AUGUST ANGLINGS.

Small Fry Hooked by Persistent Chronicle Reporters.

Sir Walter Raleigh used his coat to keep his fair queen dry. If he had lived today he might have used his summer tie.

There is a great scarcity of sacks to handle the wheat crop, and they are very high.

A reduction in wages from $2.50 to $2.25 caused the drillers at the Cascades to quit work recently.

Forty-seven car loads of peaches were sold at auction in Boston on the 17th for a song. "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

A number of towns in eastern Oregon have recently been visited by fakirs and a number of the unsuspecting class have been taken in.

Wm. Miller of Lane county put the first hops of 1893 on the market. They were purchased by Meeker, Saturday at 25 cents per pound.

The river route is the most popular one to Portland this season. The Steamer Regulator is carrying a large passenger list both ways daily.

J. Folco has presented THE CHRONICLE with a case of excellent soda, manufactured by himself. There is "nothing the matter with it," and its effervescence is as lively as a Chicago zephyr.

The howling and yelling which occurs every few nights in the main part of the city up to 12 and 1 o'clock, keeping peaceable citizens from needed rest, is disgraceful, and should be summarily stopped.

The Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, of Portland, will start for The Dalles Sunday evening, September 3d, to attend the firemen's tournament. The boys decided to go in full uniform and take their old hand engine.

Several more were caught on the pin racket this forenoon. They had seen the article about it in THE CHRONICLE, but there was no possibility of their being caught; and in fact were very merry about it until some one pulled the string.

It has been decided to go ahead with the asylum and reform school additions. The bid of J. A. Hazel $40,098 for the additions to the reform school, and of H. C. Liebe $21,344 for the two cottages and the congregated dining hall at the asylum, will be accepted and the work will proceed at once.—Salem Journal.

MARKET REPORT.

No Improvement to Be Noted in Any Commodity.

THURSDAY, Aug. 24.—The trade condition has remained quiet during the week, and as a leading merchant says "there is nothing doing," and more than that, does not improve. The only activity noticed is in the provision and produce lines.

The produce market is in full supply and prices on a downward tendency.

Eggs are steady at last week's quotations but are in demand with an upward tendency.

Butter, gilt edge, is scarce and has a ready sale at 60 cents per roll. Ordinary grade is in fair demand at 50 cents per roll.

Apples are in great abundance and prices range from 40 to 50 cents per box of 45 pounds.

Peaches are a drug on the market and sell at 40 to 60 cents per box of 20 to 25 pounds.

Pears suitable for shipment are quoted at 50 to 65 cents per crate or box. Tomatoes range from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 cents per pound.

Good potatoes are in better demand at former quotations, 75 cents per 100 pounds.

The small fruits are nearly all gone and prices are nominal.

The meat market remains quiet. Old prices on the block are unchanged.

Beef cattle are quotable at 2 to 2 1/4 gross, with a large supply in sight.

Mutton sheep for shipment are in fine condition and a large supply obtainable at prices ranging from $1.75 to $2.00 per head.

The reports from the grain market are anything but encouraging. Foreign advices indicate a dull and weak condition and in our American grain centers, the same situation is reported. Our coast market is lifeless, and has no evidence of an immediate change for an improvement.

Portland quotes Valley wheat at $1 to $1.02, and Eastern Oregon at $1.07 1/2 to $1.09, per cbl. Sacks are scarce and are dear, prices ranging from 6 1/4 for second hand, to 8 1/4 for Calcuttas, spot cash in this market. There is no market price settled on for grain by our dealers. The mills have bought one small lot on private terms, otherwise it is truly lifeless at present.

The wool situation has not changed any for the past few weeks. The old cry, the stringency in money matters, and free trade, keeps it in a lifeless state, and consequently there is no movement except on consignment.

Endorsed by the Press.

In this skeptical age statements made before being credited are generally inquired into. People are always found (some one said) on the side where their interest lies. In view of the last named truth an endorsement from one who is not interested should be of double value, hence the following frank statement should be read with interest.

GENTLEMEN:—This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules with satisfactory results. I bought a box which cost me 25 cents and one capsule cured me of dreadful sick headache. My wife and myself have both used the medicines manufactured by the Norman Lighty Mfg Co. and we recommend them to the public as being just what they are represented. Respectfully,

W. J. HUTCHINSON, Ed. Gazette, Pleasant Hill, Mo. Tygh Valley Roller Flour Mill.

Is in complete repair; always in store flour equal to the best. Also old style coarse and fine Graham flour, mill feed, etc.

W. M. McCORKLE, Prop. No. 111.3m. Mexican Silver Stove Polish causes no dust.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. W. Peddicord and J. B. Mowry are in the city from Moro.

Capt. Haynes has left for the east where he intends to remain.

Mr. T. H. Johnston, a leading merchant of Dufur, is in the city today.

Mr. John Blaser and family returned last evening from an outing near the Cascades.

Mr. Jas. Frazer left this morning to join his family who are camping near Glenwood.

Mr. Aleck Henderson left this morning for White Salmon and will visit his mother, Mrs. J. R. Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hinkle departed for Glenwood, Wash., this morning, where they will join the Adams party, who are camping near that place, which is in the vicinity of Mt. Adams.

Michigan Valley Items.

Harvest is in full blast. A. B. Fairchild has been on the sick list but is convalescing.

Krusov and Oldes will soon complete their cut of several hundred acres.

R. E. French, the rustling insurance agent, is doing good work for the State Salem Co.

Harvey Smith and Perrault Bros. have settled a land contest and all parties shake hands.

Crops in this vicinity bid fair to be an average, but uncertainty about prices cause us to go slow.

French Bros. are working a full force with the C. R. Cummings header with a thousand acres to cover.

Perrault Bros. are nicely started on their cut of one thousand acres with their new Hedges header.

Miss Josie Spink has recently closed a successful term of school in this district and returned to her home in The Dalles.

Heath Bros. are in the field with a C. R. Cummings and have cut about five hundred acres with five hundred more to cut.

Now Mr. Editor, if this finds its way into your columns, and Grover does not cut our raw material too close, we may come again.

Gilliam & Smith are feeding the community on the choicest cuts of steak and roasts and are putting in large stock scales at Grass Valley.

Holder and Marquis are also in the field with a C. R. Cummings cutting the golden grain, and several others in the near vicinity but space forbids further mention.

Soon the threshers will be in full motion and as our harvest is about three weeks late, all will find plenty to do, both male and female, until the crop is cut, threshed and hauled to market.

This scope of country lies to the south of Grass Valley and in it lives (in ordinary times) several prosperous farmers, but since Grover occupies the chair a feeling of doubt prevails amongst us, but while Grover lives we live also.

GENTLE ANNA.

EFFECT OF A BLOW.

Marcus Vanbibber Loses His Reason, But Not His Power to Act.

Marcus Vanbibber, son of W. H. Vanbibber, received an injury from being thrown from a horse yesterday, the details of which may never be known. Early in the afternoon he rose from where he was lying on a couch in the parlor and mounted his horse to join John Allen, who was "in swimming." After joining Allen he changed his mind and rode away again. Three-quarters of an hour later he again reappeared and Allen noticed that he talked incoherently. Asked if he was thrown, Vanbibber replied that he did not know, and other answers, as well as his conversation generally, showed that his mind was affected. Allen noticed a spot of blood on his chin, but Marcus did not know how it came there. It was apparent that he had been thrown, and remounted the horse again. A later examination showed that he had been struck on the back of the head, and while not depriving him of the power of action, produced a lapse of the reasoning powers. It is hoped his mental soundness will soon be restored, and there is every reason to believe it will be.

The brain and the forces which direct and control it will always furnish material for psychologists to puzzle upon. An instance is recorded where a pupil who had just graduated was struck on the head, causing him to forget his entire education, including even the alphabet. He started in again for a second education, differing from his former course in several important particulars, taking up studies he had before not done, and dropping others he had previously learned. At this time he received another blow in the same place, and lost his second education while the first returned to him. It is not supposed the case of Marcus Vanbibber will be anything similar, but it shows that he has received a blow which affects him by the same mysterious law.

CAUGHT BY AN INDIAN.

A Tramp Found in Possession of Burglarized Articles.

J. H. Bennett, who lives at the mouth of the Des Chutes river in Sherman county, lost a number of articles on the 17th, by the house being burglarized. The burglar, evidently fearing capture, concealed himself and his stolen property in an unused scow and yesterday, putting such as he could carry in a sack, started in the direction of The Dalles. In the pack was a gun, the muzzle of which sticking out, attracted the attention of an Indian who at once struck him for a trade. It so happened that the Indian had frequently been at Bennett's house, and knew Bennett's things almost as well as he did himself. When the sack was opened the Indian thrust his arm in and was rewarded by cutting his hand upon a stolen butcher knife. The Indian then noticed a violin, pair of shoes, hair clipper, halter and bridle, all of which he knew was Bennett's property. The thief supposed the Indian merely wanted to trade, but not so. As soon as possible he informed Sheriff Ward, and at 10 o'clock last night Deputies Phirman and Jackson walked up the track and met him coming in, when he was promptly nabbed. He looked quite crestfallen, and it was apparent that he was no more looking for officers than he was his great grandmother.

Other articles stolen were a set of carpenter's tools and harness, but these had been disposed of in some way and their whereabouts are not at present known.

When the defendant was arraigned this morning before Justice Schutz he gave his name as Thos. Gilbert, and said he had no home. He is very seedy and has every appearance of a tramp. He was not represented by an attorney and was given a chance to make a statement.

He said he went aboard the scow on the 13th and found the articles contained in the sack there. He let them remain until yesterday when he took them to where the Indian met him. Said he passed Bennett's house and was told the telegraph operator lived there and that he had been robbed and a murder committed.

The above statement seems wholly irrelevant to the case, and will do but little to establish Gilbert's innocence. He was remanded to jail and the case will come before the grand jury.

The State Fair.

A meeting of the state board of agriculture has been called by President Apperson, at Salem today, to discuss the advisability of abandoning the state fair this year. When this fact became known yesterday to several prominent business men of Portland, they all pronounced it a great mistake to even think of taking such a step. The farmers are really in good shape this year, and the opinion was that the abandonment of the fair would add to the general gloom and cause the farmers to believe that they are in as bad condition as business men generally, when the fact is, that they are today better off than any other class of people. Everybody in Portland who has expressed any opinion in regard to the fair is emphatically in favor of its being held. In thirty years the state fair has not been omitted for a single year.—Oregonian.
