OCTOBER OLIO.

A Savory Mess From Miscellaneous News Bits.

When cold reflection bids me feel Regret for follies past, Some newer folly I commit And so forget the last.

The funeral of Bart W. Crook took place this morning.

At Walla Walla it rained all night Sunday and the following day.

The trial of A. Wilson for assault and battery was heard this afternoon before Justice Schantz.

Wheat in sacks throughout the Palouse country is sprouting and much damage will result.

Prof. Frank Miller will make a balloon ascension and parachute jump Saturday from one of the lots in the burned district.

The Junior League will give their entertainment and pie social Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the M. E. church.

Mr. Simpson arrived from the Yakima and took with him his dead son yesterday, who died on the Regulator Saturday evening.

Fargher Bros. shipped 600 mutton sheep from Lyle, Wash., this morning, by D. P. & A. N. Co. to Portland. They will ship as many more tomorrow.

Mr. Jos. H. Sherer, the great wool shipper of Wasco county, is shipping a large lot of wool by the D. P. & A. N. Co. which is to be forwarded to Boston at once.

The close season for Denny pheasants, grouse and quail ended on Sunday, and for the next month they may grace the table of anyone fortunate enough to buy or kill them.

Lee We, a subject of the Flowery Kingdom, leaves tonight for the world's fair, to be absent in Chicago four months. He is the first Chinaman of The Dalles to take in the great international exhibition.

Mr. Gesner drove into the Saltmarsh & Co. stock yards 225 head of fine hoes today, which were raised near Prineville, in Crook county. They will be shipped this evening to the Union Dressed Meat company, Portland.

Mr. Herbring recently received a bill charging him 3 cents a pound more for woolen yarn than he paid a year ago when wool was worth twice as much as it is today. Being a close observer the merchant was quick to note the discrepancy and has made a "howl" about it. The answer will doubtless bring an explanation and apology.

A reporter of the Walla Walla Statesman, who has been making a tour for the purpose, finds that at least one-third of the unusually large crop of wheat in Walla county is now only fit for chicken feed, and the loss in Umatilla county is estimated at over 50 per cent. The rain caught many of the largest wheat raisers with their grain still in the stack.

Mr. S. W. Mason, who lives about 12 miles southeast of The Dalles, east of 15-Mile, brought to THE CHRONICLE office this morning some very large and handsome potatoes which were raised without irrigation on hill land. Mr. Mason's method of planting is to drop one eye in a hill and he gets a large, healthy vine and superior potatoes. He showed also an ear of the red rice popcorn which is a very handsome and prolific variety.

Freight Wreck.

An east-bound freight pulled into Hood River yesterday afternoon and lacked a few car lengths of clearing the main track. The conductor ordered a brakeman to go back and flag the next freight, which was closely following. While performing the duty another freight in the yards whistled to back up and the brakeman mistaking it for a signal to return, came back without flagging the train in the rear. In a few minutes on came the train behind the curve, and before it could be checked ran into the rear end of the train which had come in a few minutes before. About half a dozen cars were demolished, and one of them had to be burned. The locomotive lost her smoke stack and sustained other damages. Some of the cars were loaded with wheat, a part of it becoming scattered and lost. Conductor Smith's caboose is totally wrecked.

THE FOREST RESERVE.

The Importance of Keeping Intact This Large Body of Timber.

Mr. C. E. Bayard has a map of the recently designated Cascade forest reserve, which has very intricate boundary lines, extending generally southward from the Columbia river including Mt. Hood and taking in Mt. Pitt and a few miles beyond. It has an average width of 20 miles and is 200 miles long. The map has been prepared by the Oregon Alpine club and sent to several members. The idea of reserving a tract of forest must be generally conceded to be wise, as by this action our rainfall is perpetuated, and the streams, whose sources emanate from this region, will maintain their volume far into the heated season, which would otherwise become dry when they were most needed. Writers upon forestry have shown that the wholesale removal and devastation of forests affects climate and waterflow unfavorably. The influence of forests on fogs and clouds may frequently be observed. The fog seems to linger in the woods after it has cleared off elsewhere. Trees, also, act as condensers, as gatherers of dew, frost and ice. Hail storms and all violent air disturbances show a marked disinclination to enter forests, which accounts for our immunity from cyclones. From the above considerations and many more it will be seen that the protection of our forests is of the first importance.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Vanderpool of the S. B. company, at Dufur, is in town today.

Col. W. D. Barnes is in the city and is registered at the Umatilla house.

Mr. S. A. Byrne has nearly recovered from his spell of sickness and is again about.

Miss Annie Henderson arrived last evening from Portland and will visit friends in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Blossom with a party of friends were passengers on the Regulator this morning for a short trip to the Cascade Locks.

Mr. J. Hanna of Boyd is in the city today. He reports that he finished threshing before the rains and that most of his neighbors were equally fortunate.

Dr. Rinehart, who is very ill, was conveyed to the train last night, and proceeded to La Grande, where a particular medical friend of the doctor's will care for him. Dr. Rinehart's father lives near La Grande, and to his home the doctor will be taken.

DANIEL CAMPBELL'S SAD END

A Pathetic Letter From His Stricken Father.

EDITOR CHRONICLE—It is my painful duty to inform you that my dear son departed this life Monday October 2d at 20 minutes past 12 o'clock.

After we finished our own threshing Mr. Hurst, who owned the machine, wanted him to go with him to finish two more jobs and he would be done for this season. I did not want him to go, as we had so much work of our own to do at home. He said he would be home when two more jobs were finished and told me not to work too hard, as he knew I was not very strong, but to go to the blacksmith shop and get the plows sharpened and he would be home with me to put in our fall grain. The evening I expected him home a messenger came and shouted to me that Daniel's right foot accidentally slipped in the cylinder and was cut off about the knee. I told him to saddle my horse as quick as possible and I fainted, but soon recovered, and rode nine miles to our kind friend, Nelson Weberg, as fast as the horse could run. I was afraid they would not think of strapping his leg to keep him from bleeding to death before the doctors arrived. But his leg was strapped and they had sent for two doctors, one from Tygh and Dr. Vanderpool from Dufur. They arrived as soon as they could get here and told me to prepare for the worst, that he might drop off at any time. I told them to use their own judgment and save him if they possibly could. They worked faithfully with him until the next evening when they thought him sufficiently recovered from the shock as to be able to stand the operation. I saw his knee could not be saved and thought it better to cut above in sound flesh as it would heal up sooner. He stood the operation well and I was so full of hope that he would be spared and recover. He complained that his knee was gone. I told him to be thankful and if the Lord spared him we would sell the ranch and get a nice artificial leg for him and go at some light business. He was well educated. We had nothing to fear. He was cheerful and full of hope but said that he was resigned to the will of God. I will give great credit to our Tygh doctor for performing one of the finest surgical operations I ever saw and I thank him and Dr. Vanderpool for their faithful attention to my dear departed son. The evening before he died I saw that there was a change for the worse. I would not lay down and stayed with him all night and until he died. Through the night he was a little delirious and would repeat some verses of hymns and would say "my dear and blessed Saviour." The doctor from Tygh arrived about 11 a. m. and did all he could but was unable to save him. He died Monday the 2d at 20 minutes past 12. The people were all so very kind and so sorry. He was buried at 2 p. m. in Kelly's graveyard. Elder Crane, pastor of the Baptist church, was absent across the mountains. There was the largest turnout to his funeral that was ever known in this part of the country. Deacon Farlow addressed us. His subject was: "If the earthly house of this tabernacle is dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens." Daniel always took an active part in prayer meetings and Sunday school and was always ready to perform his part. The church was crowded and there never was such lamentations in that church, young and old in tears. He was clerk of the Baptist church, which was organized here last summer. I acknowledge I fairly worshipped him. He was so kind and good, and I expected to have so much pleasure the balance of my days. I am failing and breaking down and all alone. My only consolation is that I know my severe loss is his great gain. Deacon Farlow, of Wamic, in addressing us did justice to the subject and some beautiful and appropriate remarks were made by Brother Kelly. Very sincerely, J. C. CAMPBELL.

WAPINITIA, OR., Oct. 12, 1893.

Specimen Cases. S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawaba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. The Union Pacific.

Telegram. The bill of complaint in equity filed by Peter B. Wyckoff and Edwin F. Atkins against the Union Pacific road is an extended printed document of 71 pages. First, it recounts the holdings of the petitioners and then gives a specific statement in regard to the bonds and stock, debts and interests of each member of the system, and how much stock of each the Union Pacific company holds. The extensive land areas are then mentioned as located in Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Utah.

It is further stated that the Union Pacific system has a capital stock outstanding of $60,868,500 divided into shares of $100 each; a funded debt of $85,492,185; United States 6 per cent currency bonds, $33,539,512; interest on United States bonds, balance of sinking fund deducted, $17,784,764.48; interest accrued not yet due, $277,799.27; bonds and stock owned by auxiliary companies held by the company as collateral, $7,542,345.98; income accounts, $44,694,203.82, less deficit of United States requirements of sinking fund, with accrued interest on United States bonds February 1st, 1880, to date, $5,368,268.63, making $39,325,935.19; grand total, $245,431,041.92.

The system includes 8166 miles of railway; total bonds of $40,206,816; stocks of $57,563,068.01; miscellaneous of $2,322,481.46, or grand total of $100,113,365.49.

Like a Thief in the Night. Consumption comes. A slight cold, with your system in a scrofulous condition that's caused by impure blood, is enough to fasten it upon you. That is the time when neglect and delay are full of danger.

Consumption is lung-scrofula. You can prevent it, and you can cure it, if you haven't waited too long, with Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is the most potent blood-cleanser, strength-restorer and flesh-builder that's known to medical science. For every disease that has to be reached through the blood, for Scrofula in all its forms, Consumption, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering coughs it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy know that their medicine perfectly and permanently cures Catarrh. To prove it to you, they make this offer: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter what your case is, they'll pay you $500 in cash.
