LIONEL STAAGE.

The Telegram's sensation of yesterday is a three column account of a break in the good record of Lionel Staage.

Lionel Staage is the assumed name of one A. L. Waterhouse, who in 1889, was convicted of paying a board bill with a check upon a Chicago bank in which he had no funds.

The Telegram rolls the sensation as a sweet morsel in its mouth and paints the young man in the colors of the blackest villain, making nothing out of his subsequent honorable career, allowing nothing for his youth, nothing for an estimable wife, nothing for the circumstances prior to the act, and nothing for his determination, as shown by his practice, to live down the one smirch in his record by an upright life.

Lionel Staage came out of the Salem jail determined to make a name for himself at the scene of his degradation. It was not criminal to change his name, but necessary to secure employment, which he did within a week under the name of Lionel Staage.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required.

THE CHRONICLE regrets that this skeleton in the closet in the life of Lionel Staage has been resurrected and flaunted by the Telegram for the mere sake of sensation. It will place him again at the foot of the ladder, without doing society compensatory good.

VIGOR OF MEN. Easily, Quickly, Permanently Restored. WEAKNESS, NERVOUSNESS, DEBILITY, and all the train of evils

The Oregonian talks wisely about having but one asylum in the state. There is scarcely a state in the union that does not have from two to a half dozen in different parts of its territory.

President M. E. Ingalls, of the Big Four Railroad Company, is one of the most prominent democrats in Cincinnati; but when he was asked lately when he anticipated the revival of business, he answered: "When these foolish democrats throw the tariff bills under the table, or modify them to such an extent that our industries can safely resume operations. This is no season of the year to meddle with tariffs."

The Portland Telegram is the hyena of Oregon newspaperdom. If there is another paper in the state who will try to force Lionel Staage to the depths of the bottomless pit, we are greatly mistaken. Mr. Staage, or whatever is his name, can secure millions of dollars in bonds. A graceful thing for the government to do is to accept the resignation of Mr. Lionel Staage and immediately reappoint him under his rightful name.

STRANGE LAW OF BUDDHISM.

Sick Lascars from India Prefer Death to Food Prepared by Christians.

The British ship Lanark arrived in port recently, says the Philadelphia Press. The physician from the British consulate went aboard to examine the crew. Three-fourths were Lascars, shipped in Bombay. The doctor found six suffering from heart affection and two from other diseases. The last two were in a serious condition. The doctor, through an interpreter, told one he must be removed to a hospital. The crew gathered around the physician and uttered the most furious protests. The sick man said he would rather die than leave the ship and his countrymen.

A Lascar eats nothing but food prepared by a countryman; a Christian touching it would cause contamination, and anyone partaking of it after this defilement loses caste. This was why the sick man preferred death to leaving the vessel. He consented to go only after the doctor had solemnly promised that he should have food prepared by one of the crew, and be permitted to leave, whether sick or well, when his ship cleared this port. Then he and the other sick man, who is an Egyptian, were taken to the Medic-Chirurgical hospital.

Not another Lascar could be induced to leave the ship. They have their own cook, who mixes the food on a square stone, mashes and boils it. Rice, tea, curries and water form the main part of their diet. Under an agreement between the Indian Steamship association and the British government better care is taken of the Indian than of English sailors. The Lascars ship under special and separate articles, which provide the kind of food they are to have, permit to worship as they please, and stipulate warmer clothing and plenty of it in cold climates. Little meat is eaten, for only those of a certain caste are allowed to indulge. The Lascars on the Banark are Buddhists and Muslims.

THE GREAT BARRIER REEF.

One of the Marine Wonders of the Australian Coast.

One of the wonders of the world is the great barrier reef of Australia. This stupendous rampart of coral, stretching in an almost unbroken line for twelve hundred and fifty miles along the northeastern coast of Australia, presents features of interest which are not to be equaled in any other quarter of the globe.

Nowhere is the action of the little marine insect which builds up with untiring industry those mighty monuments with which the tropical seas are studded more impressive; nowhere are the wonderful constructive forces of nature more apparent. By a simple process of accretion there has been reared in the course of countless centuries an adamant wall, against which the gigantic billows of the Pacific, sweeping along in an unintermitted course of several thousand miles, dash themselves in ineffectual fury.

Inclosed within the range of its protecting arms is a calm inland sea, eighty thousand square miles in extent, dotted with a multitude of coral islets and presenting at every turn objects of interest alike to the unlearned traveler and the man of science. Here may be witnessed at one hundred different points the singular process by which the wavy gelatinous living mass hardens into stone, then serves as a collecting ground for the flossam and jetsam of the ocean, and ultimately develops an island covered with a luxurious mass of tropical growth.

Here again, may be seen in the serene depths of placid pools extraordinary forms of marine life, aglow with the most brilliant colors and producing in their infinite variety a bewildering sense of the vastness of the life of the ocean.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.
