Kitchen Extension.

University Extension is good, but Kitchen Extension is better. Wider knowledge of better cooking processes means better health and comfort for everybody. Science can never do us better service than by the multiplication of the cooking schools which make healthful means and methods available for even the most modest home.

COTTOLENE

The vegetable substitute for lard, is science's latest gift to the kitchens of the world. Every woman who has ever cooked a meal, knows that lard is disagreeable in use and unhealthy in its effects.

Another Train Held Up By Masked

Men.

LARGE AMOUNT OF MONEY TAKEN

Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars of Coalminers' Wages ... Whites Tortured By Indians.

HANCOCK, Mich., Sept. 15 .-- A train on the Mineral Range railroad was held up between here and Calumet by three masked men this morning, and robbed of $70,000, Calumet & Hecla mine money. Everything is in a turmoil. No bloodshed.

The Mineral Bange road is a narrow gauge, running between Houghton and Calumet, with several branches. The Calumet & Hecla mine employs 2,000 men, and pays them on the 15th of the month. The money today was sent from eastern banks. The robbers were evidently acquainted with the circumstances. There were four highwaymen; two covered the enginemen, the others ordered the express messengers to put the contents of the safe in a bag which the robbers carried. The messenger handed out $75,000. The robbers ordered the engineer to go ahead in a hurry, which he did. The deed was accomplished so quickly that the passengers were unaware of the trouble till after the train had started. The light guard and sheriffs are scouring the country. It is believed the robbers had horses near, and a boat at the lake, to take them across to Canada.

Tortured by Indians, KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 15 .- Two brothers by the name of Clayton, from Cherokee county, North Carolina, reached here in a badly mutilated condition. During the summer they fished near an Indian camp. This so angered the Indians that they decided to whitecap the Claytons. Each man was tied to a tree and made to fast a week. Their eyes, ears, noses and toes were then mutilated, after which each man was slightly scalped. The Claytons left the scene of their outrageous treatment twenty days ago. They suffered unusual privations on the road. Here they were supplied with means to take them to Texas, where they have friends. The North Carolina Indians are Cherokees, who were not removed by the government at the time of the settlement of the tribe in the territory west of the Mississippi. They have not advanced very rapidly in civilization.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS.

Fierce Fires Raging in Wisconsin's

Forests. MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15 .- Dispatches this morning from a score of northern Wisconsin cities tell stories of great loss One way $2.00 by forest fires. Marshfield, Junction City, Dexterville, Prentis, Spencer, Medford, Rhinelander, Stevens Point and other places with a population of 1,000 to 6,000, are surrounded by flames, and in the greatest danger of being wiped out. No loss of life is reported, but that all the settlers in the burned districts escaped is impossible. Every square mile of the vast timbered district of Wisconsin is as dry as tinder. The flames are sweeping without check. The district already swept by fire and that threatened includes nearly onethird of the state. Wisconsin is overhung by a pall of smoke reaching from Lake Michigan to Lake Superior and from the extreme eastern border of the state to the Mississippi river.

MARSHFIELD, Wis., Sept. 15 .- Last night, driven by terrific winds, two great forest fires, one north, and one south of the city, swept everything before them. Once the fire reached the city limits, but the bucket brigade stayed its progress there. However, a station two miles north, containing a dozen families, was wiped out. The inhabitants barely Kinersly, druggists. escaped with their lives. Two children of Frank Codil are reported suffocated. McMillan, five miles east, is surrounded by fire, but believed to be saved. Many settlers' families have arrived here, having lost everything. The danger is believed to have passed this city.

All hope of saving the village of Mc-Millan is abandoned. The town has a population of 500. The McMillan milling plant is valued at $150,000.

HELD UP BY ROBBERS Kittle Smith Afraid of Her Father Lately Pardoned .- The Storm, Etc.

> MITCHELL, Or., Sept. 12, 1893. Camp meeting on West Branch has been very successful. Eleven new members were immersed during the past week.

> Rain has been falling almost continually the last few days, until the ground seems to be thoroughly soaked, and is now running off every hillside in little muddy streams.

E. E. Allen's building is nearing completion. They mean to move in some time this week.

Mountain roads are almost impassable since there has been so much rainfall. Persons desiring to get their winter wood are compelled to lay idle until they are settled.

Camp meeting on Shoo Fly instead of continuing three weeks, as intended, only lasted three days.

Some threshing has been done, and crops have proved to be even better than was hoped for when harvesting. Mrs. Bert Eaton of The Dalles has during the past week. The first two weeks of our school was almost a failure. Scholars could not attend on account of extreme heat.

Everyone seems to blame the other for his misfortune in the shape of colds, in a greater or less degree, and everyone seems to be afflicted.

The 25th of this month Kitty Smith, on hearing her father had been pardoned, attempted to take her life by taking a dose of poison, but she was found and antidotes administered in time to save her life. This is the second time she has made an unsuccessful attempt to poison herself, in the hope of being freed from the cruel tyranny of an inhuman father.

by a very heavy thunder shower that was almost a waterspout. Although it it was so evil looking, as onward it flashing in the lantern light (for it was ably be the new nominee. 9 o'clock at night), dancing and writh- At Vilia Canas the death roll is said ing, coiling and recoiling, springing and to be appalling. When all were thing that chanced to get within its sleeping the waters rose suddenly, angry, surging coils, as booming and flooded the caves and drowned the howling it takes its onward march in its work of uprooting trees, lifting huge rocks from their long resting place, cutting its way through new channels, lashing against boulders large enough to resist its fury, gushing, gurgling and foaming over some miniature cataract, racing as if it were a demon let loose to a wider, less turbulent channel. Such an awe-inspiring thought of littleness as comes over one as they gaze upon and admire the vast proportions so suddenly collected and from such an innocent-looking thing as a very small black cloud that came and overhung the sky but a very short time before the flood gates were opened, as it seemed. With all the suddenness of the storm, there was but very little loss of property; in fact, none of which to make mention, but it gave a great fright to many living unworthy. As if there were no motes near the banks of the stream. Lanterns in sunbeams! Or comets among stars! near the banks of the stream. Lanterns mear the banks of the stream. Lanterns were brought out, hurrying here and there, in the hope of learning the extent of the danger, if any. Some looked on with blanched faces, for in the darkness, and by lantern-light the stream, boiling out of its banks, really looked frightful. out of its banks, really looked frightful. Since we have had water-spouts here before that have been the cause of the loss of several lives and a great loss of property, people are excusable for their very just excitement. E. V. E.

At Heppner on Monday evening, the case of Mary Luelling vs. Abraham Luelling, asking for a decree of divorce, was heard. The testimony of the girl. who is scarcely 15 years of age, showed that she was forced into the marriage by her mother and the defendant, and as Luelling did not appear in defense, the judge granted a divorce. While walking across the foot-bridge that spans the river from the Patterson hop-yard, near Eugene, Miss Susy Gibbs became dizzy and fell off into the water. She was seen to fall by the Parsons brothers, who were at the hophouse about 150 yards away, and they ran to the rescue. When they arrived at the river bank opposite her, Zach Parsons plunged into the river, and by been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Misner, hard swimming saved the young woman from a watery grave. Before Mr. Parsons reached her she had already sunk twice.
