Gentlemen:
On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 38 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Dynamite Bomb Exploded in a Crowded Theater.
LARGE NUMBER OF LIVES LOST
A Frightful Scene of Panic and Confusion—Cowardly Miscreants Escape.
BARCELONA, Nov. 8.—A dynamite bomb, thrown by anarchists into the midst of a crowded theater, is the latest outrage and disaster in Spain. The Liceo theater, a magnificent building, the largest of the kind in Europe, was filled last night with a distinguished audience, estimated to number 4,000, the opera "William Tell" being given. While the performance was in progress two dynamite bombs were hurled from the topmost gallery into the midst of the stalls. One exploded with a detonation which shook the building to the foundations and scattered death and destruction on every side. The second bomb fell into the lap of a lady, and rolled thence harmlessly to the floor. After a moment of paralyzing terror, fears of other bombs being thrown overcame all reason, and the audience made a mad rush for the exits, women and children receiving no consideration in the fierce struggle, and being trampled beneath the feet and crushed and left with the other wounded and dying behind them as they sought the open air. Only a few of the braver ones remained behind to care for the loved ones lying helpless and bleeding on the floor. When the gorged exits were finally cleared, a horrible sight was presented to those who mustered enough courage to return to the rescue of those unable to help themselves. The stalls where the bomb exploded was a mass of splintered wreckage, amid which lay a large number of dead bodies, some mangled beyond recognition. When the wreckage was finally cleared away, 15 bodies were revealed, six men and nine women, all frightfully torn and disfigured. Most of them were members of one family, who it is supposed, formed a gay theater party in honor of the birthday of one of their number. Among the dead is an American named Figueras. The utmost consternation prevails over the evident inability of the government to cope with the situation. The bombthrower escaped. The missile which did not explode is the exact counterpart of those used by Palemas, the anarchist who tried to assassinate General Martinez Campos.

Election Echoes.
Ohio pronounces strongly for McKinley, if 82,000 majority can be called strong.
In Ohio the republicans have carried some counties which they never carried, even during the war.
New Jersey stands: Senate, republicans 11, democrats 10; assembly, republicans 39, democrats 21.
Today's reports from Pennsylvania give the republican majority at 125,000, the largest since that given to Gen. Grant.
The entire republican judicial ticket of Illinois was elected, with the possible exception of Kraft, who was supposed to have some anarchist leanings.
Republicans had everything their own way in Philadelphia. The state, as far as received, gives Jackson, republican, for state treasurer, 128,072; Osbourne, dem, 20,150.
Telegrams of congratulation are pouring in on McKinley from all parts of the country, wishing him equal success in 1896. The republican papers are out with his name for the next president.
Jerry Simpson expresses the greatest confidence that the populists have carried the state, and will show gains of 10 to 15 per cent over the vote of 1892. Republicans, on the contrary, say their reports are from both city and country, and that both show republican gains.
Frank D. Jackson, republican, for governor of Iowa is elected by about 30,000 plurality, or 6,000 more than Harrison for president in 1892. The legislature will be republican. The republicans elected 17 out of 24 senators and 65 out of 100 representatives. The populist vote in the state will hardly exceed 25,000; the prohibition vote is not more than 14,000.

WAYS OF THE WICKED.
A THIEF in Bloomsburg, Pa., was pursued and captured by policemen mounted on bicycles.
THERE are some very mean thieves in Bayfield, Wis. They steal gravestones from the cemetery.
A MAN in Monroe county, O., has been kicking himself for some time past. He became frightened about the safety of the savings banks and drew out all the money he had—$1,300. A burglar stole the money, and the timid fellow holds only an empty bag.
AFTER returning home from a party Mr. and Mrs. Philor King, of Delavan, Wis., were startled by a rap at the door. When it had been opened three masked men rushed in and forced her to surrender diamonds to the value of $1,000, which she had worn at the party.

Root and Branch,
The poison in your blood, however it may have come or whatever shape it may be taking, is cleared away by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's a remedy that rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses and invigorates the whole system. Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Enlarged Glands, and the worst Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, are perfectly and permanently cured by it.
Unlike the ordinary Spring medicines or sarsaparillas, the "Discovery" works equally well at all seasons. All the year round and in all cases it is guaranteed, as no other blood medicine is. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. You pay only for the good you get.
Isn't it safer to say that no other blood-purifier can be "just as good" if it were, wouldn't it be sold so?

My Wife.
For over three years was afflicted with dyspepsia of long standing. She used three bottles of Simmons Liver Regulator—her chills are entirely cured and the dyspepsia almost vanquished.

THE DEADLY TOADSTOOL.
How the Mushroom May Be Distinguished from Its Poisonous Imitator.
The epidemic of deaths from toadstool poisoning continues without abatement, says the Philadelphia Record. The alarm is spread. Columns have been printed, most of them revealing the fact that the writers could not tell a toadstool from a mushroom, and terminating usually with the sage and satisfying advice to the person who wishes to know how to distinguish toadstools from mushrooms that the safest plan is to "buy your mushrooms from a reliable dealer." In the meantime, at a season when mushrooms are growing in many fields and the deadly toadstool appears in every wood, people continue to eat toadstools for mushrooms and die in consequence of their ignorance. It is comforting, therefore, to see at last an authoritative word on the subject in a letter from Charles McIlvaine, who is the recognized New Jersey authority on hymenomyces, to the Had-donfield News. Briefly, Mr. McIlvaine says that in deaths from toadstool poisoning it is usually the unloaded gun which is discharged into the unloaded brain, and that it is those who think they know all about the edible mushrooms who usually get poisoned. He explains that there is but one deadly variety of toadstool, but that is very abundant. Some other toadstools will cause temporary distress. Another authority states that many toadstools are just as edible as mushrooms. Mr. McIlvaine says he has never found the deadly toadstool growing in a field nor the edible mushroom directly from manure. The deadly toadstool grows from sheath, which may be either pulled up with the specimen or which may remain in the ground when the stem comes loose from it. The gills of the deadly toadstool always remain white, or in age are slightly tinged with yellow. The mushroom gills under the cap are pinkish, changing to purplish black with age. The poison of the deadly toadstool does not take effect under eight hours. The antidote is a hypodermic injection of one-sixtieth of a grain of atropine at each dose until one-twentieth of a grain is administered or the action of the poison arrested. The circulation of Mr. McIlvaine's explicit directions will keep people from hunting for mushrooms in the woods, will enable them to avoid the deadly toadstool and perhaps save many lives.

THE BEST PLASTER.—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
