FIRST VOTE IS TAKEN

Was on Peffer's Amendment for Free Coinage.
IT WAS DEFEATED BY 39 TO 28
Voorhees' Bill was Substituted for the Wilson Bill—Other News Notes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—Consideration of the repeal bill was resumed and Stewart resumed his argument against it. At 1:30 p. m. he yielded to his colleague, Jones.
At 3:30 Jones asked that he might conclude tomorrow. Voorhees said he did not wish to deny any one the right to speak, and hoped the senator from Nevada would conclude tomorrow, but as no one was prepared to go on just at that time, he would ask for a vote on the pending amendment in order that some of these might be gotten out of the way in the meantime. Peffer asked that he might occupy the floor for a short time in explanation of his amendment and was recognized.

Voting on amendments to the silver bill began at 4 p. m. Peffer's amendment to restore the law of 1837 for free coinage alike of gold and silver lost by 28 ayes, 39 noes.

4:30 P. M.—Voorhees' bill was substituted for the Wilson bill, ayes, 58, noes 9. This is a pro forma vote, and not a test. Only radical silver men voted against it.

The vote on Voorhees' substitute for the Wilson bill was with the unanimous consent that the Voorhees bill should be subject to amendment. Under these circumstances neither is debate cut off nor is the right to offer amendments curtailed.

4:35 P. M.—Perkins of California offered an amendment which provides for the coinage of the American product, charging 20 per cent seigniorage, allowing no gold coins of less than $10 and treasury certificates of less than $5. He is now speaking on the amendment. The house was adjourned till Monday.

Voorhees is Hopeful.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Voorhees is hopeful of a speedy conclusion of the debate in the senate. He said this morning he thought there might be a vote today on some amendments. The senate has settled down with as much patience as possible to listen to the speeches yet to be finished. Morgan may have a few remarks to make, and Dubois will, when an opportune time presents itself, speak 15 or 20 minutes. Allen, the populist who broke the record for long speeches, is said to have another in contemplation before the end comes, but he denied this today, saying he might think it necessary to speak a very short time and might not; if he did, his remarks would be short and extemporaneous. After voting on the amendments begins, it is understood that Morgan will speak briefly, and it is said will touch upon the subject of cloture in opposition to the establishment of such a rule. The indications show a desire on the part of the managers of the bill to prod the thing along, and if the speeches are drawn out the session may be extended in the evenings a couple of hours so one or more of the numerous amendments that have been or will be offered may be got out of the way.

A Vote Will be Taken Soon.
WASHINGTON, D. C., (Special to THE CHRONICLE).—The prospects are favorable for an early vote on the repeal bill, as there is nothing to retard it except the concluding remarks of several speakers, including Jones, Dubois, Stewart, and others. The repeal men are resting, and some are out of town. Those anxious to have their vote recorded should be here by Monday or Tuesday, as the vote will be taken not later than that.

Krause's Headache Capsules.
A remedy used with unvarying success as a cure for Headaches of all kinds. The results have been so universally good that it is no longer an experiment. It has been used for Headache resulting from Dissipation, in Periodical sick Headache, in Headaches caused by severe labor (mental or physical), or by exposure to the sun, and in all cases with the most gratifying results. We have, after a thorough investigation, had no hesitancy in taking the agency for this effective remedy, and conscientiously recommend it to our patrons.

NEWS NOTES.

The Battle creek disaster numbered twenty-seven victims killed.

Miss Daisy Garland, daughter of ex-United States Attorney-General Garland, committed suicide at her home in Washington, Friday morning. She was 34 years old and is thought to have been insane.

The bill to aid the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado and South Dakota to support schools of mining, allowing each 25 per cent. of the proceeds of the sale of mineral lands within the state, but not to exceed $12,000 per year, was passed in the senate yesterday.

Wallace, a lion which escaped yesterday from his cage into a stable in New York City is still at large. He slept quietly during the night, but resumed his roaring and prowling about bright and early in the morning. Police are stationed outside the stable to protect passers-by in case the lion gets out, but they are getting tired of the job, and declare that they will kill the beast if he is not caged pretty soon.

IN FOREIGN LANDS.

Fifield church, near Abington, Eng., built in the 13th century, is burned.

Dr. Schweninger says Bismarck is not making the satisfactory progress toward complete recovery which has been heralded abroad.

The remains of the great composer Gounod were buried yesterday with full civic and military honors. Those present at the funeral were celebrities in arts and sciences from all parts of France.

The damage caused by the eruption of the volcano of Calbuco is incalculable. Many of the residents have been obliged to leave their homes because of the great volume of ashes and volcanic cinders which have fallen. Hundreds of acres of growing crops have been ruined by the fall of lava.

Praise From France.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Le Temps commenting upon President Cleveland's attitude upon the silver question, says by resisting to the uttermost, Cleveland will render great service to the business world, and at the same time will help modify the constitutional equilibrium of the United States by transforming the members of his cabinet into quasi-parliamentary leaders. This is the most serious innovation involved in the financial crisis.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Kim Fung, a Chinese woman, died from opium poisoning in Portland, Thursday.

R. S. Applegate, an old pioneer who had been lost in the mountains for three days, was found dead about eight miles from Drain, in the mountains. He was returning home when he met his death. Three days after he left Elton his horse returned to the place he started from, and parties went at once in search of him. They found him dead. The cause is not as yet known. He was a son of Jesse Applegate, one of the first settlers in the Umpqua valley.

John O'Neill, a Walla Walla boy, aged 28 years, committed suicide Saturday morning by taking morphine. For a number of years he has been a habitual drunkard. Friday night he went into a saloon, took a bottle of morphine from his pocket and drank a large quantity. Early next morning he went into another saloon, took several drinks and fell on the floor. Medical assistance was summoned and everything done to save O'Neill but it was fruitless and he died at noon Saturday. It is supposed despondency while intoxicated caused the deed.—Heppner Record.

Aboriginal Americans.

Man lived on this continent earlier than or at least as early as he lived on the European continent, but it is not believed that the Indians are descended from such early people. The latest theory seems to be that the so-called American Indians are descended from Chinese, who in some way reached the western coast thousands of years ago. The parallels between the customs of the Chinese and the ancient Peruvians are often very striking; the systems of government of the two peoples were similar; the emperor and the inca both claimed descent from heaven; both countries had irrigated canals, and in both countries taxes were paid in kind and stored in public warehouses; both countries maintained public roads, disposed of their dead with the same ceremonies and built houses in much the same style. Humboldt found in the Mexican calendar strong resemblances to the ancient calendar used in Tartary, India and Tibet. The skull of the American, except in its greater length, greatly resembles that of the Chinese.
