WEDNESDAY, - - - AUG. 23, 1893

More than a fourth of the gold and more than a third of the silver of the world in circulation was mined in the United States.

There will be very few strikes this year. Men will sooner lose from 10 to 25 per cent of their earning capacity than be thrown out of work; besides, owing to the demoralized condition of affairs throughout the country generally, there are plenty of idle men who will only be too happy to take even at a reduced cost the places that were filled by the malcontents.

France has passed a law a good deal like our Chinese exclusion and contract labor acts combined, which provides that foreigners who have not obtained leave to be domiciled in France, or who come into that country for the purpose of exercising their professions, or doing any kind of business therein, will have to register within eight days after their arrival at the place where they propose to reside. Such foreigners will receive upon payment of a fee a certain certificate, stating that they have complied with the law, without which they cannot obtain employment. If they change their place of residence, this certificate is to be vized by the mayor of the locality.

A New York exchange says that when Mr. Cleveland selected his cabinet it was supposed that the conspicuous member of it would be John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky. This gentleman has been such a vigorous and intellectual figure in his whole career as a statesman, and his opportunities at just this time to distinguish himself as the chief of the treasury department are so numerous, that he ought to be the first and foremost man in the government today. Now the fact is, we never hear of John G. Carlisle. He might as well be idling away the drowsy days in his Kentucky home, beguiling the hours with some rare old bluegrass brew, and shooting craps with the village postmaster. In all the financial excitement that surrounds us there is no sound of Carlisle. Just how and for what reason he has been effaced it would be difficult to say; the fact remains that as the secretary of the treasury he has been, and is, a mere name and mild promise.

Hon. E. N. Chandler, of the Oregon house, was seen last night by a representative of THE CHRONICLE in regard to the proposed extra session for the purpose of passing a stay law. Mr. Chandler did not think such a law advisable at present, on account of the bad effect it would present to the world—that we would then be considered insolvent, when the reverse was true. He said that Michigan had a very good stay law, wherein the debtor was obliged to give bonds for the faithful obligation of his contract. The same law would be a good thing for Oregon, but it should wait for a regular session, as haste to pass such a law would show a strained condition, which would result in more harm than good. In short, Mr. Chandler favored the act, but not indecorous haste to make it a law. He believes that if an extra session is held at all it should be to repeal several large appropriations, such as the soldiers' home and Eastern Oregon insane asylum, as these funds can be used for nothing else, and the money being tied up, makes taxes unnecessarily high. This money could be used very advantageously for something else.

In this skeptical age statements made before being credited are generally inquired into. People are always found (some one said) on the side where their interest lies. In view of the last named truth an indorsement from one who is not interested should be of double value, hence the following frank statement should be read with interest.

GENTLEMEN:—This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules with satisfactory results. I bought a box which cost me 25 cents and one capsule cured me of dreadful sick headache. My wife and myself have both used the medicines manufactured by the Norman Light Mfg. Co. and we recommend them to the public as being just what they are represented.

Respectfully,

Crop-Weather Bulletin.

WESTERN OREGON.

WEATHER—The temperature during the week was about two degrees below the normal. Cloudy weather invariably prevailed in the mornings and the afternoons were clear and warm. The sunshine was below the normal. No rain occurred, but the cloudy, cool mornings counteracted the effect of the dry weather of the afternoons and proved beneficial to grass and pastures; at the same time assisting the work of harvesting and threshing. Smoke from forest fires has been noticeable in the Willamette valley all the week, and at times it was quite dense.

CROPS—Haying is practically over in the coast districts. It cured well and has been housed for winter use. Harvesting and threshing is progressing; more advanced in the coast districts than in other sections. Threshing reveals a yield of about five bushels per acre less than was anticipated in southern sections, while in northern sections and in the Willamette valley more favorable results are shown in the Willamette valley. The yield varies from twenty-five to thirty bushels per acre as is shown from thresher reports. Forty bushels per acre is the highest reported. Oats are making a fine growth. Early spring wheat is being harvested, with prospects for a light yield. Owing to the lateness of the season the corn crop is in a doubtful condition, continued warm weather is necessary to bring it to maturity, early frosts would make it a failure. The potato crop has stood the dry season well. It will be a heavy crop in southern and coast sections, while in central counties and northern sections dryness is complained of, which cause them to dwarf and in sections to spot. Favorable reports have been received regarding the hop crop in all sections of the state; there are less insects than in former years and the burrs are thickly set. Fruit continues to fall in some sections, owing to the evil effects of the codlin moth; the damage is more noticeable in southern counties. Fruit is coming into market more plentifully. Apples, which will average three-quarters of a crop, are ripening rapidly and are being shipped to eastern and southern markets. Prunes and plums will mature a full crop. Freestone peaches are becoming plentiful in market. Watermelons are ready for shipment for neighboring markets.

EASTERN OREGON.

WEATHER—The weather of the past week was characterized by total absence of rainfall, cool nights and warm sunny days. The mean temperature ranges from 66 to 74 degrees and the sunshine was about up to the average.

CROPS—The wheat harvest in the Columbia river valley is about half over. The yield so far is well up to the average, and farmers are pleased with the results. The grain is plump and firm. Grain is being stored in graneries to avoid selling at the present low prices, and secondly owing to scarcity of money grain sacks cannot be secured. The codlin moth has done injurious work lately, which is shown by the unusual number of falling apples. High winds, which occurred on the 17th, 18th, and 19th, shook off great quantities; many are being shipped to market. Dry weather has caused the grass on the range to fall and as a consequence stock are not doing well. The hay crop, with exception of the second crop of alfalfa, has been secured.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

They poulticed her feet and poulticed her head, and blistered her back till 'twas a smarting and red. Tried tonics, citrins, pain-killers and salves, (though grandma declared it was nothing but 'nerves.') And the poor woman thought she must certainly die. 'Till 'Favorite Prescription' she happened to try. 'No wonder its praises so loudly they speak, she grew better at once and was well in a week.

The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany, at times, certain forms of "female weakness," yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman. It allays and subdues the nervous symptoms and relieves the pain accompanying functional and organic troubles.

It's a legitimate medicine—an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a positive remedy for "female weaknesses" and ailments. All functional disturbances, irregularities, and derangements are cured by it. There's nothing like it in the way it acts—there's nothing like it in the way it's sold. It's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

Read the guarantee on the wrapper. You lose nothing if it doesn't help you—but it will.

Gentlemen: On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 38 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are yours, MR. & MRS. THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and water-falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
