WORDS, WORDS, WORDS.

There is pending in the house a bill to reform the methods of public printing. The bill has already been debated one day, and it could be pushed ahead without any trouble if it were not for the purpose of the democrats to take up the bill to aid fraudulent elections instead.

Senator Stewart has uttered at this session 225,000 words on the silver question. At least he has inserted that many in the Congressional Record.

But the printing and binding of this vast aggregate of nothingness illustrates the great need of printing reform. There are nearly 1,000,000 copies of books and bulky documents printed by the government stored away in rooms because no one has the authority to distribute them.

A Boston paper prints the following letter received in that city from an educated farmer of more than 30 years' residence in eastern Kansas, a gentleman of comparative wealth and a man often elected to public offices in his own county and state.

"This will delight the doctor." "Quite otherwise. The doctor said, sadly: 'I am very sorry and disappointed. James promised me when I left home that he would give up poetry and stick to his books. I hoped he had become less flighty!'"

Very Gracefully Done. When Lord Erskine was made a member of that highly honorable body, the Fishmongers' company, of London, he made an after-dinner speech on the occasion of his first appearance among them as a member.

The Earl of Dunraven seems to be a model landlord—he is an Irish landlord, too. We learn this from an article in McClure's Magazine for October. C. Kinloch Cooke, who writes the article is a friend of Dunraven, and speaks by authority, says that his property is probably the only one in the south of Ireland on which no outrages have ever been committed.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." J. J. LaGrange, druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

ATTRACTION OF THE ABYSS.

Why People Long to Show Themselves from High Places.

Chevren's well-known experiments with the exploratory pendulum and the diving rod show that if we represent to ourselves a motion in any direction the hand will unconsciously realize it and communicate it to the pendulum, says a writer in the Popular Science Monthly.

FLIGHTY JAMES.

Modest Opinion of Dr. Lowell in Regard to His Afterward Distinguished Son.

There is something perennially funny in the estimate of young poets by their personal friends. Some affectionate partisans, to be sure, find a nightingale in every bush, and applaud genius in any versified production, but the majority of sensible fathers and mothers wait for larger and maturer results before expressing their delight.

"I wish Tom would stick to his law study," said the old gentleman, testily. "Sometimes I think he's a born fool!"

A writer in the Critic says of the father of James Russell Lowell:

"I was in Rome and Florence at one time with Dr. and Mrs. Lowell. He was under deep depression, and sensitive to small vexations. I received one day quite a number of letters from Boston, and the doctor, grieving that he had none, insisted upon my reading him some of mine.

When Lord Erskine was made a member of that highly honorable body, the Fishmongers' company, of London, he made an after-dinner speech on the occasion of his first appearance among them as a member.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

Deserving Praise. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use.

FIGURES OF INTEREST.

The population of Germany averages 237 to the square mile, in the United States the average is only 18.

Nearly 45 per cent. of the 9,349,547 foreign-born residents in the United States are living in the 124 cities of largest population.

The total number of Chinese in the United States in 1880 was 105,465. The total number in 1890 was only 107,475, a gain in ten years of but 2,010.

SINCE the centennial year, 1876, the number of newspapers in New York state has nearly doubled. There were 1,688 published then and there are 2,131 now.

The largest block of coal ever mined was recently brought from the bowels of the earth at Roslyn, Wash. Its size is twenty-four feet in length, five feet eight inches in width, and four feet eight inches in height. It weighs over 41,000 pounds.

THE ARTIST'S CORNER.

GREEK sculptors often used eyes of glass or crystal in the faces of their statues.

The oldest existing statue is one of wood, admirably modeled, colored and with eyes of crystal. It is of a man named Ra-em-ke, an Egyptian, and dating from about B. C. 4000.

The early representations of Christ in painting were purposely devoid of all attraction; in the eighth century Adrian I. decreed that Christ should be represented as beautiful as possible.

In the Vatican at Rome there is a marble statue with natural eyelashes, the only one with this peculiarity in the world. It represents Ariadne sleeping on the island of Naxos at the moment she was deserted by Theseus.

In modeling the horse for his equestrian statue of Gen. Grant, for the Union League club, of Brooklyn, the sculptor, William Ordway Partridge, has had casts made from a living charger kept at his country home in Milton, Mass., where he is at work.

FACE AND FIGURE

show it, if you're a healthy woman. They'll have a beauty of their own, no matter what your features. Perfect health, with its clear skin, rosy cheeks, and bright eyes, is enough to make any woman attractive.

To get perfect health, use faithfully Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health, flesh and strength.

For periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and "female complaints" generally, it is so effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back. Is anything that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good?"

For every case of Catarrh which they cannot cure, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to pay $500 in cash. You're cured by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, or you're paid.
