HAS A FAMILY OF 2000 READERS.

They read The Chronicle to get the latest and most reliable news. And they read every line that is in the paper. That is what makes the Chronicle an invaluable advertising medium. The newspaper that goes to the family firesides is the one that the advertisers of today patronize when they desire to reach the people. When they want your trade their announcements will be found in the paper. Look over our columns and observe the verification of the truth of this assertion. Remember, a trade of a family of two thousand is worth asking for through these columns, especially so at our very

THE DALLES OREGON

A SEED BY THE WAYSIDE.

BY JENNIE STERIK

Sweet and low, sang a cripple one day,
She knew not a sinner was passing that way.
Oh come wanderer, come, there is mercy for thee.
He died on the cross to save you and me.
Oh come, he is waiting to bring you back home.
His arms are extended, come, poor sinner, come.
The sinner passed on with his dull heavy tread,
How sweet those words, to himself he said.
I heard them many long years ago
When my heart was as pure as the drifting snow.
He sighed as he said, I am straying from home,
And the voice still repeated, come, poor sinner, come.
He plodded his way far into the night,
The stars of heaven were shining so bright.
Oh could I but hear that voice singing once more,
Of the home where all sighing and sadness are o'er.
Then the voice of an angel from the bright, happy home,
Repeated the chorus, come, poor sinner, come.
He folded his hands on his still throbbing breast,
And dropped on his knees on the snow's frozen crest.
Then turning his face toward the heavens above,
His prayer waited up to the Father of love.
Oh savior, I'm coming, Thou hast died on the tree,
To save the poor sinner, Oh save even me.
Then the Father above heard the voice of his child,
And opened the window of heaven and smiled.
Then up sprang the sinner, his sorrow had flown,
He sang with the angels, Oh come, sinner, come.
The watchman who heard as he plodded along,
Paused but a moment to hear the old song.
And said, 'Tis a voice from the realm above,
Each word is so filled with heavenly love.
A tear stole its way down his cheek cold and brown,
As he thought of the years which forever had flown.
The cripple who knelt in her cottage alone,
Said Lord, bless the seed if any I've sown.
While the angels rejoiced round the throne up above,
For a poor, lost sinner had come home to God.

More News.

'Mrs. Strong has been very sick, but is better now.
Mr. Damon will move into his new residence this week.
Mr. L. Moore is building a residence for Mr. Buckley at Graes Valley.
Johnson and Adams commenced heading M. D. Adams' grain yesterday.
Heading is progressing nicely and some of the threshers will start up this week.
Mr. Peddicord moved into his new home yesterday, and the Slater Bros. have commenced work on J. B. Mowry's new residence.
Mr. J. W. Peddicord's new residence is completed and makes a very pretty appearance located among the trees in the grove west of town. The Slater Bros. know just how to finish off a house to make it look pretty and artistic.
Mowry's header finished harvesting for Mr. Garlick Saturday afternoon. He also harvested Mr. Boyd's and Mr. Strong's grain, averaging over thirty acres per day on the three crops. He is now cutting his own grain.
While Frank Mowry, the 12-year-old son of J. B. Mowry, was riding after the horses yesterday, his horse stumbled and fell, throwing him off and bruising his head and side quite seriously. The shock blinded him for quite a while so he was unable to see where he was going. He is getting along nicely and will probably be more careful next time. Don.

THE DALLES

Wasco County, - - - Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

THE DALLES CHRONICLE,

Daily and Weekly Editions.

It now leads all other publications in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, a large part of Crook, Morrow and Grant counties, as well as Klickitat and other regions north of The Dalles, hence it is the best medium for advertisers in the Inland Empire.

The DAILY CHRONICLE is published every evening in the week Sundays excepted at $6.00 per annum. The WEEKLY CHRONICLE on Fridays of each week at $1.50 per annum.
