OUT OF THE FRYING PAN
Has come not a little knowledge as to cookery—what to do, as well as what not to do. Thus we have learned to use COTTOLENE, the most pure and perfect cooking material for all frying and shortening purposes. PROGRESSIVE COOKING is the natural outcome of the age, and it teaches us not to use lard, but rather the new shortening, COTTOLENE, which is far cleaner, and more digestible than any lard can be. The success of Cottoleone has called out worthless imitations under similar names. Look out for these! Ask your Grocer for COTTOLENE, and be sure that you get it.

SILVER MEN HOPEFUL
The Majority for Repeal Will Be Small.
THERE MAY BE A COMPROMISE
Will Be a Stubborn Fight in the Senate
—The New House Rules Adopted.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—A senator prominent as an opponent of repeal has placed the majority of the repealers at 8, but declares the vote on that provision will be indefinitely postponed. He thinks there may be many opportunities to secure a compromise in the amendment stages. It is intimated there is a strong possibility for a revival of the Bland-Allison law. It is coming to be apparent that the opponents of the Voorhees bill have a better organization than was supposed by the friends of the measure, and they are beginning to realize the battle will be stubbornly fought and every move on their part resisted. The silver men openly allege that Voorhees' reason for withdrawing his 11-o'clock resolution was a fear he would be beaten in a vote on it.
New House Rules Adopted.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The house has adopted the new code of rules without division, and adjourned until Saturday.
EXCLUSION TO BE ENFORCED.
That is the Determination of President Cleveland.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The administration has fully determined to enforce the Geary Chinese exclusion act. There is no longer any doubt on this point. Representative Geary was told so yesterday by Assistant Secretary Hamlin, by Secretary Carlisle and by President Cleveland. Geary first had a long conference with Hamlin and Carlisle. This conference was held before the cabinet meeting. When this meeting was over, Geary called upon President Cleveland at the White House by appointment arranged with the president by Secretary Carlisle. The president asked Geary very many questions, and was earnest in trying to get at all the facts in connection with the law and its effect in every section, and especially on the Pacific coast. The president indicated that he never had any intention of allowing the law to become a dead letter. He seemed to realize fully that the administration could ill afford to neglect to enforce a law passed by congress and declared constitutional by the United States supreme court. The upshot of the conferences is that the question will come up for full discussion at a cabinet meeting, when the policy of the administration will be determined fully. Geary said last night that he had no fear of the result. It is more than likely that the money now available in the treasury will be used to pay the expenses of deportation of the convicted Celestials just as far as it will go, and by the time it is used a further amount necessary will be provided by congressional appropriation. This appropriation, it is believed, can be secured from congress, especially if the president favors it, and there seems no doubt now that he will.

W. C. ALLAWAY, G. A.
Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was the Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. NEWS NOTES.
The case of the People vs. Chris Evans has been set for trial on October 30th. Evans is to be tried for the murder of Wilson and McGinnis at Young's cabin last September.
John Austin, postmaster at Agua Caliente, Calif., was arrested for opening other persons' letters and also detaining them in his office instead of delivering them when called for by the owners.
In the Welsh Eisteddfod at the world's fair in the competition for choruses of male voices for prizes of $1,000 and $1,500, seven choirs competed, each choir numbering from 50 to 60 voices.
Mrs. H. E. Austin, a school teacher near Stockton, was held up by a lone highwayman and robbed. She told her husband, who pursued the fellow and was shot three times for his pains. Officers are now in pursuit.
One incident of the Peary expedition will be the birth of a child. Late in September Mrs. Peary is expected to become a mother. The infant will be the first white child born in that latitude. In fact, it will be born further north than the habitation of any human being of the present day.
The southwestern express on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, which left here at 8:25 last evening, was held up by three men about 35 miles west of St. Louis. The robbers blew up the express car with dynamite. Three men, believed to be the robbers, were later arrested in Cuba, Mo.

NEWS OF THE STATE.
Dr. Mehama, of Sunnyside, president of the Mount Hood Railway company, has gone to Eastern Oregon in the interest of the company. He has great faith in the enterprise.
Schiller Hermann, son of Hon. Binger Hermann, who has been attending school in the east for several months, has returned from Washington. After a brief visit at Roseburg he will go to Myrtle Point to engage in business.
It is supposed that a man by the name of Lewis, residing on Lost creek, nine miles above McKenzie bridge, is lost in the mountains or has wandered away. Parties who went into his house Friday found his dining table set as if for several days, but nothing had been touched.
Last Saturday a large bear visited Mr. Willis' place on Willow creek, Crook county, played with the calves for a while, then departed for the mountains. There being no men on the place at the time, he had his own way, while Mrs. Willis was an interested observer of his antics, though she observed him from the house, not caring to venture out and dispute his right of possession.
Mitchell Notes.
Mitchell is almost lost in the dense smoke that comes from fires in the mountains that have been burning there for more than a week.
Many are complaining of general debility, but none are seriously ill. They cannot afford to be sick enough to require a doctor; times are too hard.
J. A. Taylor and family gave Mitchell a hasty call one day this week. When they returned they took with them their son and daughter, Cecil and Barrette, who had been visiting at their grandparents for some weeks.
One day last week E. E. Allens missed a fire only by chance. Their two youngest children and S. F. Allen's little son had found a block of matches, and thought to have a little amusement by building a fire in the middle of a bed. They put quite an armful of chips and sticks first and then touched their matches to them, which burned very rapidly, and would have consumed everything, had it not been discovered before it had had time to do more than to make almost a complete wreck of the bed.
C. A. Cline of Prineville was with us all last week, deranging the nerves of suffering people by drawing and filling teeth. He also had several orders for complete sets of dental plates.
The beginning is here. Where 'will be the end. Although Bridge creek has been one of the most prosperous districts of Crook county, it has at last been drawn into the financial whirlpool which threatens to engulf it. Merchants have decidedly refused to credit; an act, although justified, place many in serious positions.
Sleep camp-tenders report summer range growing very dry and grass very short, which is a little unusual for this time of the year.
Mr. James Oaks seems to have entirely recovered from a severe case of tonsillitis with which he was afflicted the past week or two.

WISHING ON A FALLING STAR.
A Gallican Legend Which Gives the Origin of the Custom.
Here and there in the highways and byways of the world many legends and superstitions still linger and continue to retain their ancient prestige. In Galicia, the province northeast of Hungary, the peasants believe that when a star falls to earth it is at once transformed into a rarely beautiful woman with long hair, blonde and glittering. This splendid creature, miraculously engendered, exercises on all who come in contact with her a magical influence. Every handsome youth unfortunate enough to attract her attention becomes her victim. Thus having allured them to her, she encircles them with her arms in an embrace that becomes gradually tighter and tighter until the poor dupes are strangled to death. If certain words are murmured the moment the star starts to fall they cause her allurements to lose their power. From this superstition springs the custom of wishing while a star is seen hurrying through the air, a wish said surely to come true if completely formulated before the light is extinguished. The Spaniards saw in the falling stars the souls of their dead friends, the thread of whose existence was cut short by destiny. The Arabs thought these stars to be burning stones thrown by the angels on to the heads of devils who attempted to enter paradise.
