—New York Tribune.

Rashochona, or the Jewish new year, began today. Yameepar or the day of tonement, occurs a week from today.
According to the Jewish calendar this is the 5,894th year of the world, dating from Adam.

The subject for this evening at the Christian church will be: "The New Birth, or the Constitutional Method of Admission Into the Kingdom of Christ."
This is one of the most controverted subjects in theology. Don't fail to hear this important subject.

The funeral of Mary Moody took place this morning and was very largely attended. She would have been 8 years old today. Ex-Gov. Moody and wife and Miss Edna Moody of Salem, and Mr. Ralph Moody of Port Townsend were in attendance at the funeral.

The Goldendale press are loud in their denunciation of The Dalles ball team.
Perhaps it would be a wise thing for our ball players to meet them soon on the diamond and beat them by a good score, using none but their own men. They made this a pretext for their crushing defeat a week ago, and they should not have that plea next time.

Prices on wheat still continue to hang slightly close to the zero point. The Dalles can do another good turn this year by making ferrage free. It is needed worse this year than last.— Klickitat Leader. The wish has been complied with. Now if the Klickitat county will fix up her roads, which are said to be in very bad condition, it will be another very good action.

A very pretty banner has just been finished for the Juvenile Temple, which reflects much credit upon Mr. Hardy, who did the painting upon it. It is of ilk, with gilt fringe. On one side appears the words "Juvenile Temple No. 1," and underneath is an open Bible with an eye above it, all within a shield.
Beneath are the initials "T. L. P." and "In God We Trust." The other side gives the Temple's motto, "For God and Home and Every Land," and the date of organization, Jan. 22d, 1892.

Mr. Kellogg's Work.

Mr. Chas. D. Kellogg is simply wonderful. It is utterly impossible to describe his marvelous bird songs. He is a phenomenon and a novelty never dreamed of. Undoubtedly he is without a rival in the world. Because of the peculiar natural construction of his inner mouth, it is highly probable that no other in the entire world can approach the preliminary announcements, raise the expectations of an audience to the level of his actual performance. To one who has not heard the wonderful bird melody of Mr. Kellogg, it is difficult to describe it in language that will not seem like exaggeration. While on the other hand to those who have heard it, even the superlatives will seem tame and inadequate.

Killed By a Bear.

Sheepherders in the vicinity of Dark canyon, near Starkey prairie, report a battle for life which occurred a few days since between an Indian woman and a hungry bear. The squaw was engaged in picking huckleberries and left her pappoose in a shady place among the bushes while she went about her task.
A bear found the child and started to carry it away, doubtless considering that luck had thrown to its lot a very tender morsel. The brave squaw hastened to the defense of her offspring, and attacked the beast with a knife. A fierce fight followed, resulting in the poor woman's death from the claws and teeth of her vicious foe. The child had already been killed.—Oregonian.

OREGON NEWS.

Prineville farmers are holding their wheat, with the intention of waiting till it is worth 75 cents per bushel.

The Oregon National is the first Portland suspended bank to resume. Steps will be taken to soon open the Portland Savings bank.

Willie Lammers, 10 years old, was caught by a belt in the carpenter shop of C. M. Graham, Portland, and dashed against the wall with such force as to crush the whole left side of his body.
He soon died of his injuries.

Capt. Jones has been experimenting with blank cartridges, in view of the Camp Compton disaster. He finds that a paper wad will penetrate an inch board at the distance of a foot, and would inflict fatal wounds at a greater distance.

A man named Gus Carlson, while working with a wood-sawing machine at Fifth and Ankeny streets, met with a fearful accident. In placing a big stick of wood on the machine he slipped in some way and fell against the saw, which cut a gash from the middle of his back around under his arm and across his breast. The lower point of his shoulder blade was cut off, two of his ribs sawed through, and a gash cut in his lungs. It is believed he will die.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Rev. Mr. Hodson of Prineville was in the city yesterday.

Hon. C. M. Cartright of Hay Creek, Crook county, is in the city today.

Mr. T. J. Moffit and son of Sherman county, left on the morning boat for Portland.

Mrs. A. M. Williams and daughter, Miss Grace, returned home last night from a visit to the world's fair and with relatives in Canada. Miss Maie Williams accompanied them to Portland and will return home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland of Heppner are in the city today, and attended the funeral of little Mary Moody.
Rev. W. L. McEwan and wife of Portland were also in attendance. The Rev.
McEwan assisting in the ceremonies at the last sad rites.

Kingsley Items.

Our fall term of school commenced last Tuesday. Professor Haylock is teacher.

Brother Mott preached to quite a large congregation at our school house last Sunday.

The hotel at Kingsley is again open to the public, and is managed by Mrs. E.
L. Boynton.

The grain is turning out as well as expected, and in some cases better. The rain put a stop to all branches of harvesting till the weather clears up.

The neighborhood of Kingsley does not seem to be affected with hard times.
Every man and boy that is willing to work is busy either threshing, heading or stacking grain getting the usual harvest wages.

We had a very heavy rain yesterday evening and last night, doing a considerable damage to poorly stacked grain.
There must have fallen three inches of water. I measured the water in several dishes that stood away from buildings.
They all measured three inches.

U.S.O.

KINGSLEY, Sept. 7, 1893.

It Should Be in Every House

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "la grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr.
King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at Snipes & Kin-ersly's. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.00.

A PISCATORIAL CURIOSITY.

A Fish Humped Like a Cat's Back and Armed With Powerful Teeth.

A curious fish is exhibited at the Umatilla house today, several of which were caught in the wheels this morning.
A very prominent hump exists on the back, rising in a steep pitch just back of the head. It has no scales, and in color is a blue black with markings of olive brown, has white belly and spots near the tail, while the finny part of the tail is speckled. It is not thought to be related to the salmon family, as there are no features which resemble it. The mouth is sharp and wide, the back lacks one fin, and the meat is of a pinkish white color. The specimen shown weighs ten pounds, breadth nine inches and length twenty-seven inches. The shape of the head resembles in some respects the skate. The jaws are armed with powerful teeth, particularly the foremost ones, which indicates that this fish can successfully prey upon others, perhaps the salmon themselves. It is a salt water fish, but of what variety no one who has seen it is able to state. Mr.
Linus Hubbard, who knows more about fish than any man this or the other side of Buffalo, calls it a "Richard the Third bass," but even Hubbard don't know it all, and he is contradicted by Col. Sinnott, who was here before the salmon were, who says it is the old-fashioned Irish "belly-back," which he used to catch when a boy in the Ballyhack. It is noticeable, however, that he did not call it that on the bill of fare at the Umatilla house today and the new fish was served there for dinner. It is quite palatable, but does not approach the royal chinook for delicacy of flavor, and sad indeed would it be, if this savage looking stranger would drive his more shapely neighbor from the river.

THIS IS BETTER.

The Run of Salmon in the River is Unusually Large.

The run of salmon in the river just now is very large, and if it continues, the losses of the early part of the season will be fully made up. The open season began with today and all wheels report a large catch. The fish are reported as going up Mill creek, which indicates they are very plentiful. There is no danger of catching too many. There are already orders enough from the east to fairly clean the Columbia river, which shows that good prices will rule, owing to the heavy demand. A trailhead could be sent at once, if so many could be furnished. Owing to the good run, and assured good prices, there is much to hope for from the salmon industry at this point.

Columbia Candy Factory.

LONGEVITY OF MAN.

People Who Have Attained to Remarkable Old Age.

It was Prof. Hufeland's opinion that the limit of possible human life may be set at two hundred years—this on the general principle, says the St.
Louis Republic, that the life of nearly all living creatures is eight times the years, months or weeks of its period of maturity. That which quickly comes to maturity quickly perishes, and the earlier complete development is reached the sooner bodily decay ensues. More women reach old age than men, but more men attain remarkable longevity than women.

Horned animals are shorter lived than those without horns, fiercer longer than timid, and amphibious creatures longer than those which inhabit the air. The pike will continue to live for one hundred and fifty or one hundred and seventy-five years, and the common turtle is good for at least a century. Passing up the scale of life to man and skipping the patriarchs we find many recorded instances of extraordinary longevity.

The ancient Egyptians lived three times as long as the modern lotus eaters. Instances of surprising and authentic longevity among the classic Greeks and Romans are not at all rare.
Pliny notes the fact that in the reign of Emperor Vespasian (79 A. D.) there were 124 men living in a limited area on the River Po who were 100 years old and upward. Three of these were 140 and seven others over 130.
Cicero's wife lived to be 103, and the Roman actress Lucceja played in public after she had celebrated her one hundred and twelfth birthday.

TYPES OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

LIZZIE BORDEN has been invited by the Globe-Democrat to lecture.

"CAVENDISH" says that American women are better whist players than are their English sisters.

joices in four children recently born at one birth, two boys and two girls.

MARTHA JORDAN, of Dallas, Tex., is said to be the first colored woman in the United States to study the profession of dentistry.

MISS PHOEBE J. WOODMAN, a niece of the poet Whittier, and the original of his "Red Riding Hood," is engaged to be married to Mr. Calliga, a Boston artist.

MISS EMILY LOUISE GERRY, living at New Haven, Conn., is a daughter of Elbridge Gerry, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Miss Gerry, it is claimed, is the last living child of a signer of that famous document.
