"VIVE L' ANARCHIE"

Vaillant the Bombthrower Sentenced to Death.

HURLED DEFIANCE AT THE JUDGE
Sorry He Had Not Killed a Few Ministers—Female Footpads in Chicago.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The trial of Auguste Vaillant, the anarchist who threw a bomb in the chamber of deputies, began today. The courthouse is surrounded by guards. Nobody is allowed to pass unidentifed. The proceedings were purely formal. A report was circulated a bomb with a burned fuse had been found outside the court.

The court made short work of the trial, which resulted in condemning the prisoner to death. After the prisoner admitted, in reply to questions of the public prosecutor, that he had been several times in prison for theft, the prisoner exclaimed fiercely: "The unjust conditions of society were responsible for what you are pleased to term robberies." Vaillant said he conceived the idea of blowing up the chamber of deputies while living at Choisy la Roi; he admitted he obtained the money with which he purchased the materials for making the bombs from the result of theft. Later on he reluctantly admitted he received 20 francs from Madame Paul Recluse, wife of a young engineer, and nephew of the distinguished French geographical writer, Jacques Elyze Recluse. Vaillant, however, insisted that Madame Recluse gave him the money as an act of charity, not a subscription to the cause of anarchy, or in any way to further the ends which he had in view. Vaillant said he regretted the bomb did not have the effect he desired, and explained this was owing to the fact that one of his neighbors in the gallery accidentally knocked his arm, while he was in the act of throwing the loaded missile at the deputies. At this point the presiding judge turned to the prisoner and said: "I suppose you wanted to hit Cassimir-Perrier, the premier?" "No," replied Vaillant, "I did not aim at any one in particular, but I wanted to kill some ministers. All ministers are the same to me." Vaillant continued: "It is true I hit some one of the spectators, but I only intended to hurt the deputies or ministers, and I would rather see three or four ministers or deputies killed than have one spectator injured." The judge tried to interrupt the prisoner, but Vaillant succeeded in adding: "I am not waging war against the people, but against society, and I aimed directly at these parasite deputies." Upon their return it was announced they found the prisoner "guilty without extenuating circumstances." Upon hearing the foreman's answer to the judge's question, asking him if the jury had agreed on a verdict, Vaillant sprang to his feet, and shouted: "It is death; I thank thee for it." The presiding judge then announced the sentence of death, and Vaillant upon hearing the words which condemned him to the guillotine, shouted "vive la anarchie."

Female Footpads in Chicago.
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Female footpads introduced a new wrinkle into the business last night. As Charles Krohn was passing along Forty-eighth street he was accosted by two women who wore shawls over their heads. "What time is it?" asked one of them. She instantly cast her shawl over Krohn's head, while the other seized him around the neck and threw him to the sidewalk. Then, while one of them held him, the other went through his pockets, securing $8.50, his wages for the week. Before he could realize what had happened the women had disappeared.

A Leader.
Since its first introduction, electric bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among pure medicinal tonics and alteratives—containing nothing which permits its use as a beverage or intoxicant, it is recognized as the best and purest medicine for all ailments of stomach, liver or kidneys. It will cure sick headache, indigestion, constipation and drive malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c. per bottle. Sold by Snipes & Kinerly.

Settlement Requested.
During my absence, a who have unsettled accounts with the undersigned are expected to call and set with Mr. Geo. Krauss, who has my books and accounts. An early settlement will greatly oblige. Yours truly,
LESLIE BUTLER.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Keeping the President in Hot Water—Income Tax, Etc.

From our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1893.

The democratic wild horses in the house have taken the bits between their teeth and driver Cleveland sits helpless and unable to stop them in their mad rush for the bluffs which overhang the bottomless chasm of oblivion. From the beginning of the extra session and until this week Mr. Cleveland has managed by will power, cajolery and patronage to absolutely control the democratic majority, but that control ended when a majority of one compelled the eleven democrats of the ways and means committee to decide in favor of a 2 per cent. tax on all incomes, individual and corporate, of $4,000 and over. There can be no doubt that this action was brought about by the populist sentiment which so largely controls democrats from the south and west; nor that it will make it all the easier to defeat the Cleveland tariff bill, to which it is to be attached as an amendment, along with the increased tax on cigarettes and whisky and the tax on playing cards agreed to at the same time. The adoption of the individual income tax was a direct revolt against Mr. Cleveland's rule, as he has been from the first opposed to it.

It is not surprising that the democratic bosses of the house had decided that the final vote on the Cleveland tariff bill should be taken on the 17th of this month; there is so little that can be said in its favor that they want the agony over as soon as possible, but democratic absenteeism has already caused them to extend the time until the 22d inst. Neither republicans nor dissatisfied democrats expect that the bill will be either defeated or materially changed in the house, although it is said that Mr. Cleveland will try to muster up enough democratic votes to defeat the income tax amendment. It is in the senate that the bill can and will be defeated, if the words of dissatisfied democratic senators can be depended upon, and republican senators do not allow themselves to be persuaded into helping dissatisfied democrats to secure special amendments. If the democratic senators can be forced to vote for or against the bill just as it is sent from the house there are good reasons for believing that Hill and Murphy of New York, Smith of New Jersey, Gorman of Maryland, Faulkner of W. Va., and Morgan and Pugh of Alabama, will vote against it. If they do the bill will be defeated with two votes to spare, even if the populist senators vote for it, as they probably will on account of the income tax.

"A guilty conscience needs no accuser." Although the Hawaiian investigation ordered by the senate has just got fairly started, members of the administration are already trying to discount the effect of the unfavorable report which they know the facts brought out will compel the committee to make, and party pressure is being brought to bear on the democrats on the committee, in order to get them to let Mr. Cleveland down as easy as possible in that report, not for his own sake, but for the good of their party. If they keep on as they have started they will not have any party to speak of by 1896.

Prof. William D. Alexander, who has been surveyor-general of Hawaii for twenty years, gave important testimony to the committee. He charges that "paramount" Blount suppressed all the really important information he gave him in Hawaii.

Senator Frye introduced a resolution in the senate reciting that in the opinion of the senate there should be no interference on the part of this government with Hawaii, either by moral influence or by force, pending the investigation, and requested that it lie on the table until he gets an opportunity to call it up and move its reference to the committee on foreign relations. When he calls it up he will make a few remarks that will not be pleasant reading to the administration or its supporters.

The democratic opposition to the income tax is growing and it is not confined to the administration and the eastern members, either. Representative Black of Illinois, who was commissioner of pensions under the first Cleveland administration, says of it: "I am opposed to an income tax because it corrupts the public morals. It is an inquisitorial tax. Every man who can will avoid it and perjury awaits its collection. I don't believe it will ever become a law. I should vote for it only when it is necessary to raise revenue to prevent the government defaulting a payment and I should work for its repeal immediately after such a crisis was passed. In my opinion there is no such a crisis confronting us." Representative Compton of Maryland, who is credited with taking his opinions ready-made from Senator Gorman, says: "I shall vote against the income tax. It is a vicious measure."

The democratic caucus on the tariff bill, which has been called for tonight, is expected to be a regular circus. Extraordinary precautions are being taken to keep its proceedings secret.

Colorado's Special Session.
DENVER, Jan. 10.—The special session of the legislature called by Governor Waite to consider the silver question and internal improvements met at noon. The governor's message was read in joint session, after which both houses adjourned till tomorrow. It is now understood the legislature will adjourn at the end of this week, without passing any bills. The governor has been using all his influence on the populists to have them vote to continue the session at least thirty days. Many have forsaken him, and it is understood a majority of both houses favor immediate adjournment.

NEWS NOTES.
Senator Dolph yesterday introduced a joint resolution allowing a number of settlers titles to lands on the Umatilla reservation.

Representative Hermann, in a long interview in the Star, says that the people of Oregon, without regard to party, repudiate the action of Cleveland in Hawaii.

One of the boldest robberies in criminal annals took place in Fowler, a railroad station near Fresno, Calif., Wednesday evening. One man single handed had four men ranged in line, including the agent, with their hands up, in the station house, when two others entered. These were ordered to line up with the others, which they did. He then went through them all, securing about $100. He then marched them single file across the street to a store and held the clerks up with the others. An officer coming up, took in the situation and opened fire on the robber, who returned the shots, seriously wounding the officer. In the excitement the robber jumped into a wagon in waiting and made his escape. He is believed to be Evans' pal, Oakes, and it is thought he was assisted by Evans.

"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than any other medicine." H. M. BANGS, druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. This remedy is prompt and effectual and will prevent any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Shiloh's Vitalizer is what you need for dyspepsia, torpid liver, yellow skin or kidney trouble. It is guaranteed to give you satisfaction. Price 74c Sold by Snipes & Kinerly, druggists.

NOTICE.
To All Whom It May Concern:
By virtue of an order of the common council of Dalles City, made and entered on the 12th day of December, 1893, notice is hereby given that said city council is about to proceed and order and construct a sewer of 8-inch terra cotta pipe on Lincoln street, commencing at the intersection of Lincoln and Fourth street, on the south side of Fourth street, and continuing thence northerly along the center of said Lincoln street to low water mark of Mill creek, and that the cost for said sewer will be assessed against the property directly benefited thereby, as by the charter provided.

Dated this 28th day of December, 1893.
