NOVEMBER NUGGETS.

Our Daily Clean-up From in and About the City.

Mr. E. Schanno has set a good example by wheeling away the mud in the street at Harris' corner until a hard rock bottom is struck.

A couple of pups went into Bayard & Barnett's office today, and took away a pair of shoes belonging to Mr. Bayard, while the owner was across the street.

Now is your chance to guess at the candy in Garretson's window, all guessing closed by 7:30 Saturday evening at Herrin's gallery. Candy free. Come everybody.

The young ladies of the Christian church Sunday school will give a nice social in the basement of the church Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Come early and have a good time.

The matter of the suspension of C. H. Finn, an attorney of La Grande, from practicing before the bar of Oregon, a trial will be held in The Dalles before Judge Bradshaw on Nov. 20th.

Twenty-two people availed themselves of the opportunity to get crayons of themselves for nothing at Herrin's gallery yesterday afternoon as per advertisement in Monday's CHRONICLE.

The K. of P. propose to erect a handsome public building soon that will be a credit to the city. The lower story will be fitted up to accommodate shows, etc., a requirement The Dalles is sadly in need of.

The river has risen rapidly at this city during the past four or five days and this morning the gauge registers ten feet above zero. Yesterday the rise was two feet two-tenths, and today the river is rising fast.

A big lot of fruit trees from the Jewett nurseries, White Salmon, arrived today for distribution among our fruit raisers. These nurseries are quite popular, as Mr. Jewett sells nothing but first-class trees and standard varieties.

Farmers near Tacoma have nearly completed arrangements for the importation of a large number of hogs from the east to fatten on damaged grain. The Great Northern and the Northern Pacific have partly agreed to transport hogs over their lines free, so that the whole cost in bringing the hogs would be the cost of delivering them to the above roads.

Miss host Skibbe, just after pulling his shoes off last night, preparatory to going to bed, noticed a lantern light in the vicinity of his chicken house. Watching further he saw a man in the act of crawling through a small hole in the fence. Noisefully he made his way to within about six feet of the fellow's ear, and shouted "police! police!" It was a complete surprise and the enemy became panic stricken, resulting in a complete rout. He straightened up and ran away like a deer into the darkness. No further effort was made at pursuit.

The Eastern Oregon Asylum.

In regard to the branch insane asylum to be constructed in eastern Oregon, the trustees concluded to instruct the superintendent of the present insane asylum, Dr. L. L. Rowland, together with two or more assistants or consulting physicians, to examine all the sites that have been offered for the branch institution in the Eastern portion of the state, and require them to render to the board of public building commissioners as quickly as possible a report respecting the healthfulness and suitability of the localities for the new institution. When this is done, then some decisive action will be taken toward the preliminary work of construction.

Crooked Pups.

Everybody who pretends to know anything, knows Sam Klein—but there are a great many tricks that as yet the boys are not on to. Sam is the owner of a second hand store, sells everything in fact, and he is also the owner of two very fine pups, which he has been educating for the past two months. Now, the latest trick of Sam's is this. He will get up an argument relative to the late republican election in the east and while he is busy with you the pups are at work in your office or place of business, packing away your valuables, of course taking them to their master's place of business. The truth of all which I can vouch for. C. E. BAYARD.

Dime Social.

A pleasant time was had by those who attended the dime social at the Methodist church last evening. A program of considerable merit was prepared, as follows:

Stung from Finest of the Wheat. Prayer. Opening address, Rev. Whisler. Organ solo, Mrs. E. J. Collins. Recitation, Fanny Cheesman. Bass solo, Mr. Magee. Recitation, Lola Eubank. Vocal duet, Myrtle and Retta Stone. Singing from Finest of the Wheat. Benediction.

The program was followed by a delectable lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to a general social good time.

Holliness Meeting.

FIVE MILE CREEK, Nov. 4, 1893. A protracted meeting will commence at the Three Mile schoolhouse on Saturday evening, Nov. 11th, at 7 o'clock sharp, and if there is no preventing Providence, a basket meeting will convene at 11 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m. and also at 7 o'clock p. m. Everybody is invited to come with your mind staid on God. Services free to all and no salary or collection of money is or shall be taken up. No, never. Amen. J. M. D. WARFIELD, Evangelist.

CONSTRUED IT WRONG.

Misunderstanding an Ordinance Causes Trouble.

The special meeting of the council last night developed a peculiar incident this morning. Ordinance No. 202 was read, section 1 of which provides:

That no horse, mare gelding, mule, goat, chicken, turkey, goose or duck shall hereafter be allowed to run at large, or be herded, tied in or upon any of the streets, alleys, unenclosed places or public grounds within the limits of Dalles city, during any of the hours of the day or night except when being driven through the city for shipment, or other lawful purposes.

The marshal, claiming to act under the instructions of the council, unhitched a pack horse and impounded it while the owner was buying a bill of goods from Pease & Mays. Coming out of the store to place the goods on the horse he noticed it was gone, and inquiry showed it was in the pound. Mr. Van Bibber's horse which was attached to the milk wagon, was also untied and put in the pound.

Whoever of the council gave the marshal such instructions was wrong, for the proviso in the last part of the section covers the ground, in that the horse was tied in accordance with a lawful purpose.

The event caused some excitement this morning, but the town soon resumed its wonted calm, as the obnoxious order was revoked, the horses liberated, and the marshal instructed to molest tied teams no further.

A SPECIAL SESSION.
The City Council Meets L. E. Crowe Councilman—Other Business.

Mayor Paul Krefl presided at a special meeting of the city council last night. The rap of the gavel occurred at 7:45 and the full council was present. Mr. Krefl stated the object of the meeting was to elect a councilman from the Second ward and transact any other business that might properly come before the meeting.

Nominations being in order, Ald. Lauer named L. E. Crowe. George W. Rowland was nominated by Ald. Joles and Emile Schanno by Ald. Hudson.

The contest settled between Rowland and Crowe, several ballots being taken, which resulted Crowe 3, Rowland 2, and a deadlock was formed. All compromises were barren of result, and finally Ald. Eshelman suggested that the minority yield to the majority, and not postpone the election. One Rowland supporter yielded, which resulted in the election of Crowe.

Mr. Lauer, from the committee on streets and public property, said he had been made an offer of the use of the vacant lot on the corner of Fourth and Washington streets, owned by Snipes & Kinersly at a rental of $4 per month. Mr. Hudson moved that $3 be offered, the lot to be used only in the daytime. After considerable discussion the motion was carried. Mr. Hudson next moved that hitching posts be provided on said lot, which also carried. A motion for the city to fill up the old well on said lot lost and the marshal instructed to notify the owners to do so.

Mr. Eshelman moved that the arc light by St. Mary's academy be moved to the middle of the street, saying it would please many taxpayers. Mr. Joles, who knows the past history of everything and forgetteth nothing, said he believed that light was once moved from the middle of the street to its present location for a purpose, and wanted to know what the purpose was before voting in favor of it. This refreshed Mr. Krefl's memory and he said it was to light up Second street, as well as Third, and the matter was referred to the committee on streets and public property.

Ald. Joles spoke of an incomplete sidewalk on Eleventh street, which Mr. Hudson believed would be built before the next meeting, and no action was taken.

The recorder was instructed to notify Mr. Richmond to remove an outhouse on Third and Laughlin streets.

Ald. Hudson moved that the committee on fire and water be instructed to prepare an amendment to the fire ordinance, compelling those who have patent flues to remove them and put in brick and mortar. Passed.

The acting-mayor asked what had been done in the matter of enforcing the collection of licenses. The recorder made a statement which was apparently satisfactory, and the recorder and marshal were instructed to attend promptly to the collection of delinquent taxes. The following changes in committees were then announced:

Streets and public property—Lauer, Butts and Crowe.

Fire and water—Joles, Lauer and Crowe.

Finance—Joles, Butts and Crowe. All other committees stand.

After a few desultory remarks by the mayor on the two Thanksgiving proclamations, announcing that "we would observe Cleveland's," the meeting adjourned.
