SCIENTIFIC GLEANINGS.

The light of the full moon is three hundred thousand times weaker than that of the sun, when the latter is at meridian.

The hydrographic office at Washington is disposed to attribute the heat and drought in Europe this season to the scarcity of icebergs in the North Atlantic.

PETROLEUM, which is popularly supposed to be derived from coal, is, according to advanced science, more probably the result of the action of water on metal.

An ordinary transparent glass globe absorbs about ten per cent. of the light passing through it. Ground glass absorbs about thirty to forty-five per cent., and opal glass from fifty to sixty per cent.

St. JOHN LEBROCK says that "during the many years he has had ants under observation, he has never on any occasion seen anything like a quarrel between any two ants belonging to the same community."

WILLIAM ASTOR CHANLEY, the American explorer, has just made his first contribution to the geography of a hitherto totally unknown part of Africa. During his last voyage of exploration he started from the mouth of the Tana river, in East Africa, and for sixty-five days visited a region that had been wholly unknown to explorers.

STILL LOOKING FOR A COOK.

The Terrible Mistake of a Newspaper Man in an Intelligence Office.

"Our cook left us a few days ago," said a depressed-looking newspaper man the other day to a writer for the New York Times. "She said she couldn't live in a house the head of which lived so irregularly and kept such terribly bad hours, even if his wife was ill. And there has been nothing but trouble for me since. I had to get my own breakfast this morning. That was bad enough. But this afternoon, as a direct result of the cook's unhappy departure, I was placed in a most embarrassing position," and recollection caused the newspaper man to look very mournful indeed. "I started for an intelligence office with the firm intention of getting a cook or leaving for a tropical country where one can live on raw fruit. Several alleged cooks passed in review before me, but none of them suited me. While I was questioning one a good-looking, modestly-dressed woman entered the place. Something about her appearance struck me favorably. I said to myself: 'There's the cook I want,' and I started for her. I recall now that the manager made an attempt to attract my attention, evidently realizing my intention. But I took no notice of her. My state of mind was such, owing to the departure of our cook, that it never occurred to me that anyone else should want to procure servants. I touched the new arrival on the arm and said: 'You're the very woman I want for a cook. What are your terms?'"

"Lord! She turned slowly around, put up a pair of those long-handled glasses—I forget what you call 'em—and calmly looked me over. 'I want a tall footman,' she said. 'You are tall. What are your terms?'"

"We are still without a cook."

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 100 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufactory will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.

TITLE PERFECT

THE DALLES

Wasco County, Oregon.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

City Stables, BURHAM & ROBERTSON Proprietors.

These Stables have on hand the finest Livery in Eastern Oregon, and can accommodate patrons with either Single or Double Rigs, closed Hacks or Carriages day or night.

MORE ROOM.

Also, can furnish First Class accommodations to teamsters with freight or driving teams, having added to their stables large feeding and wagon room.
