The continually lessening supply of clothing and woolen goods will drive the came out of the dry canyons into the manufacturer to resume work at full time soon, tariff or no tariff.

The senate is still temporizing on the Sherman repeal bill. Public attention refuses to be distracted by the elections bill, the Everett bill, or even the tariff. The senate will have to ante or pass pretty soon.

The daily reports of cholera in Hull, London, Hamburg and other old world points, have no terrors for us now. the deep timber. From boats, when Last year they would have struck us with a nameless horror, but the demand of Americans is for something fresh, even in bugaboos.

Grant's Pass, says the Courier, does not derive its horrid name from the fact that General Grant passed through a mountainous gap in that vicinity, nor because he "passed on four kings" while encamped at any point in the beautiful Rogue river valley, but was simply named thus because a stage station was located two miles north of here about the time that Ulysses Grant captured Vicksburg and his name was in everybody's mouth.

In California the beet sugar industry has proved a gratifying success. Under republican protection production has in daily creased within three years from 8,000,-000 pounds of sugar in 1889 to nearly 22,000,000 pounds in 1892. For 1893 the estimate of the federal sugar inspector is 42,000,000 pounds. The San Francisco Chronicle considers this too high, and puts the probable output at 33,600,000 pounds, on which the bounty will be $672,000.

The Eugene Register covertly says a word for the initiative and referendum in the following: "Why would it not be a good idea to abolish congress, and get relief from this everlasting debate, which is being carried on only for political effect? If there is a man in the United States senate who is so densely thickheaded or ignorant that he has not yet made up his mind how to east his vote, he ought to be sent back to the state where he belongs and confined in an asylum for the insune.

We have received a copy of "The Swiss Initiative and Referendum," with the compliments of the Oregon Farmers' Alliance, Oregon State Grange, Oregon Knights of Labor and the Federated Trades Assembly of Portland. We have briefly reviewed its contents in a previous number, and will do so again at no distant day. The fact that the initiative and referendum has been successfully in vogue in Switzerland for half a century deprives its opponents of the claim that it is not feasible, and it doer in Dalles City. Wasco county, Oregon, sel at public auction to the highest hidder, for east should command a generous share of respect with the people at large throughout Oregon, since it is supported by the organizations named, which are among the most worthy in the state.

An alliance between France and Russia sounds strangely. The one is a liberty-loving republic and the other the most despotic of monarchies. Both are powers not to be despised in single combat with any one nation, and together they make an alliance against the triple combination formed against In the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Wasco County; France. They may well call for hesitation before hostilities are inaugurated William Hamilton Wilson, Decrased. and the arbitrament of war resorted to. All the European powers are strongly fortified with arms, munitions and men, and to an uninterested observer it might appear that a great war was pending. Such is likely to occur. The great burden of supporting such a standing army, if it will not breed war between nations, will cause the people themselves to be so restless under the burden of taxation as to rebel from the useless expenditures. War is a luxury, and so are the conditions attendant upon war.

Mr. J. J. Keil, Sharpsburg, Pa., Dear Sir:—I am glad to say a good word for Krause's Headache Capsules. After suffering for over three years with acute neuralgia and its consequent insomnia, (which seemed to baffle the efforts of some of our best physicians) you suggested this remedy which gave me almost instant relief. Words fail to express the praise I ahould like to bestow on Krause's Headache Capsules

Gratefully Yours,

The Wallows Valley.

A private letter received from a Dalles lady who is visiting in Wallowa valley gives this interesting extract from a description of a ride through that beautiful

"We arrived at LaGrande about noon and were afraid the Elgin train had gone at the regular time, but it had waited, so we rode across the valley through big farms and orchards on a rough road and in a rattling car. We were the only passengers, except one old man. After leaving Elgin we stopped after [the descent of an awful hill at Wallowa bridge. where the two mountain streams Wallowa and Minam unite. At 7.30 next morning we started and at noon camped at Wallowa store where we ate dinner surrounded by a lot of Indians, mounted and driving a band of horses. They were a wild looking lot of people. All had guns and cartridge belts, fine blankets and many papooses. The ride that morning was the prettiest for nine miles up a canyon with the Grande Ronde river at one side and the mountains high on either side of us. At 4 p. m. we most beautiful valley. Enterprise was near and seven miles across was Joseph. Behind Joseph were the lovely Blue mountains covered with snow half way down. The old chief's headquarters were in the mountains back of the town of Joseph. The sun was low and the houses of Joseph were white and the town looked like a nest of white eggs away off. Wallowa Lake, which I have heard described, lies two miles back of Joseph, a lake of crystal clear water in the light is propitious, trees can be seen away down in the water, standing as they grew. We hope to take a ride there before going home. This is a most delighful place. Just a piece of the dark blue snow capped mountains show at the south end of the low strip of ground between the bare bills, and these hills are dotted with cattle. bands are driven past as this is cattle selling time. Coyotes howl at night on the near hills. The elevation here is 5,000 feet and the air like that of Cloud Cap Inn. We have had ice every morning and the air is very cold at night."

Olinger & Bone's stages en route to Cloud Cap Inn will locate campers at the best fishing point in Hood River valley, where one can reach Mt. Hood in a few hours and get their mail and provisions

Daily and Weekly Editions.

THE CHRONICLE was established for the express purpose of faithfully representing The Dalles and the surrounding country, and the satisfying effect of its mission is everywhere apparent. It now leads all other publications in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, a large part of Crook, Morrow and Grant counties, as well as Klickitat and other regions north of The Dalles, hence it is the best medium for advertisers in the Inland Empire.

The DAILY CHRONICLE is published every evening in the week Sundays excepted at $6.00 per annum. The WEEKLY CHRONICLE on Fridays of each week at $1.50 per annum.
