THE DALLES OREGON

ODD AND CURIOUS WEIGHTS.

How the Habits of the Soudan Settle Their Purchases with Gold.

Money used by natives in occidental Soudan consists of small univalve shells called cauries, derived from the Maldives and Laquedives islands, and also from Zanzibar. For several centuries past ships have brought to the mouth of the Niger or to the Guinea coast, as far as Liberia, entire cargoes of these shells, the value of which runs from twelve cents to forty cents per thousand, according to the part of Africa. Cauries are only used in countries where gold is scarce. In the whole area between Kong, Bondonian and the sea, cauries are not used; natives settle their purchases with gold dust or nuggets.

To weigh the gold they use as currency they employ small copper scales. Weights are extremely varied in shape and size. Most of them are in brass. Many of the weights exhibiting human figures, animals, tools, ludicrous scenes, etc. says the Jeweler. Circulars are modeled with wax and cast in brass. Africans may have learned this process from Europeans who visited their country, but their art exhibits a native character thoroughly novel. These black artists have evidently reproduced what they saw or imagined, and they have done it in a style of their own; their works are peculiarly humorous and faithful.

Each native, who has a pair of scales has also special weights which he alone understands how to use. He knows, for instance, that a giraffe weighs one or two mitkals of gold; that such a weight in the shape of a bird represents one-half or one-third mitkal of gold, etc.

Wanted.

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction, as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 50 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its rushing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.

See me on the ground, or address me at Hood River, Wasco County, Oregon.
