MR. STEVENS' REPLY

He Answers at Length Commissioner Blount's Report.
HIS VERSION OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS
His Obligation of His Country and His Duty as an Ex-Minister Demand he Should Reply.

AGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29.—Ex-Minister Stevens' answer to Commissioner Blount, regarding the Hawaiian affair, was given out tonight. Mr. Stevens says: "A deep sense of obligation to my country and a minister's duty to defend an insult threatening against a struggling American colony, planted as righteously and firmly on the North Pacific isles as our pilgrim fathers established themselves on Plymouth Rock, demand that I shall make answer to the astounding misrepresentations and untruths of Commissioner Blount's report on Hawaiian affairs. Not wishing to be severe on a neophyte in diplomacy, with no knowledge of the world's affairs, outside of his own country, sent on a very peculiar errand amid currents and quicksands entirely unknown to him, I say he has been in part the victim of circumstances, having been caught in meshes and snares adroitly prepared for him by the cunning advisers of the fallen Liliuokalani and by the shrewd, sharp and long experienced British diplomatic agent, whose aims and hopes Blount has served so well, and without the least suspicion that he was aiding the ultra-British interests even more than he was helping the Hawaiian monarchists."
HIS PLAN PRE-ARRANGED.
"It was clear enough from Blount's manner from the day of his arrival at Honolulu, as well as by his letter to the department of state, written soon after, that he had designed, at whatever cost, to repudiate the views and actions of the recently terminated administration, and that in order to do so he must impugn the action of the American minister and the commander of the United States steamer Boston. A total stranger, it was impossible for Mr. Blount to know how unfitting it was for him to take up his quarters where he was certain to be surrounded by royalists, and where the supporters of the provisional government would be reluctant to go. As a precautionary safeguard against shutting out Americans from ready access to Commissioner Blount, a wealthy and highly respectable widow of the American colony was ready to grant the use of her house to Mr. and Mrs. Blount, the commissioner to pay the same amount it would cost him to live at the royalist hotel. This polite offer of an American resident to an American commissioner did not originate with the provisional government, nor did the provisional government have anything whatever to do with the proposed arrangement. A committee of three American citizens, born and educated in the United States, men who had not taken any part in the revolutionary proceedings the previous weeks went on board the Bush, when that vessel came into the harbor. At the request of the three, an American gentleman introduced them to Mr. Blount. His manner of receiving their visit repelled them, and they asked me to state the reasons why it could not be pleasant to him and better for all concerned for him not to go to a royalist hotel, but to take a residence on neutral ground, where he would be master of his own surroundings. As delicately as I could, I stated the offer of the committee of his countrymen, pointing out to him that by accepting their proposal he would be near the archives of the legation, which he could conveniently use and which the owner would be pleased to place at his disposal. Brusquely he refused the courteous and honestly intended offer of his countrymen, and at once placed himself among royalist and ultra-British surroundings."

ACCESS TO THE LEGATION RECORDS.
"The insinuations and implications in Mr. Blount's report that I was averse to his access to the legation records is a shameful perversion of facts. I took to him the printed dispatches of Minister Merrill to Secretary Bayard; the printed records of the recently adjourned legislature, containing the recorded votes for and against the lottery gang, the recorded votes as to the recent changes of ministers, and the official copy of the lottery charter. This was evidence of decisive value, it had really come to Honolulu for any other purpose than to convict Harrison's administration and the senate foreign affairs committee of hasty and ill-advised action in January and February last.

His manner while allowing me to leave these important documents in his room showed he cared not to receive them, and the general drift of his reply indicates he did not even read them."

Admiral Stanton in New York.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Admiral Stanton, who was relieved of the command of the South American squadron for saluting the flag of the rebel, Admiral Mello, arrived here on the steamer Sprelate last night. He declined to speak of the incident which led to his recall. Concerning the bombardment of Rio Janeiro, he said that he had been through the city several times, and beyond a piece of cornice chipped off here and there very little damage was done to the city.

NEWS NOTES.

A dispatch from Rio Janeiro says: "Admiral Mello has sailed with several warships in an unknown direction. It is believed the fleet went south."
The Perry Athletic Club has telegraphed Richard K. Fox, of New York, that a purse of $30,000 will be given Corbett and Mitchell by Perry (Oklahoma) bankers and merchants if the fight is brought there.
The first election in New Zealand under the woman suffrage law resulted favorably to the government. Women voted in large numbers, supporting mainly the candidates who professed Christianity and favored temperance.
The Kansas City Times prints a statement by P. D. Reader, a well-known Iowa republican, on Hawaiian affairs. Reader was in Hawaii four months last winter. His statement corroborates Blount's report. He upholds Cleveland and Gresham.
A Cedar Rapids dispatch of yesterday says: A snow storm began this morning. It is now five inches deep with no indications of a let-up. Street car service is almost paralyzed. A blizzard is approaching. There are indications of a railroad blockade.
Thanksgiving day was celebrated in Detroit by the distribution of food to the poor, 10,000 of whom were provided with a good dinner and enough food to last several days. This was the work of the Pastors' Union, which gathered over $25,000 worth of food and clothing.
The oddest damage suit on record was brought in Philadelphia by Joseph Wood. The night of October 1st, last, he was struck and badly injured by a human head severed from a woman's body by a railroad train at Holmesburg junction. Wood was standing on a platform when the train struck the woman. He has sued the Philadelphia Railway company for damages, holding that it was negligence in having no safety gates at the crossing.

MITCHELL NEWS.

The Field Ample Covered by Our Regular Correspondent.

Born, to the wife of Lafa Frazelle, on the 18th, a daughter.
E. B. Allen returned from a visit to his old home in Bear Valley. He is much improved in health.
George Seigfort, the mail carrier from this place to Canyon City, reports plenty of snow, the 20th, about the latter place.
Mrs. W. W. Stone is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Allen. She is visiting her brother at Mitchell for the last few days.
On the 16th snow fell to the depth of a quarter of an inch in and about Mitchell, reminding us very forcibly that the year is fast fading away, and the gleaming snow, and perishing biting cold will be here only too soon.
Frank Chamberlain, after an absence of more than three years, returned to his childhood's home at Mitchell, very much improved physically if not financially. He reports very hard times where he came from, Rosalia, Washington, with no prospects for a betterment this year. Many crops were standing in the fields uncut, since the cost of cutting and caring for it would be more than the profits. There were no sales of grain at cash.
Mitchell's Dramatic and Literary society did well in the way of entertainment on the eve of the 16th. The doors were open at 7 o'clock and a well filled house they gave amusement until a late hour with dialogues, rehearsing choruses, tableaux and music, instrumental and vocal. The opening song by a chorus of voices was very nicely done. Asa Lunz in the role of Bill Nye deserves a great deal of credit for his apt imitation of that personage. Bro. Watkins' farewell to his congregation was ludicrous in the extreme, exciting applause at every pause. Music and song by Miss Stella Boardman and Fred Hoyt was excellent. The Sleeping Beauty (tableau) might have been worse represented in a more modern city than that of Mitchell. A Spanish fandango, on banjos, was exceptionally well done by Frank Chamberlain and Bud Boardman. But seven little children put to shame the older members in their perfect acting of their parts. The burlesque band with their rat-a-tat-tat and rub-a-dub-dub was almost perfect in its execution.

THE BEST PLASTER.—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a diannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
