It was while speaking of the course recommended by the president anent the purchasing clause of the Sherman act that the most stubborn of Stewarts expressed this opinion of Cleveland: "I am now an old man," said Senator Sherman, "and perhaps I have taken on the narrow-mindedness of age. It is hard for me to believe that any democrat can be a patriot. I lived through a hard and trying period in our country's history, when we republicans came to look upon all democrats as traitors and enemies of the government. That belief has remained with me as the years have gone by, and I repeat it is not easy for me to see perfect goodness in one of the democratic persuasion. But no one," continued Senator Sherman, in a voice of impressive gravity, "no one can view the conduct of Grover Cleveland without being convinced of the greatness and goodness of the man. His integrity, his fearlessness, his gifts of mind must be plain to anyone not utterly blinded by partisanship. Cleveland, is, perhaps, the broadest-minded man that ever sat in a president's chair. Beyond any of his predecessors he has the courage and the faculty of pushing all cabal and intrigue aside and of addressing himself directly to the people. Friends, personal following, party, are nothing to him compared to the welfare of the people. With my natural distrust of all democrats I might be tempted to look upon this phase of Cleveland's conduct merely as a bit of the ablest of politics, but in honesty I must admit that I have watched this man in all the crises of the national life in which he has had a part, and I cannot shake off the conviction of his superb abilities and his magnificent patriotism.

Much dissatisfaction prevails because no American woman has received a premium in art at the world's fair. It is claimed that this is unjust, as even in Paris she claimed a share of the honors. The board of lady managers is blamed as well as the other judges. The fact is, too many American paintings have been accepted, and as a large number of these are below the standard of high art, they tried to lessen the excellence of the best in the eye of the critics. There is nothing to do, however, but submit gracefully to the inevitable.

The hotheads who are howling for a commercial division of the United States need to be reminded that this country isn't going to divide either on commercial, sectional or racial lines. The country is one, solid and indivisible, and those who seek to divide it should remember the luck of those who have tried the same thing before. The United States will remain just as they are; standing when united, fall when divided.

Twenty national banks suspended in Colorado and seventeen of them have resumed. Not so bad a showing for a state where the New York Commercial Advertiser advised the people to quit mining and go to raising goats.

OLD-TIME RIVER TRADE.

Everybody Used to Depend Wholly on Steamboat Transportation.
 One of the most difficult problems the old citizen can be asked to solve is the present position of the river toward the commerce of the city. A quarter of a century ago, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, it was everything. It was both the feeding and distributing artery. People engaged in building, locating for life, could see prosperity only near its waters. Advised that business would soon be going west they could only respond by the question: "Do you see that river? Is it going to move?" Created avenues of trade were just beginning to receive attention, due to the rivalry of other points which were not blessed with a natural highway. The possession of this nature-given avenue of commerce had, in fact, made the average St. Louisian neglectful and disdainful of the created avenue. Life that did not begin and end on the river was not worth talking about. The man who wanted to go to Cairo, Memphis, Vicksburg or New Orleans never thought of rail. The palatial river steamboat was the accepted means of travel. People going east, even, at one time took a river steamer to Alton. The levee front was the scene of nine-tenths of the life and activity of the city. The "runner" was the most persistent and irresistible of his class. He "ran" for the steamer as well as the hotel. He would almost kidnap a person to get him to his steamer or to his hotel. The latter-day cabman is nothing to be compared to him. And so with the merchant who had a pound or a ton of freight to ship. It must go by river—by boat or barge. Those were great days for St. Louis. Railroad was undeveloped in the west and southwest and northwest and twenty-one states and territories were reached by water.

"It makes me tired!"
 People ask me—is marriage a failure? Of course 'tain't; s'pose I don't know my biz—what am I here for? If the women only keep healthy they keep in good spirits and cupid is in demand. Let every enfeebled woman know this—there's a remedy that'll cure her, the proof's positive.
 Here's the proof—if it doesn't do you good within reasonable time, report the fact to its makers and get your money back without a word—but you won't do it!
 The remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—and it has proved itself the right remedy in nearly every case of female weakness. It is not a miracle. It won't cure everything—but it has done more to build up enfeebled and broken-down women than any other medicine known.

PROPOSALS
 Flour, Bran and Feed.
 U. S. Indian Service, Warm Springs Agency.

WARM SPRINGS, Crook Co., Or., Aug. 5, 1893.
 Sealed proposals for Flour, Bran and Feed, as the case may be, and delivered to the undersigned at Warm Springs, Oregon, will be received at this agency until 1 o'clock P. M. of Tuesday, September 13, 1893, for furnishing and delivering at the agency about 45,000 lbs. of flour, 20,000 lbs. of bran, and 20,000 lbs. of feed.
 Flour must be either what is known as "straight full stock" or good sound wheat—of the ground down to about 42 lbs. of flour, low grade to be taken out, or it may be what is known as "patent flour," or it may be what is known as "superior" or "extra" flour, in extra strong single or double sacks to weigh 49 lbs. to the sack. Samples of not less than 25 lbs. must be furnished by bidders, said samples to be distinctly marked with the name of the bidder and the number of the sample if more than one is submitted.
 Bran must be of good quality, equal parts bran and shorts mixed, samples of not less than 25 lbs. must be furnished by bidders.
 Feed must be clear barley, fresh rolled, free from dirt and rust; samples of not less than 25 lbs. must be furnished by bidders.
 Delivery.—Of the above there is to be delivered at the agency, 24,000 lbs. of flour, 10,000 lbs. bran, and 10,000 lbs. feed, and at the agency, 21,000 lbs. of flour, 10,000 lbs. bran, and 10,000 lbs. feed. All articles are to be subject to a rigid inspection.
 Proposals must state specifically the proposed price of each article offered for delivery under a contract by the ext., not barrels or tons.
 The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, or any part of any bid if deemed for the best interest of the service.
 Certified checks.—Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or draft upon some United States depository or solvent national bank in the vicinity of the residence of the bidder, made payable to the order of the commissioner of Indian Affairs, for at least five per cent. of the amount of the proposal, which check or draft will be forfeited to the United States in case any bidder or bidders receiving an award shall fail to promptly execute the contract, otherwise to be returned to the bidder.
 Bids accompanied by cash in lieu of a certified check will not be considered.
 For further information as to time of delivery and other particulars, apply to
 J. C. LUCKEY,
 U. S. Indian Agent.

 S. B. MED. MFG. CO., Dufur, Oregon.
 Gentlemen:
 On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 38 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are Yours, Mr. & Mrs. J. F. Ford.
 If you wish to feel fresh and cheerful, and ready for the Spring's work, cleanse your system with the Headache and Liver Cure, by taking two or three doses each week.
 Sold under a positive guarantee.

WINANS
 THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, shady lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 100 square miles of the best cedar and timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and water falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the factories will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be anywhere for fruit and agricultural purposes, and with transportation expenses you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
 See me on the ground address me at Hood River, Wasco County, Oregon.
