JANUARY JOTTINGS.

Minor Events Which Pertain to City and Country. Though a woman can't drive a nail, she puts to scorn the men in such a simple little act as driving out a nail. Write it 1894. The Stanfords beat the Portland footballists by the beautiful score of 16 to 0.

artistic touch and naturalness of expression have never been excelled in The Dalles. In these the features seem to stand out in as bold relief as a portrait in oil, while the shading is in accurate harmony with the whole.

Mr. Harry Liebe has bought out Stacy Shown's jewelry business at E. Jacobsen's. Mr. Liebe is one of The Dalles' young men, who having been in Germany for four years learning the jewelry trade, is back to the place of his birth and now is in business for himself.

Robert Mays reports the loss of fifteen head of young cattle out of a herd of 200, at his Tygh valley ranch, that have died from a peculiar and fatal disease. They seem to die in a few minutes after being stricken and without a struggle.

At the regular meeting of Friendship Lodge, No. 9, K. of P., last evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: E. Jacobsen, C. C.; R. G. Davenport, V. C.; J. S. Winzler, Prelate; W. L. Bradshaw, M. of W.; D. W. Vause, K. of R. and S.; W. E. Walther, M. of E.; F. S. Gunning, M. of F.; John C. Hertz, M. at A.; H. H. Riddell, I. G.; Douglas Dufur, O. G.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. F. Edwards of Portland is in the city and the guest of Mr. N. Whealdon. Miss Catherine Martin went to Rufus last night to finish her term of school there. Mr. Jos. Freiman of the Cascade Locks was in the city and returned on the afternoon train today.

MARRIED.

Sunday evening, Dec. 31, 1893, by Rev. W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church, at the residence of E. W. Helm on Third street, Edwin W. Helm of The Dalles and Miss Anna White of Wapinitia.

"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than any other medicine." H. M. BANGS, druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment.

Exactly What is Sought After. A safe, reliable remedy that can be taken without interfering with business or pleasure or disorganizing the system. Such is in Simmons Liver Regulator, purely vegetable.

The M. E. Entertainment.

The M. E. church entertainment Saturday evening will be long remembered by those who attended it, not alone for its intellectual enjoyment, but for a dainty yet substantial supper prepared by skilled hands.

After supper an adjournment was taken from the basement to the church proper and the exercises opened with a selection by the mandolin and guitar club. Archie Barnett then amused the audience with "The Dutchman's Serenade." A ladies quartette then sang "Annie Laurie." The exquisite melody of this selection is something grand, if the word is fitting to a combination of female voices, for the base is absent. It seemed to the writer that he never before heard "Annie Laurie." Mrs. M. E. French next sang an old-time favorite, "The Song That Reached My Heart," with much feeling and expression.

The '49 Camp at the Midwinter Fair.

Probably the most attractive feature at the Midwinter exposition will be the old log cabins in the '49 mining camp. The proprietors of this enterprise have secured the cabin that U. S. Senator George C. Perkins built and lived in at Thompson's Flat, Butte county. The cabin now belongs to Major Frank McLaughlin, of Oroville, on whose mining property it now stands.

Another cabin that will certainly catch the eye and awaken long slumbering memories is the one built by, and in which lived millionaire John W. Mackay. It was while he lived in this cabin that Mackay made his first big strike.

These cabins, as well as those of Mark Twain, Major Downie, the noted Bandit Joaquin Murriata and Alvinza Hayward, will be turned into perfect museums, wherein will be displayed relics of olden times when mining was in its primitive state.

Mrs. M. A. Paulson, medical electrician, treats all diseases successfully with electricity. Special attention given to ladies and their diseases. Room 6, rear of free reading room.

A NEW YEAR'S TRAGEDY.

A Fatal Shooting Affray at the Cascade Locks.

John Cummings, a wood chopper at the Cascades, working for Mr. Stewart, was shot Monday morning about 8 o'clock in his cabin, about a mile and a half from the station, by a man named John Hull, better known as "Heavy Jack." Cummings has been there about three weeks and Hull about two months.

The cabin was built by Cummings, who sold it to Hull, and, with Cummings' partner, all three were hatching there. After the sale Cummings had packed up his things and was leaving early Monday morning, when he returned for some purpose. Then it was the shooting occurred. After the shooting Hull hurried to the woods, where Cummings' partner was working, and surprised him with the remark:

"I've shot your partner." "What for?" "Well, he was a larger man than me and I had to do it."

Hull apparently acted on the suggestion, but instead went to the cabin. In the meantime Stewart had been informed by Cummings' partner of the shooting and he went to the Cascades, while the other went to the cabin. At the cabin Hull was found bathing Cummings' head, and had previously placed him on the bed and covered him up. Soon afterwards Hull went to the station where he was arrested by Stewart and is now in the county jail at The Dalles.

It appears that Hull is mentally unbalanced, as his actions at the Locks have been of a queer nature. He delighted in imitating the cow-boy, and a belt of cartridges and revolver and a sombrero was an habitual affectation. The wounded man was living at 7 o'clock last evening, but died this morning.

The Bal Masque.

The masquerade ball by the Jackson Engine Co. last evening was the event of the season in that line. There were not so many maskers, but the number of spectators present was very large, crowding the available floor space of the spacious hall. The scene presented on the floor during and after the grand march baffles description. The personages represented cover a period of several centuries, and from all quarters of the world, all mingled together in a truly cosmopolitan fashion. There was a knight of the Fourteenth century, a Priscilla, a clown, Japanese ladies, Germans, heroes and heroines of history, fiction and allegory, and for the most part all well sustained. Gents first prize for the best sustained character fell to J. Ullrich as "Snicklefritz, the tailor." He had ingeniously attached a table from his waist, supplying it with a set of legs, which were crossed in the fashion of the tradesman, and actually looking as if he was sitting on the table. John Arndt won the second prize as a German. He was supplied with wooden schoen, and a long pipe and took the part well. Ladies first prize was won by Mrs. Lauretson as an old woman with a spinning wheel. The days suggested by the representation will have soon passed from the memory of all living in America. The second prize, a pair of vases was divided between Mrs. F. W. L. Skibbe and Miss Katie Eben, who assumed the part of Japanese ladies. Other characters were fully as meritorious, including Mr. Crofton of Centerville as a knight, Joe Studnicka as a clown and W. H. Butts as "Mother Hubbard." The music was by the well-known Bettingen orchestra, and a splendid lunch was served at the Skibbe house.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept trying it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. MADISON MUSTARD, Otway, Ohio. Advertising Wasco County.

The central advertisement on the fourth page THE CHRONICLE contributes to the development of Wasco county. It will be changed monthly, so that in the course of a year anyone in the East who takes the paper regularly will have full information of our county and the inducements offered for a home. This is done as a matter of enterprise, which we believe our people will appreciate. To secure circulation THE CHRONICLE requests that all who know of friends in the East who would like to better their condition by coming West, will furnish their names, when a copy will be sent each week during the entire year for $1, or once a month for 25 cents. Real estate men, boards of trade and boards of immigration will be given reduced rates on club lists, and the utmost care will be taken that all names furnished will receive the paper regularly.

Children's Bazaar.

A kindergarten bazaar was given yesterday afternoon in Fraternity hall. Miss Booth, the instructress, is doing splendid work in this line, and deserves the good will of the whole community. The nature of her teaching is to instruct the children while ostensibly entertaining them. Experience has shown that the child retains what he learns while being amused fully as much as if work was made of it, and incites him at the same time to exercise his own faculties of perception and invention. The bazaar yesterday was a practical demonstration of what Miss Booth is doing for the children.

A tired woman, just as much as a sick and ailing one, needs Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That builds up, strengthens, and invigorates the entire female system. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, purges and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

It's a powerful restorative tonic and soothing nerve, made especially for woman's needs, and the only guaranteed remedy for women's weaknesses and ailments. In all "female complaints" and irregularities, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

A great many medicines "relieve" Catarrh in the Head. That means that it's driven from the head into the throat and lungs. But, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy perfectly and permanently cures. Use Mexican Silver Stove Polish.
