A PLEA FOR PAUL KREFT.

Alderman Kreft must have been a little worked up last evening previous to the time he entered the council chamber. His voice and demeanor at the meeting was very hostile. The mayor held him in check as well as he could, but it took some vigorous pounding on more than one occasion. Mr. Kreft's ire was aroused when the council failed to take any action on the Astoria communication from the chamber of commerce, which really was an unfortunate oversight, as the lack of any action amounts to a virtual snub. The gentleman was again brought to his feet at an apparently flippant remark of the street commissioner, and the councilman began to score him in an artistic manner when he was again brought to earth by the rapping of the gavel. Mr. Maddron was unfortunate in his phraseology, as the point he intended was not brought out by what he really said. After all, Mr. Kreft is easily excusable. He has served the city faithfully and well for two years, and, in common with all councilmen, has received no salary and scant praise. He has given the city's interests more attention than his own business. The city map has been his world's geography and the charter and ordinances his old and new testament. He knows every bit of defective sidewalk in town and can locate every nail that sticks up. Name any corner in the city and he can tell just what shape the crosswalks are in, what is needed and just what it will cost to fix it. He knows all about every bad sewer, who has not complied with the law and why. He has never been accused of endeavoring to further his own ends at the city's expense, nor will he ever be. The only measure ever presented that could benefit him, an arc light at the corner of Ninth and Pentland, was tabled on the grounds of economy. And who tabled it? Paul Kreft.

Paul Kreft needs no plea and he is excusable for an occasional cranky spell, unless during it somebody justifiably kills him. Then would the city have cause to deprecate him.

The senate is the only body in the United States where the minority rules. There is no especial objection to cloture in other assemblages.

Mt. Hood is now in Oregon but not of it. It is included in the new national forest reserve. If they don't remove it to the world's fair we can stand it.

Norway may soon join the world's republics. Surely no men are entitled to liberty more than the stalwart Norwegians whose kindred have done so much to make America what it is. Godspeed the republic of Norway.

NEWS NOTES.

Two engines ran together at Catawaga, Pa., the result of wrong signals by Watchman Thomas Bias, causing a bad wreck. John Ray, fireman, was killed and Herbert James was crippled for life. Bias, seeing the result of his mistake, went home and shot himself.

President Wheatcroft and Secretary Friedlander, of the National Benefit Trust association, organized last spring under the laws of Colorado with a capital of $1,000,000, are under arrest charged with obtaining money by a confidence game.

During the prevalence of the grippé the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of la grippe, but in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs, and has cured cases of asthma and hay fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free trial bottles at Snipes & Kinerly's drug store.

THE FUNERAL OF AN ANGELITO.

In Paraguay the Death of a Child Is Considered a Matter of Rejoicing.

While wandering about inside the recolleta one morning two bells inside the old church began to ring out joyously, as if for a wedding, writes Fannie B. Ward to the Chicago Tribune. Looking through the gateway I saw a procession coming, at a cheerful jog-trot, down the sandy lane, which is bordered with grass and luxuriant shrubs. They were all women and girls, not a man among them, so it could not be a wedding—some with babies in their arms, others with children trotting at their sides, the little boys wearing ponchos, the women and girls dressed after the Paraguayan fashion of skirt and camisole, everyone barefooted and with a black shawl or square of white cotton draped over the head. They advanced with laughter and gayety, almost on a gentle run; and the young woman who led the cortege carried on her head a little coffin enveloped with linen embroidery, edged with manduti lace, and strewn with fresh red roses. It was an angelito, a "little angel," and therefore no cause for sadness, for throughout all Spanish America the death of a child is considered rather a matter for rejoicing. So, while the bells clattered more merrily than ever, the joyous group passed the turnstile, traversed the cloister of the church and halted beside a shallow hole.

Looking into it we saw that its sides were a sandwich of different layers and strata of bones and broken coffins, smoothly cut by the spade, and that the heap of fresh earth beside it contained a skull or two (one with long black hair clinging to it), some old joints and marrow bones, a baby's shoe, bits of coffin, shreds of clay-soiled grave clothes, and other reminders of the forgotten dead. A gravedigger, wearing a long, brown-striped poncho, placed the rose-strewn box containing the ange into the hole and proceeded to shovel the dirt and bones in upon it, incidentally pushing in the hairy skull with his bare foot; now and then getting in to stamp down the loose earth and make all snug and secure. Then the group left the cemetery, still gay and happy, the mother without a tear in her eyes, but chattering with the rest—not because she was lacking in natural affection, but because she believed with unshaken trust that her baby was not there in the damp earth but safe in Mary's arms, where she would one day find it. She carried with her a black wooden cross, with the embroidered linen that had draped the coffin wound about it.

A WONDERFUL VOLUME.

A Bible Copied by a Monk Centuries Ago and Now in Washington.

The most beautiful volume among the half million in the congressional library in Washington is said to be a Bible which was transcribed by a monk in the sixteenth century. It could not be matched to-day in the best printing office in the world. The parchment is in perfect preservation. Every one of its thousand pages is a study. The general lettering is in German text, each letter perfect as is every one, in cold black ink, without a scratch or blot from lid to lid. At the beginning of each chapter the first letter is very large, usually two or three inches long, and is brightly illuminated in red and blue ink. Within each of these capitals is drawn the figure of some saint, some incident of which the chapter tells, is illustrated. There are two columns on a page, and nowhere is traceable the slightest irregularity of line, space, or formation of the letters. Even under a magnifying glass they seem flawless. This precious volume is kept under a glass case, which is sometimes lifted to show that all the pages are as perfect as the two which lie open. A legend relates that a young man who had sinned deeply became a monk and resolved to do penance for his misdeeds. He determined to copy the Bible, that he might learn every letter of the Divine commands which he had violated. Every day for many years he patiently pursued his task. Each letter was wrought in reverence and love, and the patient soul found its only companionship in the saintly faces which were portrayed on these pages. When the last touch was given to the last letter the old man reverently kissed the page and folded the sheets together. The illustrated initials in perfection of form and brilliancy of color surpass anything produced in the present day. With all our boasted progress, nothing either in Europe or America equals it.

A Disturbance

Jen't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasant, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "la grippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on liver, stomach and kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with sick headache, you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c. at Snipes & Kinerly's drug store.

MUSICAL MATTERS.

GOUDON, the great French composer, has been far from well for some time. Owing to his advanced age, seventy-five, grave apprehensions are felt concerning him.

PADEREWSKI has gone to his home in Poland for rest and recreation. He will remain in retirement until October, when he is expected to make his reappearance in Paris.

JENNY LIND was one of the first persons to travel in a private car in this country. She hired a car, had the seats removed and fitted it up with her own luxurious household furniture.

PADEREWSKI has earned in London the distinction of being known as a "guinea man." With the exception of Rubenstein he is the only man whose performances command a guinea for seats in the stalls.

A Strange Lake in Africa.

Lake Assal, one of the finest salt lakes in the world, in the district of Obok, East Africa, only a few miles from the head of the Bay of Tadjoumah, has been bought by Mr. Chefnoux from the French government. All along the edge of the lake, which comprises only sixteen square miles, is a bed of nearly pure salt about a foot in thickness. The water of the lake is so saturated with salt that it is impossible to sink in it. The bottom is apparently a bed of solid salt. The heavy waters have the base of jagged and precipitous mountains which descend to the edge of the lake, making it almost impossible to travel around it. Mr. Chefnoux will probably carry on his work by floating machinery on the lake and dredging in the salt bed at its bottom.

HOW DO YOU DO

when you buy shoes or clothing? Don't you go to the place (if you can find it) where they tell you that you may wear the articles out, and then, if you're not satisfied, they'll refund the money? Why not do the same when you buy medicine?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on that plan. It's the only blood-purifier so certain and effective that it can be guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or you have your money back.

It's not like the ordinary spring medicines or sarsaparillas. All the year round, it cleanses, builds up, and invigorates the system. If you're bilious, run-down, or dyspeptic, or have any blood-taint, nothing can equal it as a remedy.

The worst cases of Chronic Catarrh in the Head, yield to Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. So certain is it that its makers offer $500 reward for an incurable case.
