some on the table tonight and everybody thought they were grand. It must be fine to see such a lot of fine fruit and have all one wants to eat. We think seriously of starting a fruit farm if we could be assured of such nice fruit as that and could have more money than now, for I tell you those plums were mighty good.

Attention, Railroad Men!

I was very bilious, occasionally having a dumb chill, followed by fevers, which prostrated me. I took Simmons Liver Regulator, and am a well man.

A Senseless Report.

A senseless report was started Saturday that the First National bank of this city was to pay depositors 25 cents on the dollar the first of the year. The report scarcely deserves mention, but since evil tidings spread swiftly, it is well to nip it in the bud. Certificates of deposit granted by this bank are worth par value today, and are just as good as greenbacks as a medium of exchange. Depositors will not lose a single cent, and those who extended their time on them will get face value and interest besides. Furthermore, the suspended First National bank of this city, is likely to be the first in Oregon to open its doors for the transaction of business again.

Rescued His Companion.

Young Vardie McFarland, son of E. B. McFarland, the Portland banker, performed a heroic deed a few days ago by saving the life of the 8-year-old son of W. R. McKenzie. The boys were on the fishing rocks below the willows, at Long Beach, and McKenzie slipped off into a deep hole and was not missed until he came to the surface for the last time. As he went down, McFarland dove after him, and after a hard struggle succeeded in getting him out more dead than alive. Help was called, and McKenzie, who was unconscious and black in the face, was resuscitated after nearly half an hour's work. McFarland is a quiet young man, as modest as he is brave, and drowning in the surf would be unknown if alleged experts who take inexperienced bathers beyond their depth were as cool-headed as he proved himself in a trying moment.—Oregonian.

FIERCE FIST FIGHT.

Frank Heater Pounds Fred Joslyn Into Insensibility.

A sanguinary fist encounter occurred Saturday evening at the Umatilla house corner. A horse owned by Frank Heater was bestrode by Fred Joslyn, without permission, and Heater, soon after emerging from a saloon, ordered him to dismount. The parties were more or less under the influence of liquor, and some sharp words ensued, leading to a blow delivered by Joslyn upon the facial anatomy of Heater. Heater was hot, but he became hotter, and proceeded to maul his antagonist with great vigor. Joslyn's brother interfered to save him from the fearful thrashing, but a burly half-breed named Teio interposed and kept him and a half-dozen others from interfering. Heater beat his victim into a state of unconsciousness, cutting his face up terribly. So thoroughly was the animal instincts aroused in him that he became temporarily mad, and for several minutes, paced the sidewalk in an irregular beat, brandishing his arms about his nude body, his upper clothing having been torn from him in the struggle. The sight was demoralizing in the extreme to the hundreds who had congregated, but no one cared to try to quiet him in his maddened condition. About a quarter of an hour after the commencement of the fight, Marshal Maloney took him in charge, and gave him a chance to cool gradually. He was not arrested, all witnesses agreeing that he was first assaulted, and this will end the case, as far as legal formalities are concerned.

Driven Out of Selma.

SELMA, Cal., Aug. 19.—About 11 o'clock last night an unarmed body of laboring men waited on the Chinese restaurants in town and deported the proprietors, sending them out of town quietly, using no violence whatever, and today their places of business are closed. This action was not taken until one day after the time specified in the notice given them to close by the anti-Chinese league. The Chinamen made no effort to suspend business and excitement was running high. They made no resistance when the last moment came. The washhouses are preparing to close by September 1.

"A Back Number."

This is the slighting remark that is applied to women who try to seem young, though they no longer look so. Sometimes appearances are deceitful. Female weakness, functional troubles, displacements and irregularities will add fifteen years to a woman's looks. These troubles are removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Try this remedy, all you whose beauty and freshness is fading from such causes, and no longer figure in society as a "back number." It's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it returned. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

Boswell, one of the best known and most respected citizens of Brownwood, Texas, suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and tried many different remedies without benefit, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used; that relieved him at once.
