MESSAGE ON HAWAII
What President Cleveland Will Send to Congress.
REVIEWS THE WHOLE QUESTION
Willis Could Not Carry Out His Instructions—J. L. Stevens Talks on Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says: "The president's message on Hawaii will be a complete review of the whole question. The president will show that the queen was overthrown by acts sanctioned by Stevens; that, as it received the approval of the United States and was considered unjustified and unfriendly, it must be undone. The president will probably say that Willis was instructed to first decline formally the proposition of annexation, and then to announce that the United States demanded that the queen be restored to power peacefully, but that if she was unwilling to be seated without the assurance of this government that she would be protected from harm and retained in power by the United States, then to take no steps but to await instructions from the United States. The president will say the minister found the provisional government much stronger than was expected, being seated and its power increasing each day. All the conditions were such as to prevent the carrying out of his instructions, and now that the president has exhausted his prerogatives of office to bring about a settlement in Hawaii without calling upon the naval force to assist it, there was no other resort for the president but to leave the question for the further action of congress. It is believed the president will not diverge from his present policy. It is certain, however, he will hardly urge that force be resorted to."

Stevens Talks on Hawaii.
PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 14.—Ex-Minister Stevens delivered an address to the Portland club last night on Hawaii. Among other things, he said: "The natives of the island, now numbering 34,000, are decreasing at the rate of 1,000 per annum, and soon will be extinct. No greater evil could be inflicted on them than restoration. The charge that the missionaries have unlawfully taken lands is unjust. The islands have been fairly won by 70 years' work by Americans. Blount confined himself to a limited field of observation. Of a large body of influential men he cared not to obtain information." Stevens concluded by saying he believed his hearers would prefer the policy pursued toward the islands by Jefferson, Jackson, Grant, Blaine and of Cleveland of 1889, to that of Cleveland of 1893.

Chris Evans Found Guilty.
FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 14.—The jury in the case of the outlaw Chris Evans, charged with the murder of United States Deputy Marshal Wilson and McGinnis, at Sampson's flat, disagreed this morning, after being out 16 hours. The judge refused to discharge them and sent them back. About half an hour later they returned with a verdict of "Guilty of murder in the first degree," fixing the penalty at imprisonment for life.

When the jury brought in its verdict in the Evans case, fixing the penalty at life imprisonment, Mrs. Evans fainted, and the children all broke down and cried. Chris took the sentence with little concern, walking out of the court room smiling. At 11:30 Mrs. Evans had just been restored to consciousness, but is completely unstrung.

It isn't in the ordinary way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the weak and suffering woman who needs it. It's guaranteed. Not with words merely; any medicine can make claims and promises. What is done with the "Favorite prescription" is this: if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, your money is returned. Can you ask any better proof that a medicine will do what it promises?

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a certain remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodical pains, internal inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down sensations, and all chronic weaknesses and irregularities, it is a positive and complete cure.
To every tired, overworked woman, and to every weak, nervous and ailing one, it is guaranteed to bring health and strength.
Pasturage.
Moore's ranch, about three miles south of The Dalles, has unexcelled pasturage and any one who desires to avail themselves of the fact can secure reasonable terms upon application.

Charges Against Carlin.
MISSOULA, Mont., Dec. 13.—Ben Keely, the trapper, who assisted the Carlin party to escape from the Clearwater country, claims the abandonment of Colgate was a cowardly desertion, young Carlin having even refused to let Colgate have any food, although he was at the time able to walk slowly. Keely's whole story is very degrading to young Carlin, Himmelwright and Pierce. He is suing General Carlin for a reward.

Carlin was advised by Keely and Spencer, the guide, to start back two weeks before they did. Even after they had started and commenced to realize the trap they were in, Carlin and the New Yorkers could not be gotten out of their blankets until 10 o'clock in the morning and gave no assistance in making rafts or in camp work until they became frightened. They were a continual cause of delay. Contrary to general supposition the party did not encounter any snow until two days before they were found by Lieutenant Elliott. Keely thinks the escape of all could have been made on rafts had not the New Yorkers been afraid of getting drowned.

Stevens Talks on Hawaii.
PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 14.—J. L. Stevens delivered an address at the Portland Club last night on Hawaii. Among other things he said: "The natives of the island, numbering 34,000, are decreasing at the rate of 1,000 per annum, and will soon be extinct; no greater evil could be inflicted on them than restoration; the charge that missionaries had unlawfully taken the lands was unjust. Trial of Prendergast.
CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Among the witnesses in the Prendergast trial were Edward Stone, a reporter, Police Sergeant Barber and Miss Sophie Harrison, daughter of the murdered mayor. The story as developed by their testimony did not differ materially from that already published. Miss Harrison was greatly agitated while giving her testimony. She seemed almost on the point of fainting at times. Prendergast was nervous and ill at ease.

Will Protect Their Commerce.
RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 14.—T. L. Thomson, United States minister to Brazil, announces that whatever other nations may do, the United States will protect their commerce from all encroachments of the insurgent naval vessels. The action of other nations in withdrawing the protection formerly afforded to merchantmen by war vessels at this port is construed as an attempt covertly to aid the insurgents in their efforts to restore the monarchy.

Red Hot Testimony.
In the smuggling cases trial yesterday Blum had a memorandum of the transactions in the Chinese and opium business between January 10th and January 20th, 1893, during the time Dunbar was in San Francisco and Blum handled the money. Among the items of receipts and expenditures mentioned in the memorandum, as explained by Blum, are: Remittance from Major John Wilson for passenger money, $70; paid Lotan $150; received from Seid Back, $235.50; remittance from Wilson for Chinese passenger account, $473.80; gave Jackling $50 and $20; paid Lotan $500; sold two Chinese tickets to Seid Back for $50; received from Wilson for tickets sold Chinese, $600; paid the attorney before referred to, $350; paid Tom Jordan $250; received remittance from Wilson, $475, for Chinese passengers; paid attorney $250; paid Lotan $200; paid Mulkey $1,200. Blum stated Dunbar had left in his hands a check drawn in favor of an attorney for $500, which he took up and paid the attorney the amount in cash. He sold a number of tickets to Seid Back and other Chinese, which are accounted for in the memorandum.

A note written on a half sheet of note paper under date of November 7th, was introduced in evidence by the government. It read:
"Charley: I have good information that Ching See and Ho Hong are all right, and if you find their certificates land them."
"In whose handwriting is this letter written?"
"Objections of defendants' counsel overruled."
"Jim Lotan's."
"To whom was this letter sent, and who is the 'Charley' mentioned?"
"Paddock."
"What was Paddock then?"
"An inspector under Lotan."
"What did Ching See and Ho Hong give for being landed?"
"Fifty dollars apiece."
"Who got the money?"
"Well, I received it and turned it over to Lotan. Jim gave me the note, and I took it to Paddock, who was in charge of the ship, and he let the Chinamen ashore."
Examination was then directed to a conference of some of the defendants which took place in Val Hastings' room. The object was to consider a proposition of Coblentz as to the landing of Chinese laborers and opium. Blum and Jackling met on the street, and went up there together. There were present at the conference Mulkey, Lotan, Struve, Jackling, Coblentz and Almu. They all talked over the proposition. Mulkey warned Blum and others against Coblentz. Mulkey did not feel in the most amiable mood towards Coblentz; he had been watching Coblentz some time, and he said, "We had better be slow about this Coblentz business; he's a little crooked."
"Mulkey said Coblentz was a d-d rascal," Blum continued, "and he was afraid he would pull us into trouble."

For a sore throat there is nothing better than a flannel bandage dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It will nearly always effect a cure in one night's time. This remedy is also a favorite for rheumatism and has cured very severe cases. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Notice is hereby given that unless the delinquent taxes of Dalles City are paid within ten days from the date of this notice the names of the delinquents will be published.
By order of the common council of Dalles City, made December 23, 1893.
Witness my hand this 7th day of December, 1893.
DAX MALONEY, City Marshal.
