A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

A Dwelling House Wrecked by a Landslide.

SIX PEOPLE BURIED IN THE RUIN

$40,000,000 of Bonds to Be Issued—

Amendment to the Wilson Tariff

Bill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Six persons had a most miraculous escape from instant death this morning about 6 o'clock.

About 500 tons of rock, which had been loosened by the rain of yesterday, came down from Telegraph hill with a rush on a two-story house occupied by Peter Brown, his wife and three children and a Greek named C. Fassulus. As soon as the timbers began to crash, all made a break for one room, as a mass of rock fell on the roof the latter formed an arch over the occupants of the house, all of whom were rescued uninjured excepting one of Brown's daughters, 12 years of age, whose legs were cut and torn.

William Cooper, a fireman, took the little girl out of the ruins, and on returning for the others fell through one of the timbers and broke his right leg.

Bonds to Be Issued.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—It is reported on fairly good authority that Carlisle intends to issue February 1st enough bonds to restore the gold reserve. It is said he will issue 5 per cent bonds, as they are shorter term than the 4s or 4½s. The issue probably will be about $40,000,000.

Fifteen separate offers aggregating $40,- 000,000, to take the bonds should the secretary issue them, have been received at the treasury department. One offer to take a block of $25,000,000 was received from a New York firm this morning.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The president's message and correspondence on the Hawaiian matter was laid before the senate.

Hoar gave notice that after the routine business was completed he would address the senate on the subject.

Manderson presented a petition against the passage of the Wilson tariff bill, and stated a majority of the signers were democrats and populists.

An amendment to the sundry civil bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to the geological survey for a careful examination of the gold-bearing sands of the rivers of California, Washington and Oregon was presented by Mitchell; referred to committee on appropriations.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The house resumed consideration of the tariff bill.

Wilson immediately began offering committee amendments. The first was to reduce the duty on furs for hatters' use from 20 to 10 per cent.

The next amendment was to place on the free list, in addition to books printed

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Mr. Cleveland Anxious to Clear Himself—The Coming Tariff Debate.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12, 1894.

Mr. Cleveland's anxiety to prove to congress that he has not been guilty of double dealing in relation to Hawaii is the first creditable feeling he has shown in the whole business, but whether he has experienced a change of heart or is afraid of being impeached is more than your correspondent undertakes to say, although the known circumstances favor the latter. His anxiety to let the country know that congress is a coordinate branch of the government comes late and probably would not yet have come except for his desire to escape some of the responsibility for his miserable failure as a setter up of disreputable fallen dynasties. Congress is not deceived; it takes his acts for just what they are worth, and if there is one drop of American blood spilled he will be held to a strict accountability.

It is a physical impossibility for one-teenth of the members of the house who would like to speak on the tariff to do so in the short time allowed for general debate. It is expected that the most exciting time will be under the five-minute rule, when the bill will be open to amendments. There is little probability, however, that any of the proposed democratic amendments will be adopted, as the republicans are still determined not to help democratic members to make themselves solid in their districts at the expense of the rest of the country.

The members of the republican national committee in attendance at the meeting of the executive committee held here yesterday, are all enthusiastic over the outlook for the party and unanimous in the belief that the country is anxious to return the republican party to power, and that it will make a beginning by electing a republican house next November. In the language of Tom Johnson, the Ohio democratic free trader, in a speech made in the house this week,

"What would be the result of an election held tomorrow? The November elections have told us, we would be beaten out of sight." Mr. Johnson for once was right.

Consistency is a "jewel that is always conspicuously absent from the democratic make-up. While Representative Black of Illinois was charging on the floor of the house that the vivid picture of the suffering of the wage earners of the country which Representative Burrows of Michigan had drawn in his able and convincing speech against the Cleveland tariff bill was an exaggeration of the industrial situation

Secretary Carlisle was making an ap-
