HE SPEAKS TOO LATE.

The president presents a strong statement of facts in support of the policy popularly accredited to him, that of his desire to re-enthrone the queen, believing she was deposed unlawfully and through the intimidation of the U.S. evident that he appreciates this mistake in the following paragraph of his report: "The unfortunate public representations of the situation and the exaggerated on record. They are made from a statements of the sentiments of our people have obviously injured the prospects of successful mediation." These "public representations" and "exaggerated statements", would never have been made had he chosen to deal openly with the American people, instead of sending Blount with paramount authority, and Willis with secret instructions. leaving all others in doubt as to what was their real purpose. Consequently, when Willis said "he came not to investigate, but to act," the plain inference was nothing less than to place the queen on the throne. This naturally aroused indignation, for such is a prerogative which belongs only to congress. The president deserves to be alarmed that the prospects of successful mediation are disnonest store, inclose price in letter, and obviously injured. He may have been sure of this unfavorable press comment let in plain scaled envelope, 2 cents postage upon his exclusive dealing, for he invited it. Manifestly he has injured the cause for which he was laboring, for the American press will dislike to retract what has been said, unless compelled to by the severest demands of honor. It will consequently try to make the most of such evidence as can be secured by and dizziness the most careful search that the marines were landed not to aid the provisional government but to protect American interests, as claimed by Stevens, Thurston, et al.; that the queen was too corrupt and profligate; and that the strength of the revolutionists was ade-

The average price of wheat is 52.1 cents per bushel. The next lowest price in the twenty-three years from 1870 to 1893, inclusive, was 64.5 cents, in 1884. The average for the ten years 1870 to 1879, was 104.9, and for the ten years 1880 to 1889, 82.6, while for the three years 1890 to 1892, it was 76.6. The decline from the average of the last three preceding years, in two of which, viz, 1891 and 1892, occurred the largest yields in the history of the country, is 24.5 cents, or 32 per cent. The principal state prices are; New York, 76; Pennsylvania, 68; Virginia, 63; Georgia, 90; Texas, 56; Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan, 57; Indiana, 52; Illinois and Minnesota, 51; Iowa, 49; Missouri 47; Kansas, 43; Nebraska, 38; South Dakota, 44; North Dakota, 43; California,

CURRENT PRESS COMMENT.

The Lehigh strikers gained nothing which they could not have secured without a strike, and its consequent loss in wages and in many cases of positions.

With ice on the free list of the Wilson bill, we suppose the newspaper jokes on the ice man will not make their annual appearance next summer.

American industries suffer from "that tired feeling," due to Cleveland's message and the Wilson bill.

Suppose the majority in congress should consider Blount as either badly misinformed, or a point-blank liar, what would Cleveland and Queen Lil. do then, poor things?

Mr. Cleveland remarks that "tariff reform is directly before us." Wonder if he don't wish it were behind us instead?
