NEAR TO A REVOLUTION.

The senate is as far off from a conclusion as ever and Senator Voorhees gives us the cheering intelligence that if a vote cannot be reached this fall or winter he is prepared, like Grant, to fight it out on the same line, "if it takes all summer." If that is so the expensive sitting of the senate will be a greater burden than the silver purchase act. But the signs of the times point to an intonation of this conduct. Sober thinking men are springing up on all hands who announce that we are nearer a revolution than since the revolutionary war. The million idle wage-earners who are suffering for the necessities of life are already menacing us, the large mobs that assemble in our representative cities are only temporarily subdued by the police, the wound is not healed and their wrongs still fester. It is estimated that a million and a half of laborers are out of work at the present time, and a great part of the remainder have been reduced to a narrow living. These men, unused to diplomacy, unskilled in political trickery, though slow of thought or speech, are quick in action. It does not require much argument to prove to these men, narrowed by privation and want, that the rewards of toil are not commensurate with what they deserve, and when a state of unrest is engendered all along the lines, it will take but a spark to ignite their passions which will lead them to wrest from others by force what they have been deprived of by circumstances. These fears are not groundless, there is much of realism in them, and no watchful observer can controvert it. The senate should take counsel of the agitated condition the country is now in, and do a little more law-making and less jaw-swinging.

Miners are leaving Butte by the hundreds for South Africa. Last week 400 tickets were sold to parties bound for the mining region of that distant country.

The anti-repeal men, though in the minority, have force enough to keep up a filibuster indefinitely. At present they seem determined to fight until the Voorhees bill is killed.

Brazil is still in the throes of the revolution. It is impossible to know more, as the "Herald correspondent," a "prominent official," a "United States resident," and "foreign minister," do not agree on any proposition.

The agitation against crinolines was ill-advised after all, and now that the newspapers have quit talking about it, the results are not at all as were anticipated. The skirts have not increased in diameter to any alarming extent, and they look very neat and pretty.

A resolution to restore the parity of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the government, with particular reference to the first two, was the contribution of Senator Stewart to the senate calendar last week. It sets forth that the independence of these branches must be maintained, and that the use of the power and influence of one department to control the action of another is a violation of the constitution.

It is unfortunately true that mistakes will occur in the newspapers. The Lincoln County Times apologizes after this fashion: "The Times was mistaken last week in saying that Fred Zilmer got his shoulder blade broken. It was E. Zilmer, and it was his collar bone not his shoulder blade, and it was not broken, but fractured, and the fracture was adjusted not reduced, and the whole operation was performed by Drs. Whitney & Turney instead of Riddle as stated."

 DEAR SIR—I have used Krause's Headache Capsules for some time and want to testify to their value. I tried various well recommended medicines, but got no relief until I used these, and now would not be without them for ten times their cost.
 Yours respectfully,
 CHARLES T. SEDGWICK.

HERRING ARISTOCRACY.

The First Fish of the Season Sold at Very High Prices in Holland.

Needless to say that, being so surrounded by water, the Dutch are great lovers of fish. Indeed, social rank is indicated by the consumption of fish, and strange to say that for this purpose the humblest of all fish, the common herring, has been selected.

At a good restaurant at Amsterdam I asked for a thoroughly Dutch dish, and to my great surprise a small raw herring was served to me, and for this strange dish I was made to pay a very large price. In answer to my inquiries I was informed in a particular tone indicative of something surprising and wonderful that it was a new herring. I was further told that new herring cost a few weeks ago as much as one dollar each. I protested that in London new herring were often sold at one cent each or three herring for two cents. In answer to this I was smilingly informed that in Holland herring were not during the season any dearer; only, though just as fresh, they were not called a new herring. The point is to eat a new herring, and a new herring means a herring out of season, or the first herring that heralds the coming season. It is these rare and early herring that are sold at one dollar each. Then the price falls to half a dollar, then to twenty cents, to ten cents, to five cents, and finally to one cent or less.

When the new herring are first announced Dutchmen inquire of one another: "Have you already eaten a new herring?" If you are able to answer "Yes" early in the season then you are considered a man of means and importance. But if you continue for long confessing that you have not eaten any new herring then your kind and charitable friends conclude you must be involved in serious financial difficulties.

and hollow cheeks, and dull, sunken eyes, don't always mean that a woman's old. Half the time they only show that she's overworked or suffering. To such women, to every woman who is tired or afflicted, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription safely and certainly brings back health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nerve that soothes and strengthens. For all the derangements, irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to women, it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

A great many medicines "relieve" Catarrh in the Head. That means that it's driven from the head into the throat and lungs. But, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy perfectly and permanently cures.

WINANS
 THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and water falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing factories will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already arranged you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
 See me on the ground or address me at Hood River Wasco County, Oregon.
