MORE OF THE STORM

Another Section of the State Suffered the Fate of Chemiere.

Not a Vestige of a House Remains in the Vicinity-For Miles the Shore Is Strewn With Debris.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7 .- From fishermen arriving in the city today it is learned that another section of the state suffered the same fate as the unfortunate Cheniere. It is the district known as the Louisiana marshes on Lake Borgne, near Bayou Muscalo. There a number of fishermen banded together and erected a cluster of cabins convenient to the oyster beds. The cabins are now gone and the occupants unaccounted for, with a few exceptions. Not a vestige of the house remains in the vicinity and the shore for miles is strewn with the wreckage of luggers and other craft, while among the brush are to be seen bodies of sailors and others. Since and shelter. Supplies are flowing in from all sides, and several boats have gone today and will go on Monday to games, 1000 points up each game, betion in his parish, where the death list 8,738 for Ives. was long. Men, women and children are starving and hundreds of corpses lie on the river bank.

NEW OBLEANS, Oct. 5 .- The return of everal of the relief parties sent to the storm-stricken districts of the state fully confirm the news of yesterday. The corrected lists put the total dead at The Dalles, Portland and Astoria 2,041. This may be increased by some 500 by subsequent news. The loss of life at Cheniere Caminada is now put at 1,250; at Bayon Andre, 72, and at Grand Island, 24 instead of 10. Fears are entertained for fishermen to the number of 200, living at Lake Borgne swamp. There is great complaint from throughout the Bayou Cook section of the stench of dead bodies lying in the swamp. A large number were buried, but there are still over 200 exposed. The damage at Chandlier island is more serious than thought at first. Nearly all the vessels anchored there were wrecked. The United States quarantine station and the transfer steamer Walsh were destroyed and everybody on quarantine Through daily service (Sundays ex-cepted) between The Dalles and Portsicians. The loss to the government Dalles at 7 a. m. connecting at Cascade is $130,000. The steward, nurse and Locks with steamer Dalles City, three patients were drowned. THE MOORS WELL ENTRENCHED.

The Spanish Troops Will Have Some Trouble in Dislodging Them.

MADRID, Oct. 7 .- The Moors have reappeared before Melilla. During the FISHERMEN'S VILLAGE WRECKED night they cut entrenchments along the crests of three hills at some distance from the fort, but on Spanish territory. They have a strong position, which can be taken only by a charge across a stretch of open country. As they are well armed, the Spaniards will hardly be able to storm the position before receiving large reinforcements. Intelligence of the Ape.

A naturalist recently declared that we are wrong in ascribing unusual intelligence to animals of the ape species, 'As it is the only animal with hands, it does many things by instinct and habit and necessity that resemble the acts of human beings and make it seem to us as if it is guided by intellect. The ape is hardly more intelligent than the dog. If, indeed, he knows as much. He has a gift for imitation and a capacity for mischief, and that is the most human part of him. But the animal that really knows the most, or is capable of being trained so as to show the most striking results of education, is the domestic pig."
