The democratic party is confronted with a condition that bears hard on its in McMinnville by steamer Regulator theory. To increase revenue and de- this morning. crease taxes at the same time is something of a feat.

Editor Stead, London editor of the Review of Reviews, will not be safe in Chicago any more. At a meeting of the were more forcible than elegant. If he had not so thoroughly dazed them they would have cowhided him right there, but before they had recovered their selfpossession he had sloped.

on the governor's ancestry, as will be seen from the following: "The youth who fired the Ephesian dome, just to see the old thing burn, must have been the founder of the Pennover family. His penchant for deviltry for its own sake could not have been accumulated in one generation. Heredity must bear some of the responsibility, though there is no doubt it has been thoroughly cultivated."

out the state, not necessarily against the given man, for a dishonest motive has never yet been attributed to Sylvester Pennover, but against the false impression which the gentleman unwittingly makes | tette. that one-third of the people of Oregon are poverty-stricken. This letter will have great weight, coming from the source it does, and its evil effects will be hard to counterbalance by many such Miss A. Story.

Talk on the World's Fair-Mrs. E. M. efforts as has been made by the Salem Wilson. board of trade. A small per cent of the Song—"What the Choir Sang About populous cities of the state may be in the Bonnet," Margaret Kinersly and actual want, but few complaints have Maude Clarke. been heard from the rural districts, and none east of the Cascades. It there had been such destitution as exists in San Moore, Francisco and Chicago there would have publication throughout the east of Gov. salary. Pennover's letter. But no such suffering exists, nor one-tenth of it. The damage will be hard to counteract now, for the East, already jealous of the steady hegira westward, will not take nearly the pains to contradict the report that they were to enlarge upon the state of affairs suggested by the remarks of the governor of Oregon.

Says the Union Republican: The decisive defeat of the Wilson bill would open every American factory within thirty days. The news that congress had struck out the enacting clause of that measure of folly and destruction candle, are only lights of love. The parwould kindle every furnace fire, populate every deserted mine, and set every idle loom in motion before a single month had passed. It would give work at American wages to every man who wants work. It would arouse all our great St. Petersburgh railway and tariff reproductive industries to magnificent activity. It would put good food and plenty of it on the workingman's table. It would put good clothes and plenty of them on the backs of the workingman's family. It would bring cheer and warmth and comfort into a hundred thousand homes where these are strangers today. It would stamp out pauperism; it would preserve a multitude of households from disruption; It would rescue a vast army of men, women and children from the certainty of misery away our ashes and grease and buy and degradation; It would be a message of gladness whose electric influence rope; we raise dogs and buy hoge; we would reach every corner of the continent and inspire every heart with new guano; we grow weeds and buy vegetaenergy and new hope.

Cause of Hard Times.

A farmer down in San Joaquin county, Cal., thinks the cause of the hard times is because most people buy more than they produce. He says: "We let our timber rot and buy fencing; we throw soap; we give away our hides and buy let our manure go to waste and buy bles and brooms; we catch five-cent fish with a $4 rod; we build school houses and send our children off to be educated and, lastly we send our boys out with a $40 gun and a $10 dog to hunt for tencent birds."

When on a visit to Iowa, Mr. K. Dalton of Luray, Russell county, Kan., called at the labaratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, to show them his six-year-old boy, whose life had been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. A LONG PROCESSION of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It prevents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, duliness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, and all Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Dis-Annette Michell left on the boat this eases, it is the only remedy that's quaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.
