Correspondent: Will you please enlighten a reader who has been in the mountains for two months what congress has done in that time?
Certainly, O.

Deaf mutes are never seakick. We have this on the authority of Mr. Herbert Nichols, who describes in a graphic and most interesting way for McClure's Magazine, for October, the work done at the Harvard Psychological Laboratory.

Who says nobody reads the advertisements? A Pennsylvania man who certified that a patent medicine "completely cured" him has been stricken from the pension rolls. The patent medicine company should make his loss good out of the profit of the advertisement.

We are promised a thirty days' distraction in the senate over the question of whether or not Dubois can be made to vote on a simple proposition. It is unfortunate that a tidal wave or something else dreadful don't swallow up Washington, senators and all, and perhaps the recent storm is a threat that something of the kind may be expected.

Senator Dubois, of Idaho, has made himself conspicuous in the U. S. senate by his stubbornness in refusing to vote when his name was called. The refusal suggests a wanton disregard of the design of his constituents, whom he is supposed to represent in the national capital. Senator Vilas suggested that he might be expelled which, although severe, is no more than he deserves. If he cannot be actuated by manly principles he should be relegated to the sagebrush plains of his state for reflection and study of the habits of the lizard and horned toad.

Indiana day at the world's fair eclipsed all competitors in a display of its best products—the human mind and the soul. The other states have sent governors and orators to speak for them, but Indiana, with a profuseness of display, sends Governor Matthews, ex-President Harrison, ex-Secretary of the Navy Thompson, who still is "the old man eloquent," Senator Turpie, Gen. Lew Wallace, a citizen who has won renown as a general, as an ambassador and as an author, and James Whitcomb Riley a poet whose melodies are "wood notes wild," and sweet as wild. No state has come to the exposition under the lead of such a band of notables.

COMMENTS OF NEIGHBORS.

It's too cold to chew gum out doors.—Klamath Star.

The mayor and one-third in number of the councilmen of The Dalles are physicians and under their regime the city has become so alarmingly healthy that pill-peddling is likely to become one of the lost arts.—Goldendale Sentinel.

The lesson taught this season by the bountiful rains should be heeded by our farmers; and that is that grain should be properly stacked after being cut. By this means wheat would be protected from the inclemency of the weather.—Condon Globe.

The flight of geese to the south has been going steadily on for two weeks now, and their early cackle on southward wings is the herald of an early and very long winter. No Indian with whom we have spoken on the subject, and we have spoken to several, can remember a time when the early geese-cackle floating southward failed to be the precursor of a long and stormy winter.—Klamath Star.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at Snipes & Kinsersly's.

Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers.

EXPENSIVE WORK.

The Financial Havoc Created by Cupid's Little Dart.

Enormous Sums Spent on Marriages and Honeymoons in the United Kingdom During One Short Year.

Last year there were, according to the returns of the registrar general, 320,000 marriages in England and Wales, says London Tid-Bits. The returns from Scotland and Ireland bring it up to a total of more than 375,000 for the United Kingdom. Just consider the amount of money that must be spent in connection with 275,000 marriages, and the conclusions that follow have suggested a new train of thought to a contributor. It means, in the first place, as many courtships. What is the usual length of a courtship? That depends—like many other things. But, seeking a happy medium, we may fairly take eighteen months as an average. Say one-half of our sweet-heating couples are so situated that letter writing becomes a necessity. Say they correspond with each other only once a fortnight, a calculation which must be far below the mark; put them on the moderate allowance of no more than two sheets of note paper, and we shall see the dainty collection of sweet nothings amounting in the mass to a postal revenue of $295,000, and a yearly stationer's bill of $100,000. But these are very small items to think about. The jeweler will come in for a heavier share of the profits. There will be 275,000 wedding rings at a guinea apiece, and engagement rings which we shall be well within the line in assessing at the same price. Then there are the presents which the lover will naturally bestow upon the lady of his choice, ranging from the $5,000 bracelet of the duke to the shilling brooch of the coster. If we put them down with the rings at a guinea in each case, and credit them to the jeweler again, we shall have an account of nearly $5,000,000.

Then come the railroad companies. They must surely reap a golden harvest out of courting. With the inevitable trips and the traveling of separated sweethearts to see one another, we may safely strike an average of $15 for each courtship, which will give us a round sum of $750,000. But all these are only preliminaries. The greatest expenditures will come with the wedding day. There is the trousseau (more or less costly according to circumstances) for the bride, and at least a new suit for the bridegroom. It can be done cheaply enough, goodness knows, when bridal dresses are to be bought second-hand and top hats are obtainable "on the hire system." But most folks like to "do" a wedding to the best of their ability, and in the upper and middle classes, at any rate, the tailor's share of the profit is a large one. Taking only the moderate sum of $25 in each case will give us a total of nearly $6,875,000. Then there are wedding cakes and marriage breakfasts. Reckon these expenses of social entertainment at only $10 a head, and we get another half a million; $75,000 wedding fees, licenses and clergyman's charges will amount to about $500,000, and as many half crowns to pew owners will tot up to $150,000 more, while the lively stable man's bill, allowing only one carriage to every wedding, will make $200,000 more. Finishing up the honeymoon we shall find another tolerable sum to be added to the costs of matrimony. Here there will surely be diversity enough; every stage between the favorites of fortune who may flit luxuriantly through Europe for a year and the daily laborer whose idea of bliss is limited to a day off. If we accept $25 as a reasonable average of so many honeymoons we have a final sum of a million and a quarter to carry on our account. Thus, without speaking of furnishing and other preparations for married life and confining our calculations only to the expenses of courtship and the honeymoon, we shall be within the mark in saying that the annual marriage census of the United Kingdom represents a total expenditure of $35,000,000, a consideration which would certainly indicate that marriage is by no means a bad thing for trade.

GROWTH OF FINGER NAILS.

Results of Some Curious Observations Made by a Prominent Manicure.

A prominent manicure who has devoted many years to the study of the subject states as the result of his observations that the finger nails of the human species grow more rapidly in children than in adults, and that the growth is slowest with the aged.

His observations, however, do not stop at this, for he finds that both in childhood and age they grow faster in summer than in winter. In one instance a nail that required one hundred and thirty-two days to renew in winter renewed in summer in exactly one hundred and sixteen days. During both seasons the patient upon whom this experiment was made enjoyed normal health.

The method of testing the growth was in each instance the same. The nail was pared close and slightly notched at the quick. Both the right and the left hand were studied, with the result that he affirms that the growth of finger nails is more rapid on the right hand than on the left. As the person was right-handed it is presumed that the contrary is true of left-handed individuals.

One peculiarity of the growth of finger nails in addition to those stated is that the period of renewal differs proportionately with the length of the fingers. Thus it is more rapid in the middle fingers than any others. In the fingers on either side the middle finger the period of renewal is about equal and slower. It is even more slow in the little finger, and slowest of all in the thumb.

Comparing the same fingers of the different hands, the person who discovered these curious phases of growth states that on an average the nails on the left fingers of a right-handed person require eighty-two days longer to renew than those of the left hand. In one particular the growth of the nails and hair and beard are governed by the same law, that of growing more rapidly in summer than in winter.

comes, no matter how dark the clouds are, when the woman who is borne down by woman's troubles turns to Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If her life is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, they are completely cured. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she has new life and strength.
"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, invigorating tonic and a soothing and strengthening nerve, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. For every "female complaint" and disturbance, it is the only remedy so sure and un-failing that it can be guaranteed.
If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

Can be counted on to cure Catarrh—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's nothing new. For 25 years it has been doing that very thing. It gives prompt and complete relief. The proprietors offer $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Wasco.
A. D. Bolton, Plaintiff.
Frank D. Gillespie, Rhoda Gillespie, W. E. Hunt and W. H. Butler, Defendants.
To Frank D. Gillespie and Rhoda Gillespie, of the above-named defendants:
In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the Complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the first day of the regular term of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County, next following the date hereof, to-wit: on or before the 13th day of November, 1893.

and if you fail to so answer, or want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in his complaint, to-wit: for a decree of foreclosure of that certain mortgage deed made and executed by you to the above named plaintiff on the 6th day of November, 1890, upon the northwest quarter of section 14 in township 2 south range 11 east, W. M., in Wasco county, Oregon, and that said premises be sold under the terms of said mortgage in the manner provided by law and according to the practice of said court; that from the proceeds of such sale the plaintiff have and receive the sum of five hundred $500.00, and interest on said sum since November 6th, 1890, at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, also a further sum of sixty $60.00 dollars as a reasonable attorney's fee for his services in this suit to foreclose said mortgage and collect the note thereby secured and herein sued upon, together with plaintiff's costs and disbursements made and expended in this suit, including accruing costs and expense of sale, and that plaintiff have a judgment against you, the said Frank D. Gillespie, for any deficiency in the proceeds of sale to satisfy fully all said sums, that upon such foreclosure sale all of the right, title, interest and claim of you and your co-defendants, each and all of you and them, and all other persons claiming or to claim by, through or under you or them, or either, in and to said mortgaged premises and every part thereof be foreclosed, and forever barred from the equity of redemption. That the plaintiff be allowed to bid at said foreclosure sale and purchase said mortgaged premises, at his option, and that upon the sale said mortgage premises the purchaser be let into the possession thereof and every part thereof, immediately, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just. This summons is served upon you, the said Frank D. Gillespie and Rhoda Gillespie, by publication in The Dalles CHRONICLE, a newspaper published weekly at Dalles City, Wasco county, Oregon, for six consecutive weeks, by order of Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of said Court, which order was duly made and entered at chambers on the 26th day of September, 1893.
