SICK-HEADACHE
Makes life miserable. All other ailments are as nothing in comparison. Women especially know its suffering, and few escape its torture,
THE RELIEF AND CURE IS
SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR
Many people take pills, which gripe and purge, weakening the body. More take Simmons Liver Regulator, liquid or powder, because more pleasant to take, does not gripe, and is a mild laxative, that also tones up the system. The relief is quick. It is Nature's own remedy, purely vegetable.
"I never found anything to do me any good until I used Simmons Liver Regulator. It has been three years since I first used it and I have not had Sick Headache since. I sent my sister (who had from one to two attacks of Sick Headache every week) one-half of a package, and she has not had it since."—C. S. MORRIS, Brownsville, W. Va.

THE HOME PAPER
The Dalles Evening Chronicle is recognized as essentially the home paper for the Dalles City folks. This is not a bad reputation. Some 2,000 of our best citizens watch the columns of this paper daily for the spiciest local news. It succeeds in pleasing the field, and hence grows in popularity and importance. Take it awhile, you who don't try some of its premium offers.

A ROYALIST SCHEME
Attempt to Oust the Provisional Government.
WAS DISCOVERED JUST IN TIME
Admiral Skerrett Was All Ready to Interfere—The Boston's Crew Under Arms.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—By steamer this morning the following news from Honolulu, under date of Aug. 24, was received:
Since the last writing there has been more or less agitation and excitement here. Last Thursday evening the government was in possession of a large number of facts which pointed to an attempt, long threatened, of unseating the provisional government. It is understood that Marshal Hitchcock had sufficient evidence to connect the Ashford brothers with the scheme. At about 8 P. M. that evening Attorney-General Smith called on Admiral Skerrett, and in an unofficial manner laid the facts before him. The admiral said nothing, but immediately sent orders aboard the United States ship Boston to have a battalion ready to land on fifteen minutes' notice. The ship was under arms all night, and the men were deprived of shore liberty for several days thereafter. The government was not aware of the admiral's action until the next day. No outbreak took place, but Admiral Skerrett evidently showed he did not intend to allow the peace and quiet of the country to be disturbed. The provisional government is highly pleased at Skerrett's prompt action without their request, and the Americans claim it outlines the future policy to be pursued toward the provisional government in case its existence is threatened. Several facts were back of the admiral's action. One was a proposition to have the ex-queen raise her standard on the island of Manui, which would call the troops from Honolulu and give the royalists a chance to seize the governments. Another was that the conspirators would explode dynamite and fire buildings in Honolulu, and would seize the government during the confusion. The government was in no way alarmed and had not expected Admiral Skerrett to interfere. The military had been warned and special orders were issued to 500 reserves, who could have been rallied in twenty minutes. Admiral Skerrett has since admitted that he acted entirely on his own authority. The opinion prevails here that had the Boston's troops landed, the stars and stripes would have gone up again never to be lowered. When asked the direct question, Admiral Skerrett would not deny this interpretation of his action. The royalists deny that any outbreak was contemplated, but the facts in possession of Admiral Skerrett and the provisional government point very strongly the other way, and are believed to have been serious enough to justify action had any movement been made.

Saved From a Watery Grave.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Seven men, who thanked God they felt land again beneath their feet, went ashore yesterday from the bark Tillid, when she arrived from Fernandina, Fla. They were Captain McDonald and the crew of the schooner Annie S. Conant, which was wrecked and abandoned at sea. They had been afloat for three days on a deckhouse, without food or drink, with the waves dashing over them all the time. The Tillid, early last Friday morning, was in lat. 25, long. 73:14, or about sixty-two miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, when she sighted an apparently abandoned wreck to the eastward. There was no sign of life on it, but as the wreck lay right in the path of the sun, the Tillid held her course for a short time until a better view of the wreck could be secured. The mate presently made out human forms on the deckhouse. The wind was ugly, and after tacking for four hours, the Tillid got to windward of the wreck at noon. The wreck was a bad one. The rigging of the ship had all been carried away. The decks were washed with the sea. On the afterhouse, which was the only thing completely above water, was collected seven famished and almost distracted men. The mate of the Tillid and one seaman were sent in a dory to take off the crew. Two trips were made, and in a short time seven men, two dogs and a cat had been transferred from the wallowing hulk to the deck of the Tillid. They proved to be Captain McDonald, his mate and steward and seaman Chas. Girard, and three other sailors answering to the name of Philip, Frank and Embalmers' Discovery.

Recently, an Eastern embalmer came to Portland, where he was employed by an undertaking firm here. Since his arrival he has made a discovery which he claims is far in advance of the ancient Egyptian process of embalming. The embalmer states that during the past month he accidentally stumbled upon the formula for an embalming fluid that thoroughly petrifies a body in a fortnight's time. His formula yet remains a secret, but he practically illustrated the veracity of his statement.
He took the reporter to an apartment in the rear of the wareroom, where the dead for shipment to other points are temporarily deposited. There were two bodies in the room, one of a white man and the other that of a Chinese. The former had been embalmed about three weeks; its features were as natural as in life, without its natural color, and from the crown of the head to the soles the entire figure was as solid and unimpressionable as a piece of sculptured marble. The Chinaman, on the other hand, had undergone the process 10 days only, yet his was as rigid as the other body, it had not arrived at that solid degree of petrification. The face and body felt like tough gutta percha. Both bodies could be put on their feet and stand upright without support.—Telegram.

Little Did He Care.
A Vancouver Frenchman Glad to Be Rid of His Erring Wife.
WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 30.—Napoleon Soutier and Marie Louise Liberty left by the Great Northern this afternoon for San Francisco via Seattle. Soutier is a gay young fellow, prominent among a few French families of Vancouver, while Marie Louise is the handsome young wife of M. Liberty, proprietor of the Sherman house in that city. The pair eloped from Vancouver last night, came here and put up at the Queene hotel. Liberty learned of the direction they had taken, followed them, and with a police officer went to the room in the hotel where the couple were, and surprised them in flagrante delicto. There was a great hubbub, the guilty pair expecting to be instantly shot, but Liberty, though a Frenchman, is not fiery, and, calmly surveying the pair, told them to make themselves comfortable. In fear and trembling they took his advice. Liberty then quietly informed the couple that they were free to act as they pleased, and go where they would, so long as he was not annoyed by his wife in the future. In fact, if they had not money enough to carry them to their intended destination in the United States, he would not mind assisting them financially. He had only one stipulation to make, namely, that they return to him his gold-headed cane, watch and silk umbrella, which Mrs. Liberty had taken on her departure. The guilty pair gladly agreed to return the articles mentioned, and Liberty, after wishing them a pleasant good night, left the room.

Over 5,000 tons of wheat are now ready for shipment from the Eureka flat country, Wash., and it will be shipped as fast as the 200 cars required can be supplied. All will be moved inside of thirty days.
Robert Reid was found dead on the mountain this afternoon about two miles southeast of Wickwasha. He was lying in an open place in the woods on a little knoll with a bullet hole in his head, evidently a case of accidental shooting.
At Colfax a well caved in on Fred Kasdorf and William Hughes. Hughes was entirely buried, but the rescuers uncovered his head in time to prevent suffocation. His hips were crushed and legs bruised. Doctors fear he is hurt internally and cannot recover. Kasdorf escaped with bruises.

Hattie Stratton, an accomplished young woman of Port Angeles, was arrested on the steamer City of Kingston from Victoria with nine pounds of opium in her possession. She made frequent trips between Puget sound ports and British Columbia lately, which prompted Custom Officer Learned to approach her and ask if she had any opium concealed on her person. She replied in the affirmative and produced eighteen cans of opium from the folds of her dress. She was released on $150 bonds. Miss Stratton belongs to a highly respectable family in Port Angeles, who it is said are having difficulty to raise money to pay for a lot on the government reserve, and the girl went into the smuggling business, unknown to her parents, to earn the money.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Boam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. I cured both of them. I knew of several cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists, 1m.

The standard of female loveliness varies greatly in different countries and with individual tastes. Some prefer the plump and buxom type; some admire the slender and sylph-like, and some the tall and queenly maiden. But among all people of the Caucasian race, one point of beauty is always admired—a pure, clear and spotless complexion—whether the female be of the blonde, brunette, or hazel-eyed type. This first great requisite of loveliness can be assured only by a pure state of the blood, active liver, good appetite and digestion, all of which are secured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is guaranteed to accomplish all that is claimed for it, or money refunded. If you would have a clear, lovely complexion, free from eruptions, moth patches, spots and blemishes, use the "Golden Medical Discovery."
