THE DALLES OREGON

LOST LAKE.

A Very Charming Resort for Pleasure-Loving People.

Right here let me try to describe the lake.

It is triangular in shape. The east shore does not lack much of being straight. It runs nearly due north and south. The north shore is even straighter than the east and runs almost east and west. The remaining shore line is longer than either of the others. It runs, of course, from the northwest to the southeast corner. At the middle it curves in toward the center of the lake, while at both ends it curves out, making a beautiful contrast with the other straight lines. The only bluff to be seen is a small one near the southeast corner of the lake. From the center of the lake, where the water is said to be 200 feet deep, the land slopes up gradually in all directions. At very few places is the water two feet deep within two or three yards of the shore. On the side next to the camp ground a person can wade out about a hundred yards, but forty feet beyond, where the water becomes too deep for wading, it takes pretty good diving to reach bottom.

The floor of Lost Lake is nicely carpeted with gravel for quite a distance in from the shore. A sort of fresh water moss, or grass, grows here and there in the gravel. Nice green grass grows down to the very edge of the water, and just back are buckieberry and other bushes. Just back of the bushes and towering above them in proportion as they rise above the grass, are mountain ash, fir, hemlock, great cedar and pine trees. One only has to walk back from the shore a few yards from any given point to find himself in a great forest of beautiful timber. The evergreen hills rise up gradually from the lake shore for hundreds of feet, and some of them for miles, and as the lake is nearly always calm and smooth, anyone can imagine the beauty of the scene.

When our party of fifteen arrived at the camp ground we found that place entirely unoccupied, but the next day we were joined by other parties. The first company to join us came about noon, and consisted of Misses Bertha Copple, Lucy O'Dell, Minnie McCoy, and Messrs. W. O'Dell, R. A. Copple and M. D. O'Dell. Those who arrived in the afternoon were Orval Knox, Jack Lenz, W. S. Divers, Geo. Stranahan, Jas. Stranahan and Charlie Wallace.

We intended going on to Chitwood lake in a few days, but as the fires in the mountains filled the atmosphere with smoke and spoiled the beautiful views we were going to have, the writer concluded to have the balance of his promised trip some other time. He, therefore, started back to the valley on the afternoon of August 31st. Those whom he met on their way to Lost Lake were D. H. Sears and wife, Monta Duke, Willie, Anna, Gladys and Nellie Sears, Henry Reice, Miss Clara West, Mr. Smith, and a lady from Cloud Cap Inn. Some of those found camping and fishing on the west fork were A. L. Phelps, Rowley and Arkeley Lindsey Phelps, Geo. Crowley and family, Mrs. Henry Howe and little boy and J. H. Duke, wife and daughter.

The next time we go to Lost Lake we want to take along a liberal supply of mosquito bars, mosquito fly paper, or something else to interest the dear little creatures, yellow jacket nets, fish hooks, etc., and have another good time.

GENTLEMEN—Enclosed please find postal note for $1.00 for Kraus's Headache Capsules. Allow me to say that they are splendid, never failed to cure my headache and save me a world of suffering. I am recommending them every where. The druggists of Aberdeen, Hecla and Britton, Marshall county, all promised me to get them and keep them in stock. I am going to Colorado in June, and I shall do you good there among the miners, nearly all of whom suffer from headaches in that high altitude. Yours, etc., J. H. FLETCHER, Lieut. Gov., South Clara, S. Dak.

THE DALLES
Wasco County, Oregon.
The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.
ITS TERRITORY.
It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.
The Largest Wool Market.
The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.
The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.
ITS PRODUCTS.
The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.
The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.
ITS WEALTH.
It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.
Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

THE DALLES CHRONICLE,
Daily and Weekly Editions.
THE CHRONICLE was established for the express purpose of faithfully representing The Dalles and the surrounding country, and the satisfying effect of its mission is everywhere apparent. It now leads all other publications in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, a large part of Crook, Morrow and Grant counties, as well as Klickitat and other regions north of The Dalles, hence it is the best medium for advertisers in the Inland Empire.
The DAILY CHRONICLE is published every evening in the week Sundays excepted at $6.00 per annum. The WEEKLY CHRONICLE on Fridays of each week at $1.50 per annum.

And THE CHRONICLE proposes to enliven them by introducing its newsy presence into every home in Wasco County.

OUR Circulation must be doubled, and to do this we propose to furnish the Weekly Edition for the balance of this year and one year beyond for the already low price of $1.50. A year and a third--16 months--makes a GREAT amount of the very best reading matter, comprising besides the world's news, valuable information on all subjects, and especially for the stock-raiser, the farmer and the orchardist, and is the best medium for exposing our resources to the world. If this OFFER is not enough, our plan to issue the Weekly in instalments of twice a week, should make your decision favorable at once. Sunday's, Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's NEWS gets stale by Saturday night, and hereafter the Weekly Chronicle Part I. will reach you Wednesday evening, and Part II on Saturday evening.

FOR The extra trouble and expense connected with this effort to please, which is considerable, we look to an appreciative public for the approval we are sure it will give us. While we would be glad of subscription money in advance it is not necessarily enforced. Subscribe NOW for 1894 And get the benefit of this special rate, which is practically for the
