JANUARY JOTTINGS.

Minor Events Which Pertain to City and Country.

There's less of snow and less of cold, And less of Christmas cheer; The weary earth is growing old And duller every year.

And yet, the children sport and play, With laughter loud and clear; l'c'haps—perhaps I'm growing gray And duller every year.

Leaders are being put in today on Second and Washington streets.

The rock crusher has been supplied with a wood saw, to which power is easily applied.

Wes. Rice shipped 60 head of mutton sheep to the Cascades yesterday morning for the consumption of the workmen.

John Trana came up from the Coscades last night, having in charge S. B. Barr, who is sent up for ninety days for petty larceny.

Elder J. W. Jenkins will preach at Dufur, Or., Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening, Jan. 13th and 14th.

A meeting of those interested in forming a dancing school will be held this evening at Chrysanthemum hall. Everyone who desires to see it a success should attend. Music by Miss Alma Schmidt.

Praise and prayer meeting at the Congregational church this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Topic, A prayer of Daniel-a confession. (Dan. ix: 3-19) All persons not attending elsewhere are cordially invited.

Several republicans were approached today to finish paying the band employed to boom the late democratic convention. The argument used is surely a good one. It was a picnic for them, and they ought to pay something for the fun so kindly

It was something like this: "Resolved, That congress is now in session and Grover Cleveland is running the machine to suit himself; let us saw wood."

The Heppner Gazette and Record a few weeks since charged Prof. Rork with attempting to commit a nameless crime. So far as learned no attempt has yet been made to disprove the accusations and nearly every paper in the state has referred to ic. The Heppner papers invite an action for libel.

Mr. Robert Mays, who has returned again from the inspection trip to his Tygh Valley ranch, reports that when he went out there was a snowfall of about six inches, the weather became cold, and the cattle ceased dving. It has now turned warmer and whether the death rate will be renewed again or not he has no means of knowing.

Eighty-four Chinese made application to register up till last night. Our informant of yesterday said there was 106 who would register, and we misinter-Heppner today and will be in Arlington Friday and perhaps Saturday. From there he will go to Grants, and will be in The Dalles again Monday or Tuesday.

Don't fail to attend the New Years Cantata at Armory Hall, Saturday evening, Jan. 13. There will be such changes by way of new solos and recitations as to make it enjoyable even to those who heard it before. The Mandolin and into the room, and with her own hand Guitar club will render some of their extinguished the taper." "Both docbest pieces and Miss Moore will give a recitation from "Whitcomb Riley." Tickets can be procured at any of the drug stores or at Stephens' dry goods store at 25 cents apiece.

This is genuine spring weather. The air has that indefinable geniality peculiar to March and April, flowers are blooming, grass growing, birds singing, frogs chirping and orchardists are pruning. Winter this year has apparently forgotten to put in his customary appearance, and skies lowering, winds howling, rain beating, frosts coating, women shivering and men cursing at the cold, biting, blighting, dark, dank, damp weather are foreign to the winter characteristics of 1893-4 in The Dalles.

Hot clam broth at J. O. Mack's every day at 4 o'clock.

Pennuts!

Cheaper than anywhere else at the California winehouse.

The young lawyers and law students of the city met last evening and organized a moot club. Their idea is to become familiar with the rules of practice now in use in the circuit court and by frequent repetitions to learn the details connected with the pleading in a case. The council has kindly granted the use of the city hall, our chamber of commerce, for the club and the prospect for a successful winter's work is very good. The officers elected last evening are: President, Douglas Dufur; vice pres., H. H. Riddell; secretary, Daniel H. Roberts. A constitution and by-laws will be adopted at the next meeting.

Whist Club Meeting.

The Young People's Whist Club met last night at the home of Miss Newman. Four tables were played and if subsequent meetings prove as pleasant as the one last night the success of the club will have been great. The efforts of the hostess in entertaining proved very sucbeing a member of the club. Miss Maybel Mack proved the victor in the game, winning by several points. There were so many candidates for the booby that it was impossible to decide who got it. The officers of the club are: President, Robt. Mays, jr.; secretary, Miss Etta Story and treasurer.

Oregon's Congressmen on Committees.

Hon. J. N. Dolph is on the following important senate committees: Coast defenses, commerce, foreign relations, public lands, and relations with Canada. Senator Mitchell is a member of the following: Claims, judiciary, post ber trusts, the great democratic party offices and post roads, privileges and elections, and transportation routes to the seaboard. Hon. Binger Hermann of Ellis is represented on the committees partment, and on public lands.

PERSONAL MENTION.

I. H. Taffe of Celilo is in town. D. C. Herrin is in the Grande Ronde ountry working up trade.

Messrs. W. R. Cantrell and E. C. Warren of Dufur are in the city.

Mrs. Bayley is very much better today and strong hopes are entertained that she will recover her usual health.

CURED BY A FALL. A Lady Freed from Her Infirmities by an Accident. One of the most remarkable cures ever known in Maine occurred not long ago in Portland, says the Lewiston Journal. Three or four years ago a lady in that city was afflicted with what was supposed to be sciatic rheumatism. She lost the use of one foot and ankle, then of the arm on that side. Instead of growing better the disease continually increased until the The democratic clubs that met in our helpless. The doctors were not agreed, cure. before being by several supposed to be the cause. But all treatment was unwas, continued its slow but dreadful progress until the lady was entirely helpless, unable to move hand or foot. It was at this time that the miracle occurred. One day during the temporary absence of her attendant in another room the invalid slipped from her chair, and, being unable to support herself, fell to the floor. The family were much frightened, but were reassured on finding that no serious harm had been done; but the wonder came a day or two later when the helpless invalid began to astonish her friends by moving her hands and doing things she had been unable to accomplish for months. The recovery was as steady but much more rapid than the decline, until now she is fully restored to her old-time health and Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally. skill. Some German Bulls.

A German newspaper man, evidentpreted him. Mr. Chamberlain is in ly jealous of the Irishman's reputation as a maker of bulls, took the trouble some years ago, says the London Figaro, to look up the German record in this line. Among others he found in the published works of certain Teutonic writers the following curious examples: "Among the immigrants was an old blind woman, who came to America once more before she died to see her only son." "After the door was closed a soft female foot slipped tors were unable to restore the deceased once more to life and health." "The Ladies' Benefit association has distributed twenty pairs of shoes among the poor, which will dry up many a tear." I'm Glad I am A-Livin'.

That this here world's a world of woe I don't make no denial, I don't make no denial,
An' speak as one who's had his share
Of human grief and trial.
I sometimes wish it was all past,
Bein' so worry-driven.
But then I figger out at last
I'm glad I am a-livin'.

Our troubles come like files in cake—
There's lots more cake than fly;
There's ten squara deals to every fake,
Ten smiles to every sigh;
There's sneaks, but lots of good men, too;
There's hoardin', but there's givin';
And that is why I take this view,
I'm glad I am a-livin'.

I've found that in this vale of tears

The patent roof umbrella
Is kinder easin' up the fears
Of some poor other fellow.
Don't treasure up your rights an' wrongs,
Don't gredge, but be forgivin';
Make this the cherus of your songs;
I'm glad I am a-livin',

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

Johnson of Ohio Makes a Glowing Free-

Washington, Jan. 10 .- In the house, Boutelle again tried to secure consideratiod for his Hawaiian resolution, which was reported by the naval affairs committee and laid on the table, but was cessful and each member felt pleased at finally overruled by the speaker. The tariff debate was then resumed. Hopkins finished his speech begun yesterday, and was followed by Johnson of Ohio in support of the measure.

Johnson opened with an arraignment of the democratic party for inaction in carrying out its promise to reform what it had characterized during the campaign as the "robber tariff." He said: 'We pledged ourselves to abolish it if the American people gave us authority. They did give us authority; and then our haste to repeal oppressive taxes subsided, and instead of flying at the throat of the protected barons and robbegan, as it were, to wag its tail and look for crumbs. If Cleveland had shown the sagacity and courage the sitthe house is on the committee of rivers uation demanded, the ink would not and harbors only, while Hon. W. R. have been dry on the commissions of his secretaries before congress had been of the expenditures of the post office de- called into extra session to relieve the country of its extra burden of taxation. As the climax of all this delay came the shameful days we have just passed through, in which the house stood paralyzed, because despite our overwhelming majority we democrats [would neither furnish a quorum to be counted, nor count one really present." He commended the bill for its blow at the sugar trust, but added: "The whisky trust, the steel-rail trust, the cordage trust, the bicycle trust, the lead trust, are left free to pluck the American consumer." He spoke of steel rails, of which he was one of the largest manufacturers in the country, declaring that the present duty was equal to 50 per cent., while the present bill proposes a reduction of only 25 per cent.

THE TABLES TURNED.

A Would-Be Vivisector Operated On by His Savage Allies.

One of the most curious expeditions ever planned by man was that once undertaken by Dr. J. G. Bunting, of Portland, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. During all his life he had been a close student of the philosophy of digestion, and for the purpose of his investigations he had that remarkable Canadian, Alexis St. Martin, in his care for twenty years. In order to cinch matters and provide facts for some of the doubting Thomases, Dr. Bunting cast about for some one else upon whom he might continue to experiment.

He could think of but one plan, and that was to go to Africa, buy two slayes and operate upon their stomachs. By opening the body near the fifth rib and perforating the stomach a condition could be produced similar to that existing in the person of St. Martin. Therefore the doctor purchased his supplies and sailed across to Tunis, in the north of Africa. There he hired a native chief with forty of his followers, paying them a liberal retaining fee and promising alluring largess when the trip was ended. They set forth. The doctor carried one thousand pounds in his inside pocket and the chief probably lay awake four nights thinking about the matter. At any rate, on the fifth night he sneaked into the doctor's tent and delivered a little address over the muzzles of two pistols. When he had concluded the doctor passed over his ducats and the chief passed over the border along with his renegade band. They helped themselves to such supplies as suited their artless and unenlightened tastes. The doctor came back without a retinue and with a deal of experience that will never appear in a medical

One Consolation. The author of "From Tripoli to Tunis" tells an amusing story of a dispute between a diplomatist and a customs official at Tripoli. On the dock at Tripoli may be seen a curious col-lection of articles. They represent import and export taxes and are sold by the customs officials. The import tax is eight per cent. of the value and the export tax is one per cent. If anyone refuses to pay the tax the officials take possession of one-eighth of the merchandise. Some time ago a European foreign minister visited Tripoli in the service of his country. He had with him three hundred visiting cards. When a tax was demanded on these he was angry and refused to pay it. A high official of the government was summoned to settle the matter. He solemnly confiscated eight per cent. of the merchandise in question—twenty-four visiting cards. "Very well, keep them," cried the irate ambassador, "keep them. I resign myself. I shall not be obliged to pay you a visit of ceremony for twenty-four years."

THE AMERICAN FARMER, which is now entering upon its 75th year, is the pioneer farmer's paper in the country.

It is a large eight-page paper, and contains 56 columns of the choicest agricultural and literary matter, plentifully embellished with fine illustrations. It is and deals with farming and farmer's interests on broad, practical lines, at

EMPLOYS THE BEST WRITERS IN . THE COUNTRY, and everything that appears in its columns is of the highest character. Every department of the farmers business is discussed in an earnest, practical way, looking to the greatest profit and benefit to the farmer and his family. It appears on the 1st and 1bth of each month, and is furnished at the low price of 50 CENTS A YEAR in advance. This makes it the cheapest agricultural paper in the country.

FARMER LEGISLATION.

During the coming year there will be an immense number of matters of the mest vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmers be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should all, therefore, take The AMERICAN FARMER, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other papers for getting this information, and devotes itself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper. During the coming year there will be an im-tense number of matters of the most vital in-
