Of Des Moines, Iowa, writes under date of March 23, 1893:

S. B. MND. MFG. CO., Dufur, Oregon.

Gentlemen: On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 38 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are Yours, Ma. & Mrs. J. F. Ford.

If you wish to feel fresh and cheerful, and ready for the Spring's work, cleanse your system with the Headache and Liver Cure, by taking two or three doses each week.

Harrowing Details of the Louisiana Storm.

STORIES OF SOME SURVIVORS

The Loss of Life Will Probably Reach One Thousand--The Oyster Bayou Catastrophe.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—The disaster at Grand Isle and Cheniere is unparalleled in this section. The first authentic news came this morning when several survivors reached here. They tell a heartrending story. A tidal wave swept over the island, destroying lives and property on all sides. One hundred and forty-five families are said to have perished. The death list will run up into the hundreds.

This morning near Burras the bodies of three little girls, evidently sisters, were found clinging together, horribly mangled by a barbed-wire fence against which they had been thrown by the force of the wind. A man, wife and two children went on board a schooner outside of Bayou Cook. The schooner was wrecked and the husband and children drowned. The woman lashed herself to a broken mast and was rescued in the morning by a passing vessel. She was brought here today.

It is now estimated that the loss of life on Grand Isle and Cheniere and in Grand and Adams' bay and Cook, Chanton and Oyster Bayou settlements will reach 800 to 1,000.

Matthew, Wertez and Dominio Mirgodich, sailors, were rescued by one of the luggers. The story they tell of the disaster at Grand Isle is horrifying in the extreme. During a recital of the scenes of that terrible night they wept bitterly. They said the sea was rising all day, and increased alarmingly toward night. About 10 p. m. the wind shifted to the southwest. These men lived on the west end of the island. Far out at sea, as the flashes of lightning illuminated the darkness, mammoth waves could be seen traveling with wonderful rapidity toward the island, accompanied with a noise like thunder. On came the terrible thing, growing larger momentarily. The island was wrapped in slumber. The men were too frightened to go to their homes, and remained in the boat during the terrible night. Horrified they watched the tidal wave approach the island until it struck. Then all was darkness, and the island, as far as the eye could reach, was covered with water.

The next flash of lightning the two fishermen found themselves far north of the island, and looking about could see nothing but a sheet of water, the island having totally disappeared.

John A. Sebut, a fisherman, from the shore of Bayou Cook, told a representative of the Associated Press that nothing was left either on the shores of the bayou or islands. On Bayou Simon, situated in Grand bay, there were 14 fishermen, all drowned. It is said not a house is left on Bayou Cook, and where the people are the Almighty only knows. The family of John Barbier, fisherman, in Bayou Cook, was washed away, and the husband and two children drowned, wife and four children rescued. In the house adjoining, a man was saved, but his wife and two children were drowned. The house of George Cefaroche was washed away with his family, wife and three children, all drowned. His next neighbor, a man named Barton, had his two daughters drowned. Only one person was saved from the Oyster Bayou catastrophe. He was found hanging by one hand to a post, unconscious. He will die. The wife and child of Thomas Moryorich were lost at Bayou Cook. John Stook, an Italian boy, was instantly killed. Luke Detrovitch lost four daughters, his wife and two of his sailors. On Simon Isle there were 18 inhabitants of oyster camps and 16 were drowned. On Razor Island was a camp of five men, all drowned. On Bird Island about 150 people lived, all drowned. On Grand bank eight persons were killed.

Matthew Schurtz, of Goldboro, one of the survivors of the Cheniere Caminda community, arrived this morning. He brought a harrowing tale of the loss of life there. He was engaged there constructing a schoolhouse. He boarded in a house where 25 people lodged. The house was demolished and he believed about all of the inmates were killed.

MITCHELL NEWS.

Pleasant Settlement of a Dispute--Jerome Parson's Accident.

Weather bright and clear, with warm days and cold nights.

Uncle Bob Carron was in town today. His arm is much improved.

The wheat crop in the West Branch section is falling far below the average yield. Instead of three thousand bushels, as we expected, there will be from three to seven hundred.

The plum crop is a month late this year. At the present writing they are only sufficiently ripe to gather.

Mr. and Mrs. McAlaster spent Friday and Saturday in Mitchell as the guests of Mrs. Oaks. They took in the town while Mr. McAlaster was getting some blacksmithing done.

Mr. Peasley was a guest at the Central hotel last night.

Watermelons, muskmelons, pumpkins and squashes are being brought into town in small quantities, but not so small in size. One pumpkin I would not have attempted to lift single handed, for the reason that I could not have reached my arm around it even if it had been without weight, which was equal to my lifting capability.

A grand masquerade ball was given by Mr. McCoy at McCoy hall, fifteen miles above Mitchell, which proved a very pleasant entertainment, with the exception of a little dispute, which was very agreeably settled by one man slapping the other with his revolver, and thereafter all was peace and quiet until morning.

The prize of five dollars was won by Mrs. Hanson for acting best the character she represented.

Jerome Parson met with a very serious accident day before yesterday. He had been hauling wheat from his place on the John Day to this place. On one part of the road there is a very steep, uneven grade. In coming down this, at the steepest part in the grade his brake gave way and in this crippled condition he soon found his four horses were entirely beyond his control. In making a short turn close ahead of him he knew the horses must either go directly over the grade into the gulch, or overturn the wagon in making the bend, and in order to save himself he sprang from the wagon, and in doing so he threw his left knee out of place and sprained his left wrist very badly. The horses, as he suspected, went directly over the bank to the bottom of the ravine below, a distance of forty or fifty yards. Mr. Parson in his crippled condition was unable to stand at all, but he knew he must get to his horses, that were now standing very quiet. He was getting quite sick and faint, but bringing his will and nerve to bear against his suffering, he rolled over and over until he reached his horses, which had a part of the wagon still fast to them. He undid the stay chain, tied it around his ankle, and started the horses, while he held fast to the wheel. With a span of horses ahead of him and a wagon wheel behind him, it was but the work of a moment until his limb was set as nicely as if an experienced physician had been bungling with it. He unhitched a horse, mounted and rode to Mitchell, a mile and a half above, where he got the use of a wagon and men to help him. They returned to the place of disaster, gathered up scattered grain and the fragments of his wagon. Neither of the horses was hurt in the least. The next morning Mr. Parson was unable to walk without the assistance of a crutch. His knee was very badly swollen and very painful, but not in the least daunted, he started for home driving his own team.

NEWS NOTES.

On Chicago Day, Oct. 9, the world's fair exposition will be free from debt, excepting, of course, the stock subscriptions.

Advices received at the marine hospital bureau from Surgeon Murray, at Brunswick, Ga., state that 12 new cases of yellow fever have been reported—10 white and two colored.

R. C. Hockens, a Napa carpenter, has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Dr. S. E. Rhodes, a prominent dentist, who he charges with criminally assaulting his 14-year-old daughter.

The foreign affairs committee has decided to report favorably the McCreary substitute for the Everett bill. As agreed on, it extends the Chinese registration period six months from the passage of the act. It strikes out the word "white" from the Geary act so as to permit the testimony of anybody except Chinamen to be adduced to prove "Chinamen are entitled to register." Geary cast the only adverse vote. He declares the bill's teeth are drawn, that it is a make-shift in keeping with the course of the administration, and that he will fight it tooth and toenail.

NO MORE BOMBARDING.

The Foreign Warships Will Interfere.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 4.—The commanders of the British, French, Italian, American and Portuguese men-of-war here have received dispatches giving them discretionary power to take such action as may seem necessary to prevent a further attack by rebel gunboats on the city which might endanger the lives and property of foreign subjects. The commanders have already acted on this authorization by informing Admiral De Mello that no attack on the city will be permitted. Germany alone refrained from taking similar action on the ground that she does not desire to interfere in domestic troubles.

An Immense Sturgeon.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 3.—The largest sturgeon that has been caught on the Columbia river for several years was taken into S. Smith & Co.'s cannery at Knappton today. It weighed 755 pounds, and the head alone scaled 151 pounds. The length from tip to tip was 11 feet, 8 inches. When cut and dressed, the huge mass tipped the beam at 427 pounds. It was cut into 70-pound lumps and sent to Portland to be frozen.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy has been taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it's the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquifying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Shiloh's cure, the Great Cough and Croup Cure, is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.
