Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

THE ONLY INTERNATIONAL MONEY

Does Not Believe in a Double Standard of Value Any More Than in Different Standards of Measurements.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.-The 125th annual banquet of the chamber of commerce took place tonight, 300 prominent business men being present. Secretary Carlisle in part spoke as follows: "While it would be unfair to attribute the unequal distribution of our trade with the outsiide world to the character of their fiscal legislation, I

JOHN GCARLISLE think it may be safely asserted this country could not long maintain its present position as one of the most conspicuous and important commercial nations which now control the trade of the world unless we preserve a monetary system substantially, at least, in accord with the monetary systems of other principal nations. We cannot possibly change the situation, and consequently the only practical question is whether it is better to establish by law an inferior kind of money for use at home exclusively and another kind for use abroad, or have all our money good enough for use in every market where our people trade. Gold is the only international money. It is useless for the advocates of a different system to insist that this ought to be so. It is so, and we cannot change the fact.

"I have never been able to understand who could tell me. To my mind it seems as absurd to contend that there be two different standards as to insist upon having two yardsticks of different lengths or two gallons of different dimensions. If two standards are not equal in value, it is evident one of them must be a false measure; and if they are equal in value, it is evident, no matter what law might declare, there will be in fact but one standard. The question of whether the obligations of the United States be paid in coin current in all the markets of the world has already been settled in my opinion for all time to come. This does not imply that silver of that metal is one of the problems which time and events can solve; but for many years fluctuations in its value have been so rapid as to demonstrate the fact that it cannot be safely coined without limitations."

Anarchists' Headquarters Discovered. The police also obtained a large quantity of materials and chemicals used in the manufacture of bombs, beside a quantity of bombs loaded and unloaded, a large number of pistols and a mass of anarchist literature. Beside these they secured incriminating documents which will probably lead to arrests in Spain, France and Italy, beside other foreign countries. It is reported that anarchists are already fleeing from Spain in the hope of escaping to France. The French government has been asked to search all persons crossing the frontier. Over 200 reds are already under arrest for connection with the recent explosions.
